PRICE AND NEARBY

Ben F. Moss, who went to Idaho recently after leaving Helper, is now in California, looking for a location. Mrs. Susan Beatrice Allen died at Clear Creek a few days ago of influenza. The remains were taken to Orangeville for burial.

George Kokinkas, one-time insurance man at Helper, was arrested at Salt Lake City for having liquor in his possession. He was released under bonds of a hundred and fifty dollars.

Night telegrams from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast may be sent for fifty cents after January 1, 1919, but meantime the regular rate of one dollar is in force, says Manager Smith of the Western Union.

County Superintendent Ryan visited the school in Nine Mile last week and reports on coming home that it is going well out that way. Harper school is the only one in the county not closed because of the influenza.

Utah candy-makers say the Christmas trade will be abundantly provided for because of the sugar restrictions being removed by the national food administration. Outside territory orders, however, will be harder to fill than those in this state.

David Monroe, 28 years of age and a former representative out of Ogden for the Becker Manufacturing Company, died at his home at Warren last Wednesday of influenza. He is survived by a widow and his father. He was well known throughout Eastern Utah.

Henry Thompson, Emery county's food administrator, received telegrams from the effect that the Huntington mine might resume operation after the enforced shutdown on account of infraction of rules of the food administration.

Officials of the American Railway Express company have joined with the council of defense in making an appeal that Christmas presents be started on their way by December 20th. It has been suggested that the final shipping date be December 10th. The importance of presenting and possible suspension at Christmas time will be strongly emphasized all over the country by a hundred and twenty-thousand express employees.

Between the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Thorne, passed away at Pleasantville last Monday night of influenza. The remains were taken to Provo, former home of the parents, and later to Pleasant Grove, where the funeral services were held Wednesday last.

While going about his work as a tipple foreman at Hiawatha last Saturday, James H. Monroe was electrocuted by coming in contact with an exposed wire. Deceased was about 38 years of age and leaves a wife and family. The remains were taken to Mt. Pleasant for burial.

J. Cameron Schultz has announced himself as a candidate for re-election as a school board member from the Hiawatha district. It is doubtful if he will have any opposition for the place. Bishop George H. H. would like also to succeed himself from the upper end of the county.

J. M. Miller was in Price from Cotton last Tuesday and while here bought two carloads of haled hay, paying $23.50 the ton for it. By the time it gets to Cotton it will retail for thirty dollars or better. This is the first time in many winters he has been caught short. Lately he has shipped hay in from Price to the tune for his own stock.

Postoffice officials call attention to the fact that Christmas packages to members of the expeditionary forces in France may also be accompanied with postal money orders, if the things their friends wish to send can not be put in the small boxes furnished by the Red Cross. The orders should be drawn on the United States army postal service.

When Ray Rimer I. Gosden had finished a tribute to Lt. Col. Ellis L. Wester, at the young man's grave in Mt. Olivet cemetery at Salt Lake City last Wednesday afternoon, soldiers from Fort Douglas fired a salute. Then the post bugler sounded "raps" and a score of boys in uniform silently marched away. Young Wester was a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wester and prior to his injuries saw service on the firing line near Reims in France.

Price's city council has decided to run the lighting and power plant on its own account and after the first of the year a new and reduced schedule to rates of electricity will go in. A gentleman from Kenilworth, Missouri, by name and a brother of J. H. Manson, has been employed as electrician. He is said to be a most competent man for the place.

Establishment of a standard next to be served by dining cars and railroad eatinghouses to officers and enlisted men of the United States army and marine corps is announced in a bulletin this week from Washington, D. C. The price of the military meal will be seventy-five cents. It is to be standardized under the direction of the United States railroad administration.

Food regulations will be enforced until local food offices have been closed by the United States food department, according to information issued Saturday last by Food Administrator Armstrong, who states that he will rigidly enforce the posting of a fair price list by all grocers in the state. Prices of all leading foods must be displayed in every grocery store.

John Phillip, who enlisted in Carbon county from Winter Quarters last June, is reported wounded and in a French hospital. He has a bullet in one of his arms, according to a letter received by his brother, Raymond Phillip, at the camp. The young man was at Camp Lewis, Wash., for several months before going to the western front.

Requests that Christmas buying be curtailed this year, made by the council of national defense, in agreement with representatives of leading industries and retail interests have been withdrawn. Christmas buying on the pre-war scale, Grovernor B. Clark, acting director of the council, says is "essential to the rapid establishment of normal after the war conditions."

Unconditional assignment of all the assets and other business affairs of the Guardian Casualty company last Friday was made to Rulon S. Wells, state insurance commissioner. Wells will hold the funds of the company to trust until all liabilities have been ascertained and then distribute the assets pro rata among creditors. The company a few months ago sold a considerable amount of stock in Carbon county coal camps, which is now next to worthless.

Four members of the county school board are to be elected next Wednesday, C. H. Marsson from the Price district being the only holdover. His term extends for two years yet, in District No. 1. Rofield, Winter Quarters and Clear Creek, a member is to be chosen for the long term of four years. Also in the Hiawatha and Helper districts, known as No. 3 and No. 2, respectively. Sunnyside District No. 2 elects for two years only. Dr. A. W. Dowd is a candidate for re-election.

Beginning last evening, November 28th, the festival of Chanukkah, or rededication, will be celebrated by members of Jewish homes everywhere. The festival commemorates the defeat by an army under the leadership of the Maccabean family of the madman, Antiochus, who nearly two thousand years ago attempted to spread the spurious "kultur" of Syria over Palestine in much the same manner that the Antiochus, who is now an exile in Holland, attempted to carry Prussian kultur into Belgium and France.

Committees in each county of Utah have been appointed by Gov. Simon Bamberger to take charge of the celebration of British Day, Saturday, December 21st, and Sunday, December 22nd, have been set aside for the observance and all Americans, in addition to Britons, are asked to observe the day. The personnel of the Carbon county committee is A. W. Horeby, chairman; A. Hallinger and C. H. Stevenson, Price; William Littlejohn, Castle Gate; T. J. Parmley, Winter Quarters; John Evans, Hiawatha; George A. Murphy, Kenilworth.

COMING AND GOING

Robert McKinn was transacting business at the state capital this week.

O. Stevenson, Jr., of Ogden, Utah was among the Tupper's numerous guests the present week.

Charles Leger is expected home from an Eastern training camp Sunday next. He has been with the engineers.

Mrs. J. L. Lloyd is back at Price after a short sojourn at Salt Lake City. The Lloyds have gone to home-keeping.

Mrs. G. A. Pisk, registering from California and the divorced wife of F. P. Pisk, has been at the Tavern in Price since Sunday last.

Mrs. H. H. Walters of Salt Lake City is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Smith, at Helper. The latter is reported quite ill.

Nick Bernardi came in Wednesday night from Fort Logan, Colo., where he has been stationed for some time in the service of Uncle Sam. He is feeling fine and likes army life.

Mrs. Don C. Leavitt of Nesten came to Price this week on her way to Hiawatha to visit relatives, but returned home without going into camp when she heard of the strict quarantine at that place.

John P. Smith of Wellington was up from that town Saturday last delivering a number of turkeys to buyers at Price. They brought forty cents a pound dressed. The gobler crop in that section this year was a large one.

H. M. Magraw, general superintendent of the United States Fuel company's four big properties, was in Price Tuesday last. There are but a few cases of influenza in this camp over south because of the rigid quarantine.

Robert Fowler, formerly with Utah Fuel company's forces, is soon to make his home at Fort Worth, Tex. Since leaving Utah a few years ago he has resided at Perth Amboy, N. J., where he has been a high up with a big smelting concern.

Thomas Haycock and G. O. Leckie, live stockmen from "Sanghatch," are registered at the Boney today after a week's trip out of here in the Green River country. They are buying both sheep and cattle where they find anything to suit them.

Joe Wadsworth, bill clerk for United States Fuel company at Hiawatha, got back to that camp last Sunday from Denver, Colo., where he was called a short time ago to the funeral of his father. The latter was about 75 years of age when he passed away.

Miss Zella Fassett, who has been teaching in the public schools of Monroe in Sevier county, came home a few days ago and will be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Fassett, until the passing of the influenza epidemic, which has closed the schools there as elsewhere.

Neil M. Madison went up to Bendigo by automobile last Saturday to see his brother, Anthon, who had been complaining lately after a light attack of influenza. However, the town is under quarantine and the authorities would not let him in. Word from there, is that the brother is in no danger.

E. A. Lauritzen came over from Clear Creek this week to visit a short time with relatives at Moorpark. He has been working in the timber and also in the mines at Clear Creek during the past summer. He says that there is about eight inches of snow over there—Mt. Pleasant Pyramid, 220.

J. Cameron Schultz and A. D. Maclean were down from Hiawatha last Saturday on important company business. Otherwise they would not have come out of camp while the influenza quarantine is on. The mines of the United States Fuel company, they say, are working about half time lately. Lack of a market is the reason given.

Dr. John H. Llewellyn of Garfield was in Price Monday last on his way home from Ferron, where he had been to attend the funeral of a sister, Mrs. Singleton. Dr. Llewellyn is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Frandsen of Price and before taking up medicine and surgery taught school at Price. He is prospering in his present location.

George P. White of Cleveland was in the city yesterday on his way home from the upper camps of the county, which he reports as working but two days a week. He had gone to Winter Quarters for employment for the winter, but could not afford to remain for the amount of work in sight. His death he says, have recently occurred at Clear Creek from influenza, but at Srofield and elsewhere it is sloping. He will keep posted on Carbon and Emery county affairs by reading The Sun.

Knob Patterson, district attorney, was in Price last Saturday between trains on local business. He told The Sun that two oil rigs have lately begun work in his part of the country—one in the town of Mead and the other in Salt Valley. The work is being done by Nat Levi. There is every indication of striking the surface fluid when the right depth is attained. He has lately undergone a severe attack of influenza, but was looking and feeling well on this trip to Price. He will be here again when district court meets next week.

Emery County—John K. Reid, chairman, Orangeville; W. T. Lamb, Cleveland; John Murning, Huntington; and Harry Evans, Castle Dale.

Mrs. Dora B. Lochrie, widely known pioneer, died at her home in Salt Lake City last Monday after a two year's illness with arthritis. She was the widow of Peter Lochrie, attorney, who died July 12, 1917, and was born in Liberty, O., November 15, 1847. She was married to Judge Lochrie at Champaign, Ill., in 1873 and in 1884 came to Utah, first residing at Frisco, where they made a large circle of friends. In 1889 Judge and Mrs. Lochrie removed to Salt Lake City, which had since been Mrs. Lochrie's home. Mrs. Lochrie was very widely

The Young Man's Motive Power

No matter how many obstacles Old Fate may throw into the road that leads you from school life through life's school, you will always find a well cared for bank account the motive power that laughs at barriers and lifts one from yesterday's dream, through today's endeavor to tomorrow's accomplishment.

This bank invites the accounts of young men. Being in close touch with conditions, its helpful council—cheerfully rendered—will become progressively valuable as their responsibilities increase. We pay 4 per cent on savings accounts, compounded semi-annually. A dollar starts an account.

Just because there is no further occasion to save daylight is no reason why it should be wasted. Things are seldom what they seem. You can't tell an apple's size by its wings. Ample clocks with scarf collars are very cheap if worn over straight dresses. That good printing. The Sun.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY Do not imagine that because other cough medicines failed to give you relief that it will be the same with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Bear in mind that from a small beginning this remedy has gained a world wide reputation and immense sale. A medicine must have exceptional merit to win esteem wherever it becomes known.—Adv't.

Losses by fire in the United States and Canada during October amounted to $75,412,398. This was largely contributed to by the loss of the shell-heating plant at Morgan, N. J., and the serious Minnesota forest fires which destroyed several towns. The figures for October this year compare with $20,264,459 charged against the same month last year, and $17,731,277 in October 1916. Three-quarters of a cup of raisins and a quarter of a cup of walnut meats put separately through the meat chopper, then mixed, salted, shaped into small flat cakes and wrapped in paraffin paper are concentrated nourishment for children or Brownies who take lunches.
