

The past week has been almost a rush. Three large garden parties, a hop at the Fort, a large lake party and a number of smaller affairs have made it the gayest week of the summer.

Garden parties have been the feature of the past week's entertainment. Nothing more entrancing can be imagined than an evening spent at one of these affairs. Dancing out-of-doors on the well-waxed floor under myriads of Chinese lanterns, to the strains of evening music, is a perfect delight; not to mention a quiet flirtation in one of the cozy corners that a thoughtful hostess always provides.

Girls, have you forgotten that this is leap year, and that leap year will not come again very soon? These lawn parties are just the place. Nothing more bewitching can be imagined than to sit beneath the dancing leaves of the trees, with the moon just peeping through, or underneath the soft glow of the oriental lanterns, to say nothing of the charm of the sweetest little woman in the world in her daintiest gown. It would be a hard hearted bachelor, indeed, who could resist all this.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker, Jr., gave a garden party Monday night in honor of Miss Gibbs of California, which was a very pretty affair. The grounds were brilliantly lighted with numerous electric lights and bright colored Japanese lanterns, which were artistically arranged in groups high and low, giving a rarely picturesque appearance to the scene. A large dancing floor was laid at one side of the house, where a band was stationed playing sweet music to which the guests danced with accompaniment until a late hour.

Tuesday night a lawn fete was given for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange at the lovely suburban home of Mrs. Gilmer. A large number were in attendance and a delightful evening was spent.

Mrs. Ellsworth Daggett gave a most enjoyable luncheon Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Whitney and Mrs. Kenyon Kerr. The table around which the guests were seated was most elaborately decorated in pink and white. The guests were Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Kenneth Kerr, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Bidwell and Miss Whitney.

Mrs. Samuel C. Park and Miss Park entertained Friday afternoon in compliment to Miss Kiesel of Ogden. Each guest was given a slip of paper on which was the name of some well-known topical song which she was expected to draw an illustration of, after which the guests had an opportunity of guessing them, which afforded a great deal of amusement. The guests were Mrs. Kenneth C. Kerr, Mrs. James Jennings, Mrs. L. B. Jones, Mrs. J. N. Sharp, Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. Miss Hoge, Miss Alf, Miss Webber, Miss Georgea Webber, Miss Ethelwyn Webber, Miss Adelaide Nason, Miss Beattie, Miss Williams, Miss Glendinning, Miss Bacon, Mrs. Thom, Miss Maude Thom, Mrs. Bidwell, Miss Whitney, Mrs. Charles E. Caine, Mrs. Charles Post and Miss Sadler.

Miss Adelaide Nason took a party out to Gardfield to hear the "Mikado" Wednesday evening. Those invited were Mrs. Bancroft, Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Woodward, Miss Woodruff, Miss Kimball, Miss Mrs. Colton, Mr. Wicks, Mr. Henry McCormick and Mr. Harry Shearman.

There was a delightfully informal hop at the Fort Saturday evening. A number of our well-known society people were in attendance.

Mrs. Alma Katz entertained a few friends at luncheon Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Loman of Omaha and Miss Caldwell of Chicago.

Mrs. J. Harvey Griffin entertained the Bicycle club at supper Wednesday evening. The guests were Miss Webber, Miss Ethelwyn Webber, Miss Park, Miss Kiesel, Mr. Nye, Mr. Hampton, Mr. Scott and Mr. Will Ford.

Miss Eleanor Dooly entertained Thursday evening complimentary to Miss Caldwell of Oakland, Cal. It took the form of a dancing party on the lawn, and the soft light of innumerable Japanese lanterns and colored electric lights converted the spacious grounds into a perfect fairyland.

A large dancing floor was laid on the lawn and the devotees of the sport of motion moved to the sweet strains of music until the midnight hour. Refreshments were served in the large dining-room, after which the merry-makers took themselves to their several homes.

Mrs. Thomas J. Webber entertained forty of the younger members of society at Salt Lake last evening in honor of Mr. Shirley Webber. The party went out in a special car at 5 o'clock and spent the next few hours most enjoyably.

Miss Woodward and Miss Whitney expect to leave Tuesday for an Alaskan trip. They will be gone a month.

Mrs. J. R. Walker has as her guest Miss Gibbs of California.

Miss Hoge leaves the latter part of the week for Brighton, where she will visit Mrs. Plummer during August.

Mrs. Alf and Miss Irma Alf left Friday for Brighton, where they have taken a cottage for the remainder of the summer. Miss Colton accompanied them.

Miss Kiesel leaves Thursday for her home in Ogden.

Miss Harkness and Miss Ora Harkness are expected home from the Fox ranch tomorrow.

Mr. Tom Davis and Mr. Joe Davis will return from the Fox ranch also.

Miss Alf has gone to Spafford's farm for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Russell left for Soda Springs Thursday.

Governor and Mrs. Heber M. Wells are in Soda Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Moyle and family have gone to Brighton.

A most delightful evening was spent by all.

Mr. Holmes, of the Knutsford, gave an informal hop Friday evening which was greatly enjoyed by the guests.

The Misses Preston entertained twenty-five ladies at a Kensington tea Monday afternoon, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. W. P. Lynn entertained the Alcott club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. F. J. Fabian entertained a few of the younger set at cards Friday evening in honor of Miss Janet Rogers and Miss Mildred Loman, of Omaha.

Mrs. Gilmer leaves this week for Dakota.

Mrs. William Jennings returned from Brighton yesterday morning.

Mr. Dick Sprague has just returned from a two week's hunting trip in Jackson's Hole.

Mrs. Benson and daughter Wendella will soon leave for Brighton, where they will spend a few weeks.

Mr. James Clarey, of Omaha, is in the city visiting Mr. Frank R. Stevens.

Mrs. Isaac Jennings and family left for Brighton this morning.

Colonel Clayton took a party of friends out to Gardfield to see the "Mikado" Tuesday evening in Mr. J. H. Young's private car.

Dr. E. A. Trippe and a number of friends are spending a few days fishing in East Canyon.

The Hampton cottage at Brighton, is occupied by the families of Mr. George T. Odell and Major Bird.

Mrs. M. J. Gray has gone to Hobbie Creek for a week.

Mrs. Leonard, who has been visiting Judge and Mrs. McDowell, leaves for her home in Pueblo tomorrow.

Mrs. S. J. Kenyon left last Wednesday for her camp in Brighton.

Mrs. John Groesbeck and Mrs. Margaret Clawson have gone to Soda Springs.

Miss Kate Parsons has returned from St. Louis.

Mr. Spencer Clawson and Professor George Marshall are occupying the Kariok cottage at Brighton.

Mrs. W. J. Browning and son are at Farmington.

Mrs. McVivker left for Wasatch Friday.

Mrs. William Lee left for her home in Chicago Wednesday after having spent a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lewis.

Miss Marie Jenkins, daughter of the president of Denver extended, and Miss Jessie Davis, are spending the summer in Salt Lake.

The family of Assistant Postmaster McBride are camping at Brighton.

The ladies who have charge of the Free Kindergarten will give an excursion to Gardfield on August 4. A very attractive programme is promised.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Swenson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Schank, Mr. Delbert Parratt and Mr. Louis Schank are spending two weeks in the mountains near the head waters of the Provo river.

Mrs. J. Tilton Donnellan, Mrs. Gill S. Peyton, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. W. J. Browning, Mrs. Farnsworth, Mrs. Archer, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. John Milner and Miss Sayers.

Mrs. John Reed entertained in her most delightful manner a few friends at tea Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. J. W. Hayward left for Cincinnati on Thursday last to visit her father-in-law, Professor J. C. Hayward.

Judge Houghton Stevenson and wife of St. Louis, relatives of Hon. and Mrs. J. R. Letcher, were visitors in the city last week. Mrs. Stevenson is president of the Missouri State Musical association and participated in the recent national music teachers' convention at Denver, while the judge, when at home, presides over the North St. Louis district court.

Pioneer day is always remembered at Brighton, and this year the famous resort outdid itself to fittingly commemorate the first Pioneer day under statehood. It was at Brighton that the people of Salt Lake were assembled on July 24, 1847, when the news was conveyed to President Brigham Young that Johnson's army was on its way to Utah. The tall pine tree from the top of which the stars and stripes floated on that day has been re-erected on the knolls of many winters and now lies prostrate on the land of Mr. James H. Moyle, whose new cottage stands close by. Large as the great trunk of the tree is, Mr. Moyle expects that it will not last long, the decay and the curiosity of memento seekers combining to diminish it very rapidly.

At least two hundred people are located in Brighton, some at the commodious and well-kept hotel, but the most being occupants of the numerous cottages and tents that dot all the beautiful hillsides around. Most of the two hundred assembled at the hotel at nightfall Friday, where the proceedings were opened with a salute of forty-nine giant Chinese bombs under the auspices of Janus P. Wells, with Hon. Spencer Clawson acting as chief cannoner. An extra bomb was sent off in honor of the thirty-ninth anniversary of July 24, 1847. There was then a flag raising on a pole in front of Mr. Wells' cottage, patriotic cheers meanwhile rending the air, led by Messrs. Wells and Clawson, and Mr. C. H. Allen, a New York gentleman, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wells. The event of the occasion was, of course, the annual grand ball in the dining-room of the hotel, where eight sets can dance with ease. The room had been beautifully decorated with mountain flowers by Miss Louise Odell, Miss Leatham, Miss Kenyon, Miss Bird, Miss Goddard and Miss Wright. The orchestra consisted of the only fish and famous "Hy" Gies, fished up from some mine in the neighborhood, whose violin has lost none of the magic of yore, but taken on a new tone. He was aided by "Bert" J. J., who scraped "second" on his father's lute with all the gusto in the world. Turns were taken at calling by a gentleman in a checked shirt and one supporter from a friend. The evening came and Judge Grant Smith. The festivities waxed fast and furious. There were no "Lorraine Gavottes," no "Wentworths," no "Three Kings," but other of the new-fangled notions; but the good old cotillions, waltzes and the Virginia reel succeeded each other with delicious frequency. No attempt was made by the Herald scribe to catch the charming costumes of the night; they baffled any attempt at description. A pleasant feature of the evening was a harmonica solo, of a wonderful character, rendered by a young gentleman from a sheep camp. The dancing lasted till past midnight and then broke up with many expressions of delight and thanks to the Brighton brothers, Dan and Tom, the hotel proprietors. These gentlemen, with the housekeeper, Miss Hendry, did all in their power to make the evening a most enjoyable one. The Misses Howat, who kept the ball rolling most merrily.

Moonlight parties at Lake Mary are the rage of the hour. Lake Mary, under the rays of a full moon, these nights, must be seen; it can't be described. George T. Odell, manager of the Co-op Wagon and Machine company, drove up with James Sells and W. J. Romney to spend the holiday. In returning to town Mr. Odell broke the record. He and Mr. Reeves left Brighton at 5:15 a. m. with a double team and returned in less than two hours. The canyon before 7, and landed at the Co-op Wagon and Machine company's office at just 11:30, thirty miles, eight of which is canyon road. In just three hours Mr. Reeves says Odell can give the U. P. flyer cards and spades.

Among the recent registrations at the hotel are Mrs. Marshall Cushing and family, Washington, D. C. and William Robinson, Park City, John Cason, Salt Lake; P. E. Stanley, Chicago; F. G. Jamney, Salt Lake; E. B. Colton, Salt Lake; A. B. Williams, Sappete; F. J. Godwin, Chicago; these present were Messames John D. Gill, Frederick Bickford, L. Lester Reynolds, George Marston, E. E. Stewart, A. W. Somerville, Isaac N. Price, W. R. Williams, D. Gidding, Misses Eva Kuhn, Minnie Kiesel, Josie Kimball, Nellie Moore of Omaha, Helen Maginnis of Kanawha, Ohio. Ices were served during the program. The prizes, a beautiful bonnet volume of George Elliott's "Romola," was won by Miss Moore of Omaha, who is the guest of Mrs. Frederick Bickford.

A merry picnic party went to the Springs Wednesday night. In the crowd were Messrs. and Mesdames John Herrick, Joe Ledwith, C. D. Revor, S. J. Stevens and W. H. West.

J. P. Bay and wife have returned to Laramie after a sojourn at the Utah hot springs.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Mason have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John A. Parker of Salt Lake.

The Misses Nellie and Kattie Fitzgerald were the guests of Mrs. Toombs of Bonneville last week.

Mrs. Bickford will entertain the Morning Card club next Wednesday.

Among those who went up to Observatory peak last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hamer, Angus T. Wright, B. H. Goddard, T. C. Morris and George Bent. On Saturday evening a party of six, including the ladies, walked to Mulan's from Ogden prizing how far these bits go towards trimming new hats.

Cotton lace, or a good quality of silk lace can easily be cleaned by washing in warm soapy water and rinsing in two or three clean waters. Dissolve a little gum arabic and add it to the last rinsing water to give the necessary stiffness. Squeeze the lace as dry as possible, and press flat upon a perfectly clean window pane. It will not need any ironing and will look fresh and new.

Silk and satin will retain their color if washed and rinsed in gasoline. When perfectly clean hang the goods on a line to dry, then cover with a damp cloth and iron. If the gasoline is set aside in a covered vessel a few hours, all the dirt will settle to the bottom, leaving it clean and ready for use again.

The New York belles have lately discovered a new remedy for sunburn. It is nothing more or less than veal cutlets shaved in very thin slices and laid very carefully over the face, being kept in place by passing narrow tape over them. They do not add to the beauty of the wearer but that is unimportant, as the victim always retires to a dark room for an hour, or until the face ceases to burn, when she bathes it gently in elder flower water, and does not again that day expose her face to the sun. This cure is said to be effectual.

Stains upon marble and grease spots upon carpets and other woollen may all be removed by the magical cleaning agent called Fuller's earth, to remove a grease spot, mix with boiling water a paste of magnesia and Fuller's earth, combined in equal parts, then apply this and let dry. When it is hard, brush the powder away and the grease will have disappeared. Fuller's earth and benzine will take stains from marble.

Sandwiches are once more in fashion. Though they no longer resemble the slices of bread with ham or beef between that we have all grown so tired of in the past, the sandwich of today is a very different affair. It is made of either of brown bread or white. The bread should be at least twelve hours old and close grained. Spread each slice lightly and evenly with butter or mayonnaise dressing as desired, before cutting from the loaf. Lay a slice on a flat surface and spread with the sandwich mixture; over this place another spread slice of bread and press them together with a broad bladed knife. The sandwich should be cut into desired or into squares large enough to roll.

To make chicken sandwiches chop the white meat of cold boiled chicken very fine and mix with hot enough slightly seasoned mayonnaise to make paste. Add to this a few chopped olives and spread between buttered slices of bread. An appetizing sandwich is made of lettuce leaves. Cut the bread very thin, spread thickly with mayonnaise dressing, and lay white crisp lettuce leaves on the dressing between the slices, pressing them firmly together. Watercress may be used the same way.

Black horse and ties with moderately pointed shoes and medium heel are correct with any summer costume, though tan hose and shoes are cooler and also very stylish with thin street and house gowns.

We hear more of petticoats this summer than we have heard for many years past. Both black and white moire petticoats in the girdle shape are much worn to keep the dress skirt parting, but they are too heavy for comfort. The moire peraline are far preferable. This is stiff enough to stand out well, and is light weight and has the rustic of silk.

Handkerchiefs are very dainty, but they are not as much in evidence as formerly. A well-dressed woman never wears a handkerchief thrust in her belt or the front of her dress. Sieves have grown much smaller.

The summer skirt is a very sweet and simple affair, reminding one of the capricious elegance of the sixteenth century in the coloring of the fabrics and the cloud-like etherealism of the effects.

Children's clothes show no marked changes. Grass linen is more popular than ever, and the child whose wardrobe complete has a number of little coats in reefer style. They are made of grass-linen, duck, figured cloth or silk, to suit the occasion for which they are intended.

The most popular material for bathing suits this summer is brilliantine. It is light and does not cling to the figure; it can also be shaken free of water in less time with less trouble than any other fabric similarly employed.

There is now stationed near the old signal service quarters a corps engaged in the work of the geodetic survey. They have with them all the instruments necessary for their work and will remain on the peak until August 1. Among their instruments is a telescope of great power by which they can read the signs over the pieces of business and see the people as they pass along the streets. They have also in daily operation a heliograph, by the use of which they are able to communicate with other stations at distant points. Visitors are cordially treated by them. On Pioneer day excursionists built a huge fire on the very top of the peak. It was a unique sight for hours and appeared to be a fire in mid-air. Visitors to the canyon, to the springs and lake are more numerous.

B. H. Fisher and wife are out for a camping trip of a month, and a jolly party is with them.

Miss Pearl Snyder visited in Salt Lake during last week.

Prof. and Mrs. Steward of Salt Lake spent most of the week in Ogden. Prof. Steward is engaged with the summer school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Berrett entertained a number of friends last week on the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of their wedding.

Miss Creighton is expected back soon from her sojourn in Denver.

J. M. Adams has returned to Ogden after completing the Ann Arbor law course. He spent some time visiting his old home in Missouri after the close of his college year. He has hosts of friends here who hope he may locate in Ogden.

Mrs. Wenner and a party of eight are encamped on Wenner Island.

O. A. Kennedy returned early in the week from the neighborhood of Brigham city, where he had been collecting specimens for Columbia college.

Wednesday forenoon the Morning Card club were the guests of Mrs. George H. Matson. Those present were Mesdames John D. Gill, Frederick Bickford, L. Lester Reynolds, George Marston, E. E. Stewart, A. W. Somerville, Isaac N. Price, W. R. Williams, D. Gidding, Misses Eva Kuhn, Minnie Kiesel, Josie Kimball, Nellie Moore of Omaha, Helen Maginnis of Kanawha, Ohio. Ices were served during the program. The prizes, a beautiful bonnet volume of George Elliott's "Romola," was won by Miss Moore of Omaha, who is the guest of Mrs. Frederick Bickford.

A merry picnic party went to the Springs Wednesday night. In the crowd were Messrs. and Mesdames John Herrick, Joe Ledwith, C. D. Revor, S. J. Stevens and W. H. West.

J. P. Bay and wife have returned to Laramie after a sojourn at the Utah hot springs.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Mason have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John A. Parker of Salt Lake.

The Misses Nellie and Kattie Fitzgerald were the guests of Mrs. Toombs of Bonneville last week.

Mrs. Bickford will entertain the Morning Card club next Wednesday.

Among those who went up to Observatory peak last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hamer, Angus T. Wright, B. H. Goddard, T. C. Morris and George Bent. On Saturday evening a party of six, including the ladies, walked to Mulan's from Ogden prizing how far these bits go towards trimming new hats.

Cotton lace, or a good quality of silk lace can easily be cleaned by washing in warm soapy water and rinsing in two or three clean waters. Dissolve a little gum arabic and add it to the last rinsing water to give the necessary stiffness. Squeeze the lace as dry as possible, and press flat upon a perfectly clean window pane. It will not need any ironing and will look fresh and new.

Silk and satin will retain their color if washed and rinsed in gasoline. When perfectly clean hang the goods on a line to dry, then cover with a damp cloth and iron. If the gasoline is set aside in a covered vessel a few hours, all the dirt will settle to the bottom, leaving it clean and ready for use again.

The New York belles have lately discovered a new remedy for sunburn. It is nothing more or less than veal cutlets shaved in very thin slices and laid very carefully over the face, being kept in place by passing narrow tape over them. They do not add to the beauty of the wearer but that is unimportant, as the victim always retires to a dark room for an hour, or until the face ceases to burn, when she bathes it gently in elder flower water, and does not again that day expose her face to the sun. This cure is said to be effectual.

Stains upon marble and grease spots upon carpets and other woollen may all be removed by the magical cleaning agent called Fuller's earth, to remove a grease spot, mix with boiling water a paste of magnesia and Fuller's earth, combined in equal parts, then apply this and let dry. When it is hard, brush the powder away and the grease will have disappeared. Fuller's earth and benzine will take stains from marble.

Sandwiches are once more in fashion. Though they no longer resemble the slices of bread with ham or beef between that we have all grown so tired of in the past, the sandwich of today is a very different affair. It is made of either of brown bread or white. The bread should be at least twelve hours old and close grained. Spread each slice lightly and evenly with butter or mayonnaise dressing as desired, before cutting from the loaf. Lay a slice on a flat surface and spread with the sandwich mixture; over this place another spread slice of bread and press them together with a broad bladed knife. The sandwich should be cut into desired or into squares large enough to roll.

To make chicken sandwiches chop the white meat of cold boiled chicken very fine and mix with hot enough slightly seasoned mayonnaise to make paste. Add to this a few chopped olives and spread between buttered slices of bread. An appetizing sandwich is made of lettuce leaves. Cut the bread very thin, spread thickly with mayonnaise dressing, and lay white crisp lettuce leaves on the dressing between the slices, pressing them firmly together. Watercress may be used the same way.

Black horse and ties with moderately pointed shoes and medium heel are correct with any summer costume, though tan hose and shoes are cooler and also very stylish with thin street and house gowns.

We hear more of petticoats this summer than we have heard for many years past. Both black and white moire petticoats in the girdle shape are much worn to keep the dress skirt parting, but they are too heavy for comfort. The moire peraline are far preferable. This is stiff enough to stand out well, and is light weight and has the rustic of silk.

Handkerchiefs are very dainty, but they are not as much in evidence as formerly. A well-dressed woman never wears a handkerchief thrust in her belt or the front of her dress. Sieves have grown much smaller.

There is now stationed near the old signal service quarters a corps engaged in the work of the geodetic survey. They have with them all the instruments necessary for their work and will remain on the peak until August 1. Among their instruments is a telescope of great power by which they can read the signs over the pieces of business and see the people as they pass along the streets. They have also in daily operation a heliograph, by the use of which they are able to communicate with other stations at distant points. Visitors are cordially treated by them. On Pioneer day excursionists built a huge fire on the very top of the peak. It was a unique sight for hours and appeared to be a fire in mid-air. Visitors to the canyon, to the springs and lake are more numerous.

B. H. Fisher and wife are out for a camping trip of a month, and a jolly party is with them.

Miss Pearl Snyder visited in Salt Lake during last week.

Prof. and Mrs. Steward of Salt Lake spent most of the week in Ogden. Prof. Steward is engaged with the summer school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Berrett entertained a number of friends last week on the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of their wedding.

Miss Creighton is expected back soon from her sojourn in Denver.

J. M. Adams has returned to Ogden after completing the Ann Arbor law course. He spent some time visiting his old home in Missouri after the close of his college year. He has hosts of friends here who hope he may locate in Ogden.

Mrs. Wenner and a party of eight are encamped on Wenner Island.

O. A. Kennedy returned early in the week from the neighborhood of Brigham city, where he had been collecting specimens for Columbia college.

Wednesday forenoon the Morning Card club were the guests of Mrs. George H. Matson. Those present were Mesdames John D. Gill, Frederick Bickford, L. Lester Reynolds, George Marston, E. E. Stewart, A. W. Somerville, Isaac N. Price, W. R. Williams, D. Gidding, Misses Eva Kuhn, Minnie Kiesel, Josie Kimball, Nellie Moore of Omaha, Helen Maginnis of Kanawha, Ohio. Ices were served during the program. The prizes, a beautiful bonnet volume of George Elliott's "Romola," was won by Miss Moore of Omaha, who is the guest of Mrs. Frederick Bickford.

A merry picnic party went to the Springs Wednesday night. In the crowd were Messrs. and Mesdames John Herrick, Joe Ledwith, C. D. Revor, S. J. Stevens and W. H. West.

J. P. Bay and wife have returned to Laramie after a sojourn at the Utah hot springs.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Mason have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John A. Parker of Salt Lake.

The Misses Nellie and Kattie Fitzgerald were the guests of Mrs. Toombs of Bonneville last week.

Mrs. Bickford will entertain the Morning Card club next Wednesday.

Among those who went up to Observatory peak last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hamer, Angus T. Wright, B. H. Goddard, T. C. Morris and George Bent. On Saturday evening a party of six, including the ladies, walked to Mulan's from Ogden prizing how far these bits go towards trimming new hats.

Cotton lace, or a good quality of silk lace can easily be cleaned by washing in warm soapy water and rinsing in two or three clean waters. Dissolve a little gum arabic and add it to the last rinsing water to give the necessary stiffness. Squeeze the lace as dry as possible, and press flat upon a perfectly clean window pane. It will not need any ironing and will look fresh and new.

Silk and satin will retain their color if washed and rinsed in gasoline. When perfectly clean hang the goods on a line to dry, then cover with a damp cloth and iron. If the gasoline is set aside in a covered vessel a few hours, all the dirt will settle to the bottom, leaving it clean and ready for use again.

The New York belles have lately discovered a new remedy for sunburn. It is nothing more or less than veal cutlets shaved in very thin slices and laid very carefully over the face, being kept in place by passing narrow tape over them. They do not add to the beauty of the wearer but that is unimportant, as the victim always retires to a dark room for an hour, or until the face ceases to burn, when she bathes it gently in elder flower water, and does not again that day expose her face to the sun. This cure is said to be effectual.

Stains upon marble and grease spots upon carpets and other woollen may all be removed by the magical cleaning agent called Fuller's earth, to remove a grease spot, mix with boiling water a paste of magnesia and Fuller's earth, combined in equal parts, then apply this and let dry. When it is hard, brush the powder away and the grease will have disappeared. Fuller's earth and benzine will take stains from marble.

Sandwiches are once more in fashion. Though they no longer resemble the slices of bread with ham or beef between that we have all grown so tired of in the past, the sandwich of today is a very different affair. It is made of either of brown bread or white. The bread should be at least twelve hours old and close grained. Spread each slice lightly and evenly with butter or mayonnaise dressing as desired, before cutting from the loaf. Lay a slice on a flat surface and spread with the sandwich mixture; over this place another spread slice of bread and press them together with a broad bladed knife. The sandwich should be cut into desired or into squares large enough to roll.

To make chicken sandwiches chop the white meat of cold boiled chicken very fine and mix with hot enough slightly seasoned mayonnaise to make paste. Add to this a few chopped olives and spread between buttered slices of bread. An appetizing sandwich is made of lettuce leaves. Cut the bread very thin, spread thickly with mayonnaise dressing, and lay white crisp lettuce leaves on the dressing between the slices, pressing them firmly together. Watercress may be used the same way.

Black horse and ties with moderately pointed shoes and medium heel are correct with any summer costume, though tan hose and shoes are cooler and also very stylish with thin street and house gowns.

We hear more of petticoats this summer than we have heard for many years past. Both black and white moire petticoats in the girdle shape are much worn to keep the dress skirt parting, but they are too heavy for comfort. The moire peraline are far preferable. This is stiff enough to stand out well, and is light weight and has the rustic of silk.

Handkerchiefs are very dainty, but they are not as much in evidence as formerly. A well-dressed woman never wears a handkerchief thrust in her belt or the front of her dress. Sieves have grown much smaller.

There is now stationed near the old signal service quarters a corps engaged in the work of the geodetic survey. They have with them all the instruments necessary for their work and will remain on the peak until August 1. Among their instruments is a telescope of great power by which they can read the signs over the pieces of business and see the people as they pass along the streets. They have also in daily operation a heliograph, by the use of which they are able to communicate with other stations at distant points. Visitors are cordially treated by them. On Pioneer day excursionists built a huge fire on the very top of the peak. It was a unique sight for hours and appeared to be a fire in mid-air. Visitors to the canyon, to the springs and lake are more numerous.

B. H. Fisher and wife are out for a camping trip of a month, and a jolly party is with them.

Miss Pearl Snyder visited in Salt Lake during last week.

Prof. and Mrs. Steward of Salt Lake spent most of the week in Ogden. Prof. Steward is engaged with the summer school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Berrett entertained a number of friends last week on the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of their wedding.

Miss Creighton is expected back soon from her sojourn in Denver.

J. M. Adams has returned to Ogden after completing the Ann Arbor law course. He spent some time visiting his old home in Missouri after the close of his college year. He has hosts of friends here who hope he may locate in Ogden.

Mrs. Wenner and a party of eight are encamped on Wenner Island.

O. A. Kennedy returned early in the week from the neighborhood of Brigham city, where he had been collecting specimens for Columbia college.

Wednesday forenoon the Morning Card club were the guests of Mrs. George H. Matson. Those present were Mesdames John D. Gill, Frederick Bickford, L. Lester Reynolds, George Marston, E. E. Stewart, A. W. Somerville, Isaac N. Price, W. R. Williams, D. Gidding, Misses Eva Kuhn, Minnie Kiesel, Josie Kimball, Nellie Moore of Omaha, Helen Maginnis of Kanawha, Ohio. Ices were served during the program. The prizes, a beautiful bonnet volume of George Elliott's "Romola," was won by Miss Moore of Omaha, who