

THE DUBOIS BOOM.

A Tribune Interview Appears in the Congressional Record. IN THE IDAHO LEGISLATURE. Business of Minor Importance only Transacted—The Position of the Various Senatorial Candidates Still Doubtful.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—The readers of that usually dull official reporter of debates, the Congressional Record, were very much astonished to find in this morning's issue the following spicy interview, attached to some remarks of Senator Paddock upon the Indian question, which was yesterday under discussion in the Senate:

"While the Tribune is taking no part in the interesting senatorial fight in Idaho, it is due to its many readers in that state that they should be informed of the sentiment prevailing in Congress in reference to the struggle. I have taken the trouble in the last few days to personally interview more than fifty Senators and Representatives here upon the subject. All without exception expressed surprise that any contest so far as Dubois was concerned was in progress."

"Speaker Reed says: 'Why, there cannot be any question about Dubois, can there? His remarkable personal influence and popularity made Idaho a state. I confess that he very strongly influenced me.' Senator Platt said: 'Why, of course, the state of Idaho will select Fred T. Dubois as its first Senator. He has earned it by the most earnest, faithful and intelligent of labor for his people. Western electors are not ungrateful. He is a clear cut, active, brainy man and no one doubts his election.' Senator Cullem—'Doubt about Fred T. Dubois' election. Nonsense! His people are not built that way. An able territorial Delegate has not sat in Congress in the last twenty years. I have known him since a boy and his record is a remarkable one. Mark my word, he will be the first Senator chosen.' Senator Paddock—'Whom will Idaho select? Why, Dubois, of course. If they don't I will most regret my vote for statehood. Idaho would have been a dismembered territory to-day if it had not been for Dubois.'"

That the readers of THE HERALD may fully enjoy the joke they must understand that the Washington correspondent of the Salt Lake Tribune is also Senator Paddock's private secretary who, while revising the Senator's speech for publication, got the matter mixed with his dispatch to the Tribune, published the latter in the Congressional Record as part of Senator Paddock's remarks and doubtless telegraphed the Senator's Indian speech to the Tribune. Speaker Reed and the Senator's interested were surprised to read in the Record opinions reluctantly drawn from the Report by the correspondent intended for publication in his paper, the Salt Lake Herald.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Dec. 9.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—The senate met this morning at 10 a. m. for the offering of the opening prayer. The report of the committee on organization was read and accepted. This report called for the election of the necessary officers of which the following is a list: Secretary, M. C. Athey, Shoshone county; assistant secretary, Robert Larimer, Idaho county; enrolling clerk, F. B. Sturges, Kootenai; assistant enrolling clerk, M. F. French, of Logan; enrolling clerk, Mark Leonard, Washington county; assistant enrolling clerk, Margaret Keeney, Bingham county. On the nomination of the candidates for this office there was a bolt from the state as prepared at the caucus last night, but the attempt was a failure and the above young lady was elected.

Sergeant-at-arms, G. W. H. Hunter, Logan; pages, Sidney Field, Alturas county; W. Garzer, Ada county; door-keeper, P. F. Callahan, Elmore county; janitor, James Larson, Elmore county; chaplain, Rev. L. W. Geowan, Ada county. This is the complete slate as nominated in the caucus last night, giving the north the proper representation as guaranteed in the party platform. The first three officers, the most important, are from the north and the balance from the south. This is a deliberate black eye to the Statesmen's idea of ignoring the north and sending two Senators, Shoup and Dubois, from the south. The house met this morning at 10 o'clock and after the usual opening exercises, proceeded to elect by acclamation, Rev. Mr. Barnhart, chaplain. All the attaches were called to the bar and administered the oath on a motion by Price, of Alturas, a committee on rules was appointed by the speaker. The members then drew for seats and the house adjourned until 2 p. m. At the afternoon session of both houses very little of importance was done. In the house a motion offering the courtesies of the floor to ex-members and newspapers was carried, and in both the house and senate committees were appointed to proceed to elect by ballot the members of the committee which he desired to submit.

The committee on rules in the senate made a partial report, recommending the appointment of numerous committees on the affairs and needs of the state. Both houses adjourned until 10 a. m. to-morrow, when the governor's message will be read. The entire action to-day of both houses points very strongly to the bursting of Dubois' bubble and the shelving of Freddy by his party. The action yesterday of the house in electing Hunter and breaking the state as prepared by his henchmen, showed their feelings, and the election to-day to the three principal offices of parties from the north was most convincing proof of the feeling among the members of not recognizing the north's claims in the Senate. New candidates are to come in and it will then be more difficult than heretofore to name the two fortunate men. But, taking everything into careful consideration, it is pretty safe to say that McConnell will and Dubois will not be elected. It is generally agreed that his arbitrary policy and the

THE BOY MURDERER.

Young Miller Tells How he Killed Fishbaugh and Emerson. HE DOES NOT FEEL REMORSE. The Salt Lake Public Building Bill—The Tooele City Postoffice Matter Settled—An Order Appointment.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 9.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—Full houses were in attendance all during the second day of the trial of Charles Miller, the boy killer of Ross Fishbaugh and Waldo Emerson, the dead men of the box car mystery. The defendant, a frail looking lad of fifteen, was heard to-day. He repeated his confession and told his entire life story as one would relate an ordinary happening. The first mention of the actual killing by him was when he said that at Sidney, Neb., he divided a lunch he earned by carrying some coal for a baker with two young, well-dressed tramps. "Who were those men?" inquired the attorney conducting the examination. "Why," said he with a falter, "the men I killed next day."

Miller offers no justification for the double murder beyond the statement that he was heartless over his impetuous crime. He says he thought of the crime but a moment before carrying his plan into effect. Emerson, who was instantly killed, slept soundly, but Fishbaugh dozed and survived the shot several hours. On viewing his victims, Miller said he felt bad but searched the bodies and found $300, a new revolver, and watch and a couple of knives. In Cheyenne he had a share and hair cut, at Grover, Colo., he bought a hat and gloves and marked them "Kansas Charlie," his stage name. A newspaper story of the crime in Cheyenne told the story to his brother. Miller has served a couple of years at this printing business.

THE LONDON TIMES ON THE GOLD SHIPMENTS. LONDON, Dec. 9.—The Times in its financial article says—Other million pounds in gold will soon be sent to New York. It reports that Paris, Berlin and in minor a degree, Amsterdam, ought to take their proper responsibility. It urges Berlin bankers to send gold to America and points out how such action is called for as much in the interests of German investors as to prevent the gold from going to New York becoming overwhelming.

FEDERATION OF LABOR. DETROIT, Dec. 9.—The Federation of Labor re-assembled this morning. It was announced that the National Association of Retail Clerks and Waiters and Bar-Tenders' union would be organized. The announcements were received with applause. Among the resolutions submitted was one that each member of a local, national or international union be assessed 10 cents per quarter for a strike fund, from which all men on strike are to have $3 per week. Referred to the committee on constitution. Among the resolutions offered was one to take the telegraphs out of the hands of the monopolists and place them in the hands of the government. This resolution was applauded and was adopted for a world's labor congress in Chicago in 1893. A resolution looking to opposition to police aggressions, especially the armed bands known as the Kansas City police, was greeted with applause. The federation was asked to endorse woman's suffrage.

A ROMANTIC ELOPEMENT. A Young Girl is Engaged to a Widower, But Runs Off With Her Best Fellow. [Special to THE HERALD—Examiner Dispatch.] GOSNEN, N. Y., Dec. 9.—There was a romantic elopement from the Hotel Hall station Tuesday night last. John Lord is well-to-do farmer there, having three children, two boys and a girl. The girl, Jennie Lord, is a bright, well educated and pretty blonde of nineteen years. For a year or so previous to her elopement she had two devoted suitors. One was Asa McElroy, a young widower of the neighborhood. The other was her cousin, Samuel Ewing. The girl's parents, the widower, and her suitors apparently acquiesced in their choice. The wedding day was set for last Tuesday, Monday afternoon the wedding was postponed home to the expectant bride. Miss Lord put on her bridal robes and showed herself to a number of ladies. In the evening the expectant bridegroom called upon her. She had retired to her room an hour before. Mrs. Lord went to her room to call her and found no one there. Jennie had fled hastily in her bridal garments, carrying the rest of her wedding trousseau with her. When she fled from the house young Ewing was in waiting near by with a fast team. The pair were driven rapidly to this place, where they were married and then boarded the fast Erie train westward bound. It is conjectured that they have gone to California where they have near relatives living.

General Harrison says, however, he is for Europe within a few weeks. Friends of Senator Spooner now think he will be made attorney-general."

PLUMB'S NATIONAL BANK BILL. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The bill introduced in the Senate to-day by Plumb relative to national bank deposits and silver coinage provides, in brief, as follows: That the compulsory requirement of deposits of United States bonds with the treasury by national banks be limited to $100,000 for each bank. This is to apply to deposits of bonds to secure public moneys. That United States mint certificates shall be issued equal in amount to the national bank notes and that the treasury be authorized to issue national bank notes in exchange for the same.

THE HOUSE. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Morrow, of California, presented the credentials of W. S. Thomas Gray, from the First congressional district of California, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of J. G. Haven. Grant took the oath of office. The committee on appropriations reported a bill making a deficiency appropriation for printing, binding, etc. The same committee reported a fortifications bill.

THE HOUSE resumed consideration of Plumb's resolution looking to the removal of the houses of Congress from the city of Arlington. After some discussion, the resolution was defeated, yeas 32, nays 133. The House then proceeded to the disposition of public buildings. A total of 28 bills, 23 of which passed were the Stockton, Cal., $75,000; Portland, Oreg., $400,000 and Kansas City, Mo., $1,200,000. The Republican members of the House held a short caucus after adjournment to-day to select a postmaster to succeed William A. Burleigh of Montana, secured 70 votes for his candidate, James W. Hathaway, of Montana, against 39 for the other candidates, Hosmer, of Massachusetts, and present assistant postmaster Charles C. Tamm, of Kansas. Minnesota, and Rolph, of Illinois. Hathaway is a native of Ohio. He entered the One Hundred and Fifteenth regiment of volunteers during the war at the battle of Perryville, Ky. He removed to Montana at the close of the war and has held several federal and county offices and at present is secretary of the Republican state committee.

DUNNELL'S REAPPOINTMENT BILL. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Dunnell, chairman of the House committee on the eleventh census, introduced in the House to-day a bill making a reappointment of Congressmen under the bill provides that after March 3 next the House shall consist of 356 members. The following states have increased representation as follows: Alabama, 1; Arkansas, 2; California, 1; Colorado, 1; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 2; Kansas, 1; Massachusetts, 1; Michigan, 1; Minnesota, 2; Missouri, 1; Nebraska, 3; New Jersey, 1; Oregon, 1; Pennsylvania, 2; Tennessee, 1; Texas, 3; Wisconsin, 1; Wyoming, 1. The other states are unchanged. The bill is very likely the one introduced by Frank of Missouri. The Dunnell bill is understood to have been agreed to by the Republican members of the census committee. Among those features similar to the Frank bill is a provision that members shall be elected by districts composed of contiguous territory and containing as nearly as practicable an equal number of inhabitants.

THE ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The House committee on military affairs has completed consideration of the army appropriation bill for the next fiscal year. It appropriates $24,042,020, being $33,558 more than the appropriation for the current year. The most important difference is the increase in the appropriation for army transportation of $200,000. Two bills imposing a tax on compound land were reported without recommendation by Senator Paddock from the committee on agriculture. One is the bill that passed the House last season, and the other the bill introduced by Senator Harrison in January by Dawes. Both provide for the imposition of a tax and the regulation of the manufacture of compound land. GHOST DANCES IN INDIAN TERRITORY. GUTHRIE, I. T., Dec. 9.—H. D. Never before during the recent craze has the aspect in the Indian territory looked so serious. Arrangements

THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

Annual Report on the Industrial Christian Home. SOME VERY PROFOUND REASONS Why the Women of Utah Don't Run Their Legs Off to Become Beneficiaries of This Benevolent Abode. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The annual report of the board of control of the Utah commission of registration and elections of the Industrial Christian Home association of Utah, says the fewness of inmates of the house is, in the opinion of the commission, due to the restraining influence of the Mormon church, and that female pride which interprets a position in the institution as an evidence of degraded pauperism. The commission is also of the opinion that if Congress would make an appropriation to enable them to purchase fixtures and appliances, such as sewing machines, etc., and employ competent teachers, that industrial departments could be opened in which girls could be taught self supporting vocations. The report recommends that some discretion be given to the commission in the matter of the admission of beneficiaries, and that they be permitted to pay their transportation expenses from different parts of the territory, and that the commission should secure a large number of inmates. Regarding the success of the undertaking, the report states that the completion of the house is so recent that the association has not yet had an opportunity to demonstrate its success.

Mrs. Morris did not go through the formality of getting a divorce. "The spirits have separated us," she said to-day, and through their chosen medium have told me my true husband is Frank King. I fully believe in spiritualism. It is the only religion that I have every day. King is the son of a middle-aged widow who poses as a medium between the dead and living. She lives in a small house alone on the most part of the year. Her husband died two years ago. Her money secured from the practice of the mystic art. Her patrons are generally women. Mrs. Morris is about twenty-five. She has been married two years. Her husband is industrious.

PROGRESS OF THE NIAGARA CANAL. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The annual report of the Maritime Canal company of Niagara, covering the year ended December 1, 1890, shows during that time work has been prosecuted with energy and great progress made. Final plans and detailed surveys have been completed and verified. Parts of the canal, including Deseronto, Saratoga and other navigable streams have been cleared of snags and other obstructions and several miles of the route of the canal have been excavated. Several thousand cubic yards of the canal are already excavated and several miles of the aqueduct to supply power and water to the canal have been completed. Very satisfactory progress has been made on the breakwater to protect the Atlantic harbor from shifting sands. During the past year the canal has been dredging plant at Panama and the greater part of it has been transferred to Greytown.

O'BRIEN-PARNELL CORRESPONDENCE. NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—In consequence of the publication of misleading versions of the cablegrams between Parnell and O'Brien on the subject of negotiations for a reunion of the Irish party, O'Brien makes the whole correspondence public. Under date of New York, December 7, O'Brien cables Parnell as follows: "I shrink with sorrow from taking sides against you in the struggle which opens such an appalling prospect of ruin and disgrace to our cause. Throughout this unhappy business I have abstained from one word personally offensive to you and have read with the deepest pain and disgust some of the personal attacks made on you. And now before I am irretrievably committed to a ruinous conflict, I appeal to you as the leader I have for ten years been proud to follow and as a friend for whom I still feel a affection, can you not see some way by which a safe-guarding your own reputation the country may be saved from the destruction which threatens it?"

PARNELL'S REPLY, December 8 as follows: "Had you wired prior to Saturday some suggestion from me might have succeeded. It is now too late for me to reserve the scalars from the false position. I shall, however, be very glad to see you and consult with you on your arrival in Europe." O'Brien replied to this to-day: "Our party has a total misunderstanding of my message, which was prompted by regard for your past services and a still existing personal affection, and with the knowledge that I have abstained from one word to you might, in consonance with the will of the majority of the party whose election of a chairman we have endorsed, find a way by which a safe-guarding your own reputation the country may be saved from the destruction which threatens it?"

GLADSTONE ON THE IRISH CRISIS. LONDON, Dec. 9.—Gladstone has written a letter regarding the crisis in the Irish party.
