

SAUNTERINGS

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Country club, at which the officers for the ensuing season were elected and committees named, the personnel would indicate that this is to be one of the most successful seasons ever known at the club and that there is no danger of the new club absorbing the old during the coming summer. The grounds and clubhouse are large enough for all present needs and it is very doubtful if any change whatever will be made for at least another year. It is not at all positive that a change will occur even then, as a majority of those who belong to the old club are very well satisfied with the present quarters and prefer to belong to the old organization rather than take chances on the tentative proposition of the new.

The resignation of E. L. Carpenter was accepted and J. B. Thompson named in his stead. C. H. Doolittle was named president; G. H. Smith, vice-president; J. B. Thompson, secretary; J. E. Galigher, treasurer; J. C. McChrystal and A. D. Cleveland, directors. The committees named were as follows: Executive, C. H. Doolittle, chairman; J. E. Galigher, G. H. Smith; membership, J. C. McChrystal, chairman; A. D. Cleveland, J. B. Thompson; house, J. E. Galigher, chairman, E. B. Wicks, Mrs. Stanley C. Sears; greens, C. H. Doolittle, chairman; J. C. McChrystal, E. B. Wicks; entertainment, Mrs. R. J. Glendinning, chairman; Mrs. T. W. Boyer, Mrs. William Reid; tennis, A. D. Cleveland, chairman; L. D. Freed, T. W. Boyer.

Club and society circles were greatly shocked when the dispatches from Mexico brought the sad news of the murder of Charles A. Pringle near Chihuahua where he was a member of the ill-fated party massacred by the Mexican bandits. During his residence here there was no more popular young man in the community than Charlie Pringle and his untimely and horrible death is most depressing to his host of old friends.

He was best known in San Francisco where the Pringle family is an old and respected one and where his mother and brothers now reside. It is all very pitiable indeed, and that such splendid men should continue to be sacrificed on account of the policy of "watchful waiting," is an outrage, the responsibility for which will be made a mental note of by every real American.

A number of those in smart society are laughing at the efforts of an interloper to re-establish himself in their good graces and their remarks at the village dinner parties where they congregate are anything but complimentary to the gentleman who a year ago appointed himself the social arbiter of our beautiful city and with supreme nerve began to dictate who should be who.

He didn't have much of a ride before his fall, and beginning with the good old summer time he started to slide for second and has been sliding ever since. The most comical phase of his recent efforts was the placing of a number of names on a list of patrons of some affairs without asking permission, and the fact that they did not attend and that some of them were indignant regarding it, does not make the slightest difference to the would-be Ward McAllister who goes on his serene, mysterious way with an air of wiseness and self-satisfaction that would do credit to a tree full of owls.

With much expensive fodder, many thermos bottles, skates, toboggans, skis and snowshoes, a gay party left for Brighton yesterday for a forty-eight hour jaunt intending to return tomorrow after spending today in pursuit of what are referred to as winter sports. If the trip is a success to Utah's St. Moritz, others will follow the same example. The skating and sleighing and skiing are said to be the best in the country and the Balsam hotel offers a comfortable rendezvous after those who have worked all day to have a good time have finished.

The trip up the canyon is a little hazardous in spots, and can only be made in sleighs, but it provides a new sort of excitement and that was the incentive, for things have been extremely dull for a week.

Mrs. Joseph F. Nibley, Mrs. Harold Peery of Ogden and Miss Edith Dusenberry, Mrs. Nibley's sister, left on Thursday for Los Angeles and with

Mrs. Moreton Cheesman will remain at the southern beaches until April. Preceding their departure, Mrs. Fred Dern and Mrs. William Reid entertained at luncheons for Mrs. Nibley and Mr. and Mrs. Nibley gave a farewell dinner at their home Monday night.

The membership of the Salt Lake Kennel club is rapidly reaching a point where the success of the organization is assured and between now and the time set for the giving of the first dog show immediately following Easter, the officers hope that all of the ladies in the city interested in such matters will avail themselves of the opportunity to become associate members. A nominal fee, $2.50, half of the amount charged for the full membership for men, is all that is required with their application and so many of them are owners of fine dogs and high bred cats, that a ready response is anticipated. As soon as the club is thoroughly organized with the membership a little larger than at present, the Salt Lake organization will become a part of the American Kennel club whose shows are among the greatest social events of the year in the larger cities. It is up to every man and woman who loves a dog to join.

The real exodus to California will begin with the excursions scheduled for the latter part of the month. The months just preceding spring constitute the only disagreeable time in the year here and usually those who can get away after the holidays go south and return with the other birds when the buds again appear.

However, so many went to the California expositions late in the year that possibly the flight will not include so many as usual.

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Zumwalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Zumwalt of Tulare, California, and Lynn H. Tompson took place at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Tompson and Miss Norinne Tompson from here. The bride is a beautiful young woman of the brunette type and made many friends during her visit at the Tompson menage late in the summer. Mr. and
