Importance of Little Things of Dress

Shoes, Gloves, Neckwear, Parasols and Hats, All Have Their Parts to Play

Short Skirts Demand Smart Footwear

New York, July 1.—In the summer season, perhaps more than at any other time, it is the little things of dress which count in the wardrobe. The sheer lingerie frock gathers much of its charm from the bright girdle, the touch of color at the throat, the well fitting pump, or boot, dainty stockings and gloves and the wide brimmed, becoming hat which completes it. Without these finishing touches, the frock itself might fall short of expectations.

Summer Footwear

Although the high laced boot was chic and becoming with the short tailored skirt and is still a favorite in white canvas, buckskin, and the soft gray and tan leathers, the low shoe is much in demand. The old time Colonial pump with huge buckle and more or less exaggerated tongue according to personal fancy, is a general favorite. These are equally modish in the dull calf or bright patent leather. Another favorite in low shoes is the perfectly plain pump of calf or patent leather. This is made with a rather long vamp, and fits smoothly over the instep, being finished with a bow of leather, a small buckle or no ornament at all. There is variety in heels also; the medium high heel is generally favored for street wear, the French heel for evening, and there is a comfortable and good looking low heel for those who do not care for the higher one for street wear. Sport shoes are particularly charming, being low of heel, broad of toe, and most comfortable as well as chic. There are rubber soled and heeled canvas shoes high and low, for tennis, golf, and for similar sports; substantial looking shoes for walking, mountain climbing and the more strenuous of out of door purposes. These come in tan or in black and lend themselves to any appropriate out of door costume. For those who favor the flat heeled, broad toed shoe, there are a number of the modish low shoes, on the Oxford type which may be appropriately worn with the tailored suit or dress for street and business wear.

What's New in Neckwear

Neckwear is particularly interesting this summer. The various collars and jabots now modish offer limitless ways of changing or of brightening up a frock or blouse.

Perhaps the very newest idea in neckwear, is the shoulder cape of white, black, Java brown, or other favored shade of crepe Georgette, trimmed with bands of ermine, beaver, or moleskin. The short hair-furs are preferred for these capes. While these novelties are a bit absurd, still, they are effective and becoming, and afford quite a bit of warmth, worn in the evening over the sheer lingerie frock or the filmy dance dress.

The jabot frill of chiffon, net pieced edged Georgette, or organdy, is an effective accessory with the tailored suit; it is worn oftentimes with the coat and then again it is a part of the blouse. The jabot blouse is one of the popular models of the season.

There are attractive sets of Quaker collar and the various other models, with cuffs to match, in lawn, organdy, crepe, Georgette and net; many of them in the soft pastel tones so much favored this summer.

Satin Afternoon Dress

These are worn with frocks of dark linen or serge, and with the tailored suit. Now and then one sees a becoming high stock with sports blouse or street frock, but the open throat is the rule, although both high and low collars modish. In order to be smart a high collar must fit perfectly and be well adjusted.

Girdles and sashes are another means of introducing a bit of color contrast. These girdles and sashes are offered in great variety in the shops, and belts are once more coming into favor. With the trim tailored dress of serge or linen, the narrow, flat sash encircling the waist, crossing in back, and tying in front or at the side front, in a loose knot, is a great favorite. These sashes are usually made of the same material as the dress, or of satin. Ends are finished with a tassel or a bead design. For lingerie frocks and dance dresses the wide ribbon girdle or the silk or satin sash is modish. Dresden ribbons with the design worked out in metallic threads, are worn

PRESIDENT'S CALL FOR MILITIAMEN • SHOWS GOOD STATE OF NATIONAL GUARD

Photos by American Press Association.

President Wilson and Newton D. Baker, the secretary of war, are enthusiastic, not only over the hearty approval by the governors of the states of the order for the mobilization of troops to protect the country against possible Mexican aggression, but also on account of the efficiency and rapidity with which the work is going forward. According to telegraphic advices from the state capitals north, east, south and west, the order was communicated within a few hours of its being received to the regimental and company commanders and through them to the men. Further newspaper publication of the call to the colors brought a majority of the men to the armories eager to begin at once the preparations to move to mobilization points. Nearly all the regiments are short of war strength, but the war department is assured that there will be little difficulty in recruiting them up to their full quota within a few days. No. 1 in the pictures shows a national guard field artilleryman clearing one of the guns, while a comrade inspects his kit; No. 2, national guard infantryman going over his uniform; No. 3, the Twenty-second corps of engineers, New York national guard, on way through New York city to mobilization camp at Beekman, N. considerably with dance and evening dresses.

The strictly tailored suit is completed with a narrow leather belt or a stitched belt of the material.

Buttons and buckles must not be forgotten in the summer scheme, for they are becoming daily more and more important. The dark serge frock has a row of satin covered buttons, usually in a contrasting color, from collar to hem, or a row from the shoulder to wrist. It is predicted for fall that we will wear button boots again, and that not only will they have the single line of buttons at the closing, but a double row.

GAVE THE BABY REST

Children just cannot keep covered at night and that is one way they take cold. Foley's Honey and Tar is a reliable family cough medicine that contains no opiates or harmful ingredients. Mrs. William Leonard, Pottsville, Pa., writes: 'My baby had a very bad cough. The first dose gave her relief.' Sold everywhere.—Adv.

STEALS POLICEMAN'S CLOTHES

Cottage Grove, Ore., July 1.—To steal a policeman's clothes without a protest would seem strange, but that happened in the case of Marshal Sterling of Drain.

He was sleeping in a tent and was awakened in the night by some one prowling around his bed. He thought some of his friends were playing a joke on him and paid no attention to the intruder.

In the morning all of his clothes were missing, and he had to exercise his lungs considerably to arouse a neighbor, who supplied him with the necessary apparel to permit him to appear in public.

No trace of the thieves or practical jokers has been found.

THE BRITISH ARMY GROWS ITS OWN POTATOES

London, July 1.—The army has started to grow its own potatoes.

Instructions have been sent out to every command, indicating the lines which should be followed.

Military requirements are very big and little more than half the usual supplies of potatoes are coming into the markets, with the result that the war prices to the public are nearly doubled.

A number of men are being told off each day for digging and others are being asked to help in their spare time. It is understood that instructions will soon be issued for the growing of vegetables.

TAKING BIG CHANCES

It is a great risk to travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as this preparation cannot be obtained on the trains or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint are often sudden and very severe and everyone should go prepared for them. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

QUITS RUNAWAY BALLOON

London, June 28.—A young sub-lieutenant of French artillery, Maurice B—, is the hero of a remarkable exploit, performed during a recent storm the night of May 5 when several spherical French balloons broke from their moorings and drifted towards the German lines.

B— was in charge of one of the balloons and as he found himself nearing the enemy's lines he set to work to burn all the papers on board.

When he had done this he dropped from the derelict balloon by means of a parachute despite the fact that he was then at an altitude of nearly 4000 feet, and reached the ground safely, within easy reach of the French lines.

You Cannot Learn Poultry-Raising From a Book

There is only one right way to learn how to raise poultry, and make it pay from the start, and that is to learn from experts who have been through it all.

This is exactly the kind of instruction the International Correspondence Schools offer you. This is NOT a book scheme, but a home Course of practical lessons, representing the lifelong experience of the most successful poultry raisers in the world.

The Course includes everything pertaining to successful poultry raising: How to select most profitable breeds; feeding; marketing eggs and poultry for profit; natural and artificial brooding; natural and artificial incubation; laying hens; combination plant; poultry appliances; enemies of poultry; diseases of poultry; poultry houses and management; turkeys; water fowls; squabs; etc., etc.

What makes the Course particularly valuable is the fact that the I. C. S. is associated with the largest poultry farm in the world—the celebrated Rancoocas Farm, at Brown's Mills, In-the-Pines, N. J., famous for its fine Rancoocas Leghorns and DAY-OLD-CHIX, and where 30,000 eggs are marketed every week.

The I. C. S. has spent thousands of dollars in preparing this Course—the only one of its kind—a Course that you can master and apply in your own home, whether you live in the city, suburbs, or country, and that equips you to handle a few hens or manage a large poultry farm.

This Course will help you just as the many other I. C. S. Courses have helped thousands of men and women in other walks of life.

The attached coupon will bring you descriptive circular of this great Poultry-Raising Course. Fill it in and mail it today.
