The local baseball team's hoodoo did not put in an appearance last Sunday until it became necessary for Price and Mohrland to play off a tie in a seven-inning game. Then, however, the jinx showed up stronger than horse radish and the southern visitors walked away with a score of six to nine in their favor. ## QUARTERLY STAKE CONFERENCE

Well Attended at Scofield Last Saturday and Sunday.

The Carbon stake quarterly conference convened at Scofield, June 20th and 21st, commencing with a priesthood meeting Saturday evening, June 20th, at 7:30 o'clock.

There were in attendance President Arthur W. Hensley and John H. Pace of the stake presidency, Elder Anthony Ivins of the council of the twelve, Patriarch Hyrum G. Smith, members of the high council, bishops and counselors of several of the wards and other stake officers. Elder Hyrum G. Smith explained in his remarks that we should not seek office, but prepare ourselves for usefulness and magnify that which is required of us. When patriarchs were ordained they were not placed upon the shelf, but placed in another field of labor. He related the descent of the patriarchs down to this dispensation. In regard to Mormonism each one had to decide for him or herself. He also spoke of the dangers of members of the church marrying those not of their faith and exhorted all to pay their tithing, fast offerings, keep the word of wisdom and not follow the fashions of the world.

Elder Anthony W. Ivins in his remarks said how different it was with the Church of Christ and those of the world. The latter had spiritual advisers, but in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints nearly every male member held the priesthood and had a part in the government thereof and could take part in discussing things for its welfare. He spoke of the restoration of the priesthood and the organization of the Church of Christ in this dispensation and outlined how the sacrament was instituted by the Savior at the close of the Feast of the Passover. He also spoke of the fulfillment of the prophecy of the prophet who said, "The Lord's house should be established in the tops of the mountains and all nations should flow unto it."

Reports were given of the stake and wards. The relief society held its conference on Saturday at 10 o'clock and 2 o'clock. There was a splendid turnout at all the meetings.

Conference adjourned to meet at Price, September 13th and 14th.

CELEBRATING THE FOURTH.

One Hundred and Thirty-six Years Ago—and Now.

One of the men who signed the Declaration of Independence is said to have expressed the desire that he might rise from his grave a hundred years later to witness the manner in which posterity observed the Fourth of July. If his wish could have been gratified the venerable patriot would have found a decided change in the manner of the celebration, but none in the feeling which inspired it. Posterity, too, would undoubtedly have turned the tables on him, eagerly questioning him in turn as to the celebrations in his day, but even without his aid its questions can be answered.

Will coming years see greater celebrations and rejoicings? The methods of celebrating doubtless will be modified. Perhaps less ringing of bells and noise of cannon may attend it, but the enthusiasm of the people is still unshakable, and in whatever form it finds expression, so long as the Fourth of July is celebrated with unshaken zeal and our children are freed by it with the same patriotism which animated their fathers and their forefathers, our nation is safe. The boys who today burn powder in its honor will not be slow should need arise to burn powder in its defense.

THE WISDOM IN SAVING.

A man who saves a dollar is a benefactor; one who teaches another to save a dollar is a public benefactor and should be knighted by the state. A dollar put in the bank at compound interest takes root instantly, it is not parched or burned by droughts; not killed by frost or sleet. It cannot be injured by heat or by cold, by famine or pestilence, by fire or flood. It will not be lost through a hole in the pocket, nor borrowed by some posthumous friend or boon companion. It is beyond the reach of earthquake or lightning, accident, sneak thief, thug or murderer. It works for you by day and by night, Sundays, legal holidays and week days are all the same to it. It will not rust nor rot, nor be eaten by worms. It will sprout and mature a crop of interest for you every year throughout all eternity and then be as fresh and as ready to go on working for you and your descendants as the day it was first carried to the bank. It will be a slave that neither eats, drinks nor sleeps, nor dies, and needs no overseer.

The investment of money in a savings account at the bank at compound interest is the best investment, the most profitable business and the greatest and grandest speculation that I know anything about.

Small Boys Used "Squibs."
In the early days of the Fourth of July celebration the small boys had to content themselves with "squibs," or small balls of moistened powder, which fixed and gave out sparks in the darkness; with the rapid waning of brands, the sight of glowing bonfires and perhaps a limited participation in the "fun of fire"—namely, the tossing of fire balls made of tow saturated with tar or turpentine into the air, an amusement in which many men and boys frequently took part.

McKinley on the Fourth.
Let us always remember that, whatever differences about politics may have existed or still exist, we are all Americans before we are partisans and cherish the welfare of all the people above party or state.

God bless every undertaking which revives patriotism and rebukes the indifferent and lawless.—William McKinley, July 4, 1897.
