These prize dogs cost their owner $100.

The game will be called at 9 a.m. and the home team will be composed of the following players: J. M. Robinson, A. R. Mitchell, R. Collett, W. Fidkin, R. Wheeler, S. Potts, A. Brown, W. A. Cardwell, G. Hazeldine, T. Oakey, H. McEwan, P. Booth, M. S. Morris.

MANY gentlemen in this city have recently secured some fine specimens of blooded dogs and the canine fanciers should have an opportunity to exhibit their pets at the Deseret fair. A bench show would be a feature that would attract all the dog fanciers of the inter-mountain country. The bench show at the tri-state fair at Toledo was more extensively advertised abroad than any other feature and the popularity of the New York bench shows, shows that the dog is not without his friends.

ANY one interested in the sick benefit, funeral aid and death beneficiary associations of the United States can help make the statistics of their organizations for the forthcoming census more complete and disseminate the knowledge of the good work they are doing by sending the names of such societies as they may know of, and the addresses of their principal officers, to Mr. Charles A. Jenney, special agent of the eleventh census, 38 William street, New York city.

COMPLAINTS about the way the sprinkling of the city is attended to in the outer districts are pouring into THE HERALD office thick and fast. Residents on Sixth South say the cars go up one side of the street and down the other, leaving a great gap of dust between twice as large as the sprinkled space; on Fifth East, between Sixth and Ninth South, the complaint comes that the carts visited them once a week ago and that they were out that way again on Tuesday, but only sprinkled on one side of the road. A gentleman who has paid his sprinkling tax without getting any benefit from it, says he went to the city hall to protest but said none of the officials would heed him, saying it was a matter the mayor alone could attend to. Mayor Parsons, will you attend to it.

THE J. B. McKean post will turn out and do honor to Memorial day. There will also be in line the Sons of Veterans, the Uniform Rank of Odd Fellows, the Woman's Relief Corps, and probably the Denhalter Rifles. They will leave the G. A. R. hall at 9 a.m. and proceed to Fort Douglas, there to be met by Colonel Blunt and troops. From the fort they will proceed to the military cemetery, at which place will be held the usual ceremonies and a salvo by the battery. Returning to the fort, appropriate music will be furnished by the Sixth Infantry band. The oration will be delivered by Colonel Robertson, of the Utah commission. A quartette, under the leadership of F. M. Bishop, will render appropriate selections, and Post Chaplain C. L. Libby will offer the prayer. They then proceed to Mount Olivet, where the dedication of the Maxwell monument will take place.

A PLASTER OF PARIS PLANT.

Letter from President Lett to the Real Estate Exchange—Salt Lake to Have a Write-up in the New York World.

Secretary Gillespie is receiving a heavy mail in response to the advertisements running in the eastern papers.

One of these came from a capitalist who is anxious to secure gypsum property for the manufacture of a line of plaster of paris that is extensively used in the new plaster for buildings. If the gypsum land can be had at reasonable figures, the party promises to invest $15,000 capital and give employment to from twenty-five to forty hands.

A more important inquiry comes from an eastern syndicate that is establishing crystal ice plants throughout the country. Having read the article which appeared in THE HERALD about the scarcity and high price of ice in this market, they were induced to write Mr. Gillespie for the full particulars of the situation. The crystal, or artificial ice is made of condensed steam, giving a product that is chemically pure, which can be manufactured at a cost little less than the price of cutting and storing natural ice. The same parties also propose to start in connection with their ice plant a cream and cheese factory, and to make ice cream, ices and all the other products of cream and ice. In connection with the above they desire to operate a cold storage house. The combination is certainly a good one, and would find Salt Lake one of the best places in the country for such an enterprise.

Stranger at the Exchange.

Some of our enterprising real estate men were noticed yesterday on the streets with a Mr. Moose, wending their way towards the real estate exchange. The gentlemen were very demonstrative in their anxiety to instil in Mr. Moose the prospects of large returns on investments made within the next few days. The judgment and ability of the gentlemen having charge of the stranger is believed to have been sufficient to induce him to do the handsome thing for Salt Lake. Great credit is due to the three real estate men referred to. When opposite one of the prominent saloons on Second South Mr. Moose made a bee line for refreshments, but one of the three, known for his high moral standing in the community, protested, and Mr. Moose was steered direct to the real estate exchange rooms. Mr. Moose will be present on call to-day at 11:30 and will be glad to meet all the real estate fraternity and no doubt make known some of his wants.

Letter from President Lett.

DENVER, May 26, 1890.

Gentlemen of the Salt Lake Real Estate Exchange:

I have been doing much talking here for our Salt Lake city. The health of my daughter has precluded me doing what I hope to do before my return.

There is but one opinion in regard to Salt Lake's possibilities, yet almost invariably when I talk folks will say: "How about Ogden?" I think we should have a special telegram every few days with something about Salt Lake; mentioning new hotels, progress of street car lines, city hall, court house; everything that transpires. As it is, we scarcely see the name of Salt Lake. Speak of the lake excursions. You cannot be at a loss to mention something.

We have a more lively exchange than Denver, though they are trying to add to their interest.

Wishing the exchange great success, as well as every individual member, and hoping to be with you soon, I am a believer in Zion. Yours, H. C. LETT.

Real Estate Call Board.

George A. Mears offered 23½x165 feet on South Temple street, between West Temple and First West street, at $542.50 per foot.

A. R. Derge supplied the only want.

Silver Meeting To-Night.

The silver meeting under the auspices of the chamber of commerce will meet at the federal court room to-night, when the friends of home production are expected to show their colors. As the pending legislation on the silver question will have a great bearing on the prosperity of this territory, it is sincerely hoped that the business men will not fail to attend.

Utah State Bank's Big Buy.

Among the transfers of to-day appears the purchase of 135x165 feet, lot 1, block 75, plat A; by the State Bank of Utah from the Salt Lake gas company, the consideration being $40,000.

Are the Laundries to Combine?

Burt Burgert, the man who effected a combine of five of the leading laundries of Toledo, O., is in the city and may try his hand at a like scheme in this city. By the consolidation forty-five hands do the work that on the independent plan required eighty-three. The exact figures are as follows: Toledo steam employed 25, the Pearl 23, the Buckeye 16, the Palace 11 and the Enterprise 8—in all 83. The number of hands now required to do the same work is forty-five.

Real Estate Notes.

The silver meeting at the federal court on Monday night should not be forgotten.

The building known as Morgan's college, east of THE HERALD, is being torn down to make room for a modern business structure.

Some enterprising men propose to meet a "long felt want" by opening a beer garden here and have invested $5,000 in fitting up the grounds north of Grant Bros.' stables. They expect to open to-morrow.

Mr. Bacon, representing the New York World, yesterday received a $300 check from members of the real estate exchange for a column write-up. He leaves to-day for Colorado Springs, and will return to the city in August. Mr. Bacon made more friends than money and they will anxiously await his return.

The Salt Lake Stock exchange will be opened on Wednesday next with a grand banquet. Already the stock of a large number of mining and other corporations has been listed, and the success of the exchange seems assured. Its inauguration will give a new impetus to mining in this section and will aid greatly in the development of the mining industry.

The Salt Lake Lithographic and Publishing company, the first of its kind ever known in Salt Lake, announces in to-day's HERALD that it is ready for business. As it numbers among its stockholders many of the bankers and several business men of the town, it starts out with an assured patronage. It employs ten or twelve men, three of whom are artists, and the presses are at work in the Jennings building, where the Z. C. M. I. shoe factory was formerly located.

Dr. Hand charges you nothing for his services until after you are cured, and no cure no pay.

JUMBO FIRE WORKS.

The Finest Ever Witnessed in This or Any Other Country.

LANDSLIDE OF PYROTECHNICS.

The Fourth of July Committees Bent on Giving the Greatest Show Seen on Earth.

"A blaze of glory" is tame, feeble and ineffectual in describing the matchless splendor of the constellations of pyrotechnics that are to be let loose in this city on the Fourth of July. Several of the set pieces will be a carnival in themselves and contain enough powder to blow up a small-sized city, should it have the presumption to get in their path across the heavens.

The streets will be arched with rainbows of red light, while the mountain peaks will vomit forth great streams of volcanic fire.

This is not bombast, but a lame description of what will actually be seen in this city on Independence day.

At the meeting of the Fourth of July committee held at the chamber of commerce rooms Mr. Culmer, chairman of the committee on fireworks, reported that they had received numerous propositions from the leading dealers in Fourth of July festivities but that a proposition of one of the firms was so liberal—guaranteeing their display to excel any ever made in this country—that they accepted it. Mr. Culmer said that not long since he witnessed a display made by this firm at the Crystal Palace, London, and they assured him that the pieces they would supply for this city would be much finer, and as a whole, more effective than any ever given in Europe. There will be thirty-one set pieces, occupying two hours, a single piece covering 6,000 square feet. This firm is anxious to advertise itself in the west and to secure the prestige of the name of Salt Lake made a reduction of one-half on its regular prices, besides a large donation in money towards the general fund. The total cost will be between fifteen thousand and sixteen thousand dollars.

George Arbogast, chairman of the finance committee, reported that a larger fund than ever before would be raised and that they were meeting with most phenomenal success, having already raised $4,000, and that Mr. Kelsey assured him that he would raise $1,000 among the real estate men. "I never saw a better feeling, where the business men were ready and willing to subscribe so liberally. I do not doubt but that we will get all the money that we will need to meet the large expenses, and if the city council comes to our rescue, it will be one of the largest ever collected for a like occasion. I am satisfied, from the enthusiasm I have met, that the Fourth will be a glorious success. We are going to take in everybody and let no guilty man escape."

The Liberal drum corps said they were to go to Ogden for the entire week, but were ready to modify that and return to Salt Lake on the Fourth, if the price was satisfactory.

Mr. Stanton reported that the leader of the Gatlin band wanted $120 for twenty pieces. He said he thought it was an imposition for them to go to Ogden when they were wanted at home.

It was moved and carried that Major Stanton call on the bands to infuse them with patriotism and local pride.

Messrs. Burton, Burgess and Stephens to get up a car of state carrying children representing the different states, singing national airs and highly developed Goddess of Liberty.

Mr. Sleater, of the trades unions, said there appeared to be a misunderstanding from the first. Over two weeks ago a committee of their number was appointed and awaited on the secretary of the chamber of commerce, and the first thing they saw the names of the Fourth of July committee and they were left out in the cold. The secretary treated them very cordially.

Mr. Sleater thought that the trades were anxious to make it a general demonstration, an ideal demonstration, but they were not treated as they should have been.

On the start they would have been anxious to act but this created considerable confusion. The trades unions at Ogden had invited them to join them on the Fourth and it might be they would accept.

Here President Simon said with much feeling that the committee through an oversight had failed to give them the representation that they deserved, but that it stood ready and invited them to name a man from the union for every committee, and if they thought that their interests were in Ogden and not in Salt Lake they had better go there. We all recognize the fact that the laboring men are the backbone and sinew of the community and are willing to give them all the representation they want.

After some more discussion Mr. Cowis said that he was sorry the thing occurred, as he did not believe there was any slight intended, but simply a misunderstanding.

The representatives of labor, after letting the chairman of commerce know that they were not running after recognition but simply desired such a representation as a body of 16,000 men were entitled to, left with assurances that they would do what they could to harmonize the unions and bring about a great trades parade and pageant.

H. C. Lett was appointed to fill a vacancy on the executive committee and Leonard Hardy was appointed on the programme and parade committee. A. Hanauer was added to the committee on music and H. G. Whitney made its temporary chairman, in the absence of Mr. Evans. Colonel Page was appointed grand marshal with power to select from.

Judge E. A. Smith asked what committee would be expected to extend invitations to organizations and individuals expecting to participate in the parade. It was decided that this be done by the committee on invitation.

On motion it was resolved that this committee be instructed to extend to all civic, military and kindred organizations and to business houses and business men whom it is desired to have participate in the parade a special and personal invitation to be represented in the parade and to take an active part in making the parade a success.

Among the trades who will participate in the parade, Mr. Culmer said, the galvenized iron works will prepare a very large float and that the Studebaker works and the Denhalter soda works would come to the front in great shape.

The committees adjourned to meet Tuesday night, June 3.

COAL! COAL!!

The best housekeeper knows that the cleanest and most economical fuel she can find in this market, is the genuine "Weber" coal. It does not make the amount of soot that other coals do, which is a great convenience, and saves to the clean housewife a wonderful lot of annoyance; it retains heat longer than any other semi-bituminous coal sold in Salt Lake. It is a home product, therefore, for these and many other reasons it should be used by all. The Home Coal company are the proprietors and operators of the mines at Coalville, and keep constantly on hand a supply in this city. Don't forget their new quarters, in the elegant building of the Utah Commercial and Savings bank, No. 22 East, First South street.

TRIED IT ON HIS SON.

I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm on my son, for rheumatism. He had been unable to work for over twelve months, and was unable to walk to school, until after I used the Pain Balm on him. He has since been walking one and a half miles and back, to school every day for about two months. M. D. Pusser, merchant, Gibraltar, Union county, N. C.
