

HOURS ARE VALUABLE

IN THIS BUSY AGE, THIS IS ESPECIALLY TRUE IN TRAVELING.

SO—

In traveling east or west; north or south by rail, you plan to get to your destination in the shortest possible time; you want modern comfort, and you expect and require every possible measure of protection. Without these features, travel is a trial.

The Oregon Short Line Railroad

In connection with the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and O-W. R. & N. Lines, desires to serve you to all eastern points, to the Pacific Coast and locally.

$75,000,000 is being expended in double-tracking these lines west of the Missouri River; the block signal system for protection is being kept at the highest possible state of effectiveness; equipment and service are continually being improved and brought to the latest standards of quality and the routes are the shortest.

Special Low Round-Trip Fares to Omaha, Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis and principal Eastern Points, on sale August 1, 2, 10, 23 and 31, 1912. September 4 and 5, 1912.

NEW MEN FOR NEXT YEAR IN THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

A number of unusually well qualified instructors will begin work in the University next fall. Among these the one whose work will perhaps be watched with most interest is Professor W. A. Lewis, who comes from the Kirksville Normal school of Missouri in which he has been head of the department of agriculture, to take charge of the new department of industrial education in the Normal school.

Among the other men who will contribute distinctively to University life are Franklin O. Smith, Ph.D., Iowa university, author and lecturer in education of the University of Iowa, who comes to the University with the rank of assistant professor of education; Mr. Sidney F. Pattison, A. B., Williams College, A. M., Harvard University, instructor and assistant professor in English in Colorado College, and finally a professor of English in Acadia University, Wolfville, Nova Scotia, who comes to a position as instructor in English, in the University; Phil C. Bing, A. B. Miami University, graduate student in University of Chicago, and in Oxford University, England, formerly teacher in the high schools of Indianapolis, Indiana, and Hamilton, Ohio, and more recently a newspaper man, who also comes to an instructorship in English; Frank E. Holman, a graduate of the University and a Rhodes scholar of Oxford University, England, who becomes an instructor in the law department; Mrs. Thenta Chilcott Josl, also a graduate of the University, who comes to an instructorship in latin; Miss E. Marie Barnard, graduate of the Agricultural College of Iowa, with considerable experience as teacher in industrial subjects in high schools, who becomes instructor in sewing and dress-making; Frank H. Fowler, Ph.D., of Chicago, instructor in the classical languages at Lombard College, Galesburg, Illinois, who becomes instructor in Latin and Greek; Amy Brown Eaton, A.B., Brown University, A. M., University of Pennsylvania, and graduate student elsewhere in economics and sociology, who becomes instructor in economics and sociology; Walter A. Kerr, A. B., of the University of Utah, who after a year's study in Europe, becomes instructor in modern languages.

Dr. W. C. Ebaugh, who has been on a leave of absence for a year studying in Germany, returns to the department of chemistry; Professor Milton Bennion has a leave of absence and will study during the year in the University of Wisconsin, giving his attention chiefly to the social and industrial aspects of education; Miss Lottie Burch, assistant principal of the Normal School will also be on a leave of absence during the year and will study at her home university, the University of Nebraska; to take Miss Burch's place, Mrs. Lois Miller, critic teacher of the training school, has been promoted to the rank of assistant principal. A few appointments are yet to be made.
