THE FAIR.

The State Fair this year is really very fine, much superior to any former display. The dry farming exhibit is most wonderful. Wheat, corn, oats, sugar beets, Egyptian corn and many other rare products are material evidence of what is possible to bring out from the lands in Utah that cannot be irrigated. The Moapa exhibit of pomegranates and other fruits is superb. In fruit Salt Lake county seems to wear the blue ribbon. Some of it is perfect, especially the peaches and apples. The live stock display is vastly increased this year in size and many of the animals are individually worth the price of admission to see. The coach and draft horses seem to be in preponderance and some of them are beautiful monsters.

The shorthorn, Hereford and Jersey cattle are in evidence in vastly increased numbers and corresponding excellence. Utah is beginning to be in real evidence in fruit and domestic animals. The whole display is an honor to the state, and the arrangements are an honor to the management. It is an educational display—The Telegram.

STATE FAIR NOTES.

There were three judges at the fair who have a national reputation. Mr. A. J. Knollin who judged the sheep, Prof. C. F. Curtiss who judged the horses and Prof. Erf who scored the dairy cattle and dairy products. The work of these judges was, in the main, very satisfactory.

Prof. Curtiss who has been a judge at the International was heard to remark that he had seldom, if ever, stepped into a better ring of horse-flesh than that which he found here last week. Utah made a showing in horses of which any state might well be proud.

The Agricultural College and Experiment Station had a variety of displays, all of which were extremely interesting. The State press made very favorable comment on this exhibit.
