

PRIZE WINNERS

AWARDS AT UTAH STATE FAIR OCT. 5-10, 1908.

The Utah State Fair for 1908 has passed into history as being by far the best in its history. It has established a new record both in attendance and in the quantity and quality of exhibits. The products of the field and garden as well as the exhibit of livestock in all departments surprised even the most optimistic by its strength and quality. The visitors were intelligent and appreciative and the whole affair was a fitting tribute to Utah's rank as the leading agricultural state of the inter-mountain country. Mr. D. M. Landreth told us that he had visited ten state fairs recently and the fair here last week excelled them all. Nothing is too good for the farmers of Utah and it is gratifying to note that to the skill and intelligence of these, the excellence of most of the exhibits was due. Some of our special contributors will take up the various departments in this and succeeding issues, but the Deseret Farmer wants to place itself on record as saying that the State Fair of 1908 was a source of pride and gratification to every lover of the state. Herewith is a partial list of the awards.
