

Watches Are Not a Luxury

WATCHES are not a luxury. They are an actual necessity, especially nowadays when business competition is so brisk and every minute counts. Time is money. That we all know.

In laying in our stock of watches we were particular to examine the best products of the manufacturers who could be depended on to supply only first class articles. Consequently our watches go out into the world with a trustworthy reputation backing them.

Men's watches, women's watches, youths' and misses' watches, open or hunting case, all at reasonable prices.

—F. W. Watts and T. Payne of Standardville were down to the ball game at Price last Friday and were registered at the Tavern during their stay in the city.

—A. D. Hadley and Sam Glaser were among those from Sunnyvale in the city this week. The roads between Price and there are in fairly good shape.

—J. W. Drake left yesterday morning for Woodside with a load of his household effects. He will farm there this year.—Green River Dispatch, 16th.

—J. E. Pettit, state coal mine inspector, recently visited with Judge and Mrs. Frost at Helper. Judge Frost and Inspector Pettit are brothers-in-law.

—E. C. Lee was in from his Nine Mile possessions the first of the week.

getting acquainted with his family, as it were. Farmers out that way are well along with their spring work. From indications at this time there will be no scarcity of water for irrigation and for range stock this summer.

—Mrs. Arthur S. Horsley of Price, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Mosble of Scotland, recently visited E. A. Greenhaugh at Helper, a brother of Mrs. Horsley.

—W. S. Avery was down from Helper the first of the week. He stated while here that things are picking up considerably in a business way at the railroad town.

—June Bryner and Henry Bryner left this week for the reservation country to take up land. The latter, who has been employed at Hiawatha, left that place Tuesday.

—J. B. Robinson, general manager of the Wasatch Stores company, was here from Salt Lake City Tuesday and was registered at the Tavern, going and coming from Sunnyvale.

—Mrs. Lew McCarty and three children were arrivals Sunday night from Keeler, Cal., and will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neils Olson.—Green River Dispatch, 16th.

—George M. Miller of Huntington was a Monday visitor in Price. Business conditions in the Emery county town are good, says he, and farmers are going right at their spring work.

—A. L. McMullen of the Kay was a visitor at Castle Gate last Saturday evening, going up to attend the affairs of the local welfare association there. He reports a good time and a big crowd.

—Charles T. Kirk is down from Price doing some cement work at the electric light plant and will also raise the porch on the Woodruff residence and repair it some.—Green River Dispatch, 16th.

—C. H. Gibbs, geologist, A. C. Watts, civil engineer, and William Littlejohn, superintendent at Castle Gate, all with Utah Fuel company, were in Price on Tuesday last on company business.

—Mrs. Agnes Hill, Miss Kate McMillan, Miss Clara Curtiss and Tom McMillan were down from Hiawatha last Friday to attend the dance, returning the same evening. Frank Averill accompanied them and stayed in Hiawatha until the next day.

—Sam P. Snow, Jr., the Castle Gate druggist, was a Wednesday visitor in Price. Business conditions at the Emery county seat, says he, are good and getting better right along. The farmers of his section of the county are well along with their spring plowing.

—Frank Brewer, a prominent cattleman, and wife arrived here yesterday from their ranch north of Alton. They report that the loss of cattle there will average 25 per cent on account of the heavy storms this winter.—Grand Junction (Colo.) News, 17th.

—F. C. Christensen of Black Hawk was in Price last Saturday and renewed allegiance to The Sun, which he says, he cannot well get along without. He is a son of Charles Christensen, at one time in business at Price, and is a young man that is making good.

—E. J. and E. H. Powell with their families and J. L. Sams left via Price for Payette, Ida., Monday. E. J. Powell has a farm at that place which he expected to dispose of when coming here, but the sale failed to materialize and he decided to go back.—Myton Free Press, 16th.

—Mrs. J. F. Dorgan - J. Winter Quarters was registered at the Tavern Tuesday en route home from Salt Lake City. Many persons going to and from the upper coal camps, on account of poor train connections, now come to Price in preference to stopping off at Colton.

—J. E. Wallace, who is leasing the Cook ranch five miles above Myton, left Monday morning for Price to meet his son and family who are arriving from Kansas. Marty Wall went with Wallace to help bring in the household goods and other freight.—Myton Free Press, 16th.

—Mrs. Wallcott and children came down from Woodside Friday, as far as to be present at Royal Neighbor lodge and to take in the supper and good time that followed. She returned Sunday after visiting her sister-in-law and family. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bradley.—Green River Dispatch, 16th.

—W. J. Elwood, general superintendent of the mines at Kenilworth, motored down to Price from that camp last Sunday. The output there is normal, says he, with everything working almost full time. The railroad shortage has not hampered Kenilworth the past few months as it has some of the others.

—P. N. Cameron and E. H. Weber of Salt Lake City, who "just happened" to be at Panther Canyon last Friday, came down in the evening to Price to witness the poetic contest at a local theater. They returned to Panther Canyon morning. The mine there, under lease to Cameron, is getting out around a hundred tons of coal daily.

—Edward Newren, agent at Woodfield for the Union Pacific Coal company properties, was in attendance upon quarterly conference at Price last Saturday and Sunday. The speaker acknowledged a pleasant visit from the gentleman. There is no talk, whatever, says he, of the corporation he represents again working the Woodfield mines.

—T. A. Ketchum and J. L. Lohy were Price visitors Tuesday evening. The latter has recently come here from Kemmerer, Wyo., and will take the supervision of the Ketchum property in Castle Gate from which they are shipping a few cars of coal weekly. Mr. Ketchum was accompanied to Price by his son, George, who as a youth lived at Helper several years ago.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wade returned Tuesday evening from Salt Lake City. The former has been away from home since about the first of the year, during the greater portion of that time being on his back at the home of his daughter at Salt Lake City. Mrs. Arthur A. Sweet, a sufferer from rheumatism. His many friends in Carbon county and throughout Eastern Utah will be pleased to know that he is now much better and able to get around again.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gubler of Santa Clara in Washington county are here this week on a visit to their son, Paul, John D. Gubler, principal of the Carbon county high school. When the Gublers left their home the alfalfa was fully a foot high, and while the season around Price is well advanced, they notice a great difference in the two sections of the state. Indications all through Southern Utah are for abundant crops this year. Cattle, sheep and other stock went through the winter well where the Gublers come from.

—C. E. Green, the Grand Junction, Colo., mining man, was an arrival at the Midland Tuesday and with T. L. McCarty left for Glen on business connected with the manganese mines there. Green states that Grand Junctionites are heavily interested in manganese in this section of Utah and in a week or so they will be greatly well represented on the ground. Dr. Styles will be out inside of a week and W. C. Bechtel is coming within the next two or three weeks. Most of the locations are south of Thompsons.—Green River Dispatch, 16th.

—Harry Gessas, proprietor of the Kentucky Liqueur company, recently returned from San Francisco, where he was fortunate in buying three carloads of the choicest wines and liquors, including French, Scotch and Italian goods. These liquors were principally for Gessas' wholesale home at Price, but a considerable quantity of the stock will be brought to Tintic and added to the already large stock of the Kentucky Liqueur company. Certain classes of liquor are hard to get at present and Gessas considers himself fortunate in the purchases just made.—Kureka Reporter, 17th.

—W. M. Wolsey, deputy state engineer, is here repairing the state wagon bridge across the river. New flooring is being put in and the structure will be reinforced. Walter Smith of Meak is helping him. Wolsey is the man who made the discovery of some Cliff dwellers' mummies at the top of a high cliff just this side of Meak a few weeks ago. He is one of the few men who can read the hieroglyphics and he was guided to the ancient relics by those signs. He is a very interesting man to listen to and he can furnish much valuable information concerning the newly discovered relics.—Green River Dispatch, 16th.

WHERE YOU DO BETTER

CASTLE GATE WELFARE HAS SPLENDID PROGRAM

The "Standing Room Only" sign was hung out early last Saturday evening at Knights of Pythias Hall at Castle Gate, when the welfare association gave a grand concert and ball. The stage was tastefully decorated with flags and floral pieces and visitors from other towns—and there were many from Storr, Helper and Price—were pleasantly surprised at the completeness of the arrangements. The program, which is given below, featured the Castle Gate band and the proudest man in the camp that night was Director Glen D. Reese. He certainly deserves the highest degree of praise possible as he has taken what is a mediocre organization last summer and brought it to such a state of perfection that all the numbers were played with a precision and finish that would do credit to many bands of larger cities. In giving Director Reese his just proportion of praise one must not forget that he has surrounded himself with some very capable musicians, who, he acknowledges, have contributed largely to the band's proficiency. They made a splendid appearance in their maroon uniforms with black and white facings and that with the flags, flowers and the handsome gowns of the fair ladies who took part in the program gave the stage an exceedingly brilliant aspect.

- The Program Rendered.
- "March of the Marines," dedicated to John P. Reese and United States Marine Band. E. H. Brooks Band
  - Address of Welcome
  - William Littlejohn Selection: "Operatic Mingle, containing excerpts from 'Pact and Passion,' 'Orpheus,' 'Faust,' 'Bohemian Girl,' and 'Carmen.'"

  - Miss Edith Jones, Accompanist; G. D. Reese, Director; Edward Edwards, Chairman Program Committee, Program Committee—Theodore T. Reese, George Littlejohn, D. H. Evans, John Hamel and Robert Wileland.

Everyone is Made Welcome. The people and visitors were made welcome by Superintendent William Littlejohn in a short speech which showed plainly that he had the welfare of the workers under him at heart. He reviewed briefly the work that had been done by the welfare association and outlined their future policy, and when he closed he was heartily applauded. The assembly was also addressed by General Superintendent Thompson. He told of the origin of the association, giving full credit to J. C. Snow as having originated the idea. He read the bylaws and explained the organization's object and aim and before closing his remarks complimented Director Reese and complimented him generously on the proficiency shown by the band. Space will not permit separate descriptions of such number on the program, but

MAY GET THEIR PENSIONS. Advice from Washington, D. C., are to the effect that Senator Smart has obtained an amendment to the House Indian war pension bill under which Black Hawk war veterans who have proof of service of thirty days will be able to qualify for pensions. The House bill as it went to the Senate had been amended through the efforts of Congressman Howell under which these Veterans would receive pensions, but a ninety-day service proof was required.

Evans, first trombone; Wiley second trombone; LeGrandy third trombone; H. J. Watson, tuba; Theodore T. Reese, euphonium; E. C. Howard, euphonium; George C. John, euphonium; Alfred W. Lavitree, bass drum; P. W. D. drum major. Castle Gate band.

APPERSON BACK HOME. A. E. Apperson, general manager of the United States Fuel company returned to Utah last week from a three weeks' trip through East and South. Unprecedented activity throughout the section is reported by Apperson. He is money plentiful for all legitimate enterprises. On account of the business activities, Apperson says that he heard no talk of war or ill.

KEEP YOUR BOWELS REGULAR. As everyone knows, the bowels are the sewerage system of the body. It is of the greatest importance that they move once each day. If the bowels become constipated, the dose of Chamberlain's Tablets, after supper and they will relieve the disorder. Obtainable everywhere. Advt.
