

DAVID KEITH

It set him to looking after big things.

He came to Utah in 1883 and went to Park City, which camp was then becoming potential in the mining world.

Mr. Keith's first work there was as foreman on the Ontario and he soon advanced to the working superintendency of that wonderful mine.

John Judge was also working in the same mine. They soon became friends, both were studying the mine and its characteristics, and finally associating with Thomas Kearns and the late Al Emery, they secured a lease on some adjacent claims and began work upon them.

From them there finally emerged the great Silver King, which soon gained national and international fame and which has made all the projectors and their families very rich besides being a little providence to hundreds and thousands of poor men in giving them generous wages for almost a third of a century.

So soon as the Silver King was fully equipped and all paid for, the chief owners began to invest their incomes in Utah. From them and their work dates the beginning of the real forward march of Salt Lake. The first building done by Mr. Keith here was the erection of the Summit block and his palatial private home. Then came the organization and the launching of the Keith-O'Brien company's great mercantile establishment, and his work has been along like lines ever since.

No one knows how long is the roll of his charities, suffice to say his heart and hand are always open to every worthy cause, while his shoulder is always under some enterprise for the advancement of the city or state.

Mr. Keith was a member of the convention that framed the constitution of Utah, and he has been a benefactor to the state every day since.

and all his good works have been supplemented by his splendid wife.

To paraphrase a little: Age cannot wither, nor great fortune change David Keith's generous, rugged, stalwart self.

THE AMITY BALL

The benefit ball to be given February 23, at the Odeon hall, by the Amity club for the purpose of raising funds to aid the Jewish sufferers from the war in Europe promises, to be one of the biggest financial as well as social successes ever given in Salt Lake according to the committee which has the arrangements in charge.

The Jews are among the greatest sufferers in this great conflict and the Jews all over this country are raising money to send for their assistance. The funds collected here will be forwarded to the committee in the east. Salt Lakers have given splendid support to the cause and the committee has spared no pains to see that all who attend the ball will have a good time as well as the pleasure of knowing that they are assisting to relieve some of the suffering caused by the great conflict.

The resignation of Arthur M. Cooper as chief clerk at the Newhouse hotel, was noted by his friends with sincere regret. Mr. Cooper's plans will probably necessitate his leaving the state and those who have met him while here, socially, in a business way or both, while regretting his departure, are wishing him the greatest success in his new field. He is one of the most popular Greeters who ever came to the city and is well and favorably known locally and by the travelling public generally.

A new firm has been organized under the name of the Smoot-Bamberger-Bintz Company, Incorporated, insurance brokers at 508 and 509 Walker Bank building. The firm succeeds the Mountain States Insurance Agency, D. A. Homan is president and general manager and among those interested are W. H. Bintz, Jr., H. R. Smoot and Clarence G. Bamberger. From the personnel of the company, we are lead to believe that it will be one of the most successful organizations of the kind in the intermountain west.

There is no occasion for a genius to be so erratic that he lays himself liable to be misunderstood by his best friends. Elmer I. Goshen has a host of friends in this and other communities who admire him for what he is, but when he gets on the same platform with a cluster of agitators banded under the red banner of the "I" "W"on't "W"ork, and by all reports coincides with their ideas in referring to the supposedly downtrodden, he doesn't add to his prestige or popularity in the community and we wouldn't be surprised if he knows it himself.

Capital Is Power

"Whoever has a sixpence is sovereign over all men to the extent of that sixpence; commands cooks to feed him, philosophers to teach him, kings to guard over him—to the extent of that sixpence."—Carlyle.

A bank balance is stored-up power, strength, resource; it gives confidence, security, protection as nothing else does.

Power begins when Saving begins.
