isdiction in the matter, because neither he nor his wife reside there. On the contrary, he contends, that both he and his wife are residents of California. Miss Goodrich, however, testified that for the last six years she has been a resident of New York, and in this she was corroborated by her mother, who was also a witness. A number of depositions taken in St. Louis have also been read, and the other witness in the case is Budd Woodthorpe, one time manager for James J. Corbett, and later Goodwin's manager. He testified on the Goodrich side of the case.

M. K. Parsons has announced the engagement of his daughter, Elsie, to Walter R. Andrew, the son of W. B. Andrew of this city. The date of the wedding has not been set, but is thought that it will be among the events of the early spring. Miss Parsons is one of the most popular debutantes of the season and Mr. Andrew has a large number of friends in business and social circles.
