CITY IS TO FURNISH FREE VACCINATION TO ALL

The schools and business generally may be opened as soon as the people are vaccinated. The vaccine to be used is that furnished by the state board of health. Persons who desire to be vaccinated may call on one of the physicians at Price, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, next, December 7th, 8th and 9th. Dr. F. F. Fisk, Dr. C. A. Wherry and Dr. C. T. Rose have agreed to be in their offices on these dates from 1 to 2 o'clock of the afternoon. Two local school teachers will assist each of the doctors. There is no danger, but little pain and the best authorities agree there is value in vaccination. All are urged to visit the physicians as early as possible that the work may be finished and the schools and business again open as soon as possible.

PRICE CITY BOARD OF HEALTH.
Dated, Price, Utah, Dec. 4, 1918.

known to most of the business men of Price and had been a frequent visitor here since the establishment of the branch house of his firm locally.

Judge Christensen and Court Reporter Adler left yesterday morning for their homes in Shoshone county.

Is Henry Ford going to throw in a subscription to his new weekly with every five or a dollar with every new subscription?

Before sailing for Europe this week President Wilson took time to nominate Charlotte H. Nelson as post-mistress at Castle Gate.

G. A. Iverson, formerly of Price, was last Wednesday elected to the Zion bureau of education from the Fourth ward of that city.

David L. Jones of Castle Gate is named as among the slightly wounded in yesterday's casualty lists. He is a former Carbon high student.

After spending several weeks at Price and Green River lately, Miss Jennie Branch has returned to Salt Lake City to her former position with the New Grand Hotel. Her health is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gould are entertaining a new son at their home on North Ninth street. The young man arrived last Sunday and is of the regulation weight and iron power. Others concerned also doing nicely.

Mrs. Alice Whitmore is in charge of the Red Cross drive which begins locally for new members on the 15th of this month. In view of the quarantine regulations throughout Carbon county auxiliary chairmen and others will be instructed to work largely along their own lines.

Albert Pleimann died at a Price hospital last Monday evening after but a few hours illness from the influenza. He represented Vee's department, an Italian newspaper at San Francisco, Calif. He was taken ill at the Golden Rule Hotel. He was buried at Price by his countrymen.

Four new appointments were made last Monday on the Denver and Rio Grande to take effect immediately. The appointees are G. W. Bourne, trainmaster at Helper; J. W. Durkin, trainmaster at Thistle; R. E. Willis, trainmaster at Provo; and F. L. Hummel, assistant chief dispatcher at Salt Lake City.

Machinery for the Farmers Mill and Elevator company, due here in Price some thirty days ago, has up to date failed to arrive. Tractors sent out from the East and also from here have so far failed to locate it. It is believed now the car in which it was shipped, has been destroyed by wreck somewhere en route.

Mrs. C. W. Albion, formerly Miss Flora Lewis, died at Richfieldville last Saturday of the influenza, while on the way to join her husband. Those surviving are her husband and a baby son, Lewis; her mother, Mrs. A. M. Isaacs; a sister, Olive Isaacs; and two brothers, Horace and Harry Lewis. The body was taken to Salt Lake City for interment.

Paloma Mining company of which M. P. Braffet is president and general manager was caught in the Merchants bank failure at Salt Lake City with two thousand dollars on deposit in that institution. However, Braffet was more lucky personally, for the day before the bank closed he checked out a thousand dollars of his own account for use at Price.

In order to facilitate the handling and delivery of mail during the Christmas holidays, the routing of the post-office department that all packages bearing adhesive seals, other than lawful postage stamps, on the address side shall be suspended during the month of December. The public is advised, however, that holiday seals or stickers should not be placed on the address side.

Owing to the fact that a large number of packages destined to foreign ports recently have been received in a badly broken condition, the post-office department has issued a warning to the public to see to it that all articles intended to be mailed to any foreign country are securely packed. Articles not properly packed will not be accepted for mailing at any domestic postoffice.

Notification that George Elders, son of Mrs. C. W. Elders of Helper, has been missing from his regiment since September, 1918, has been sent his mother by the war department. The young man, 20 years old on enlistment, was in California when war was declared. He volunteered from that state and went to France as a member of a machine gun battalion from Camp Lewis, Wash. He was born at Pocatello, Ida, and received his education in the Midwest schools.

The state board of nurse examiners will hold its regular semi-annual examinations for trained and graduate nurses the first week in January. Applications must be on file with the secretary at Salt Lake City on or before December 15th. State registration of all graduate nurses is compulsory under the Utah law. Mention is made of this in order that outside nurses who aided during the influenza epidemic may have opportunity to register if they expect to remain in Utah.

Harold G. Nelson writes his parents at Price, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nelson, that he has been to Cook County Hospital at Chicago for about five weeks. He was one of twenty-five volunteers from Camp Kearney, Calif., to go overseas and was sent to the East to take automobile training

COMING AND GOING

—Mrs. R. H. Tilley of Salt Lake City spent Thanksgiving week with her son, R. H. Tilley.

—Judge Fordham Erickson came down Monday evening from Zion on business before district court here.

—Ira H. Browning was a guest of the Tavern last Saturday and Sunday, coming down from Zion on state road number.

—H. S. Lucas, attorney for Utah Fuel company, was in district court at Price with several legal matters this week.

—Mrs. J. W. Lemfournier has arrived at Long Beach, Calif., where she and Miss Stutz have taken apartments for the winter.

—E. A. Walton of Salt Lake City and C. A. Boyd of Ogden, attorneys for the Ketchikan Coal company, were here this week in district court. They were guests of the Tavern.

—William Littlejohn and G. W. Lindsay of Castle Gate were visitors in Price last Tuesday for a few hours each. The influenza quarantine is still rigidly enforced at that camp.

—Rev. Ralph C. Jones, pastor of the Methodist church at Price, is back home from Hama. He has been working there as a carpenter because of there being no services locally on account of the influenza.

—John Ells of Wattle was here last Monday from that camp, which he says has been working lately seven days a week. The influenza, however, has interfered considerably with the output. Cases there are on the decline.

—Rev. Mark M. Petrakis with his wife and four children left Wednesday evening last for Baxanath, Ga., where the former has been called to another church. He has been stationed at Price for the past thirty-two months. In going himself and family leave very many good friends at Price and elsewhere in Utah.

—Dr. C. A. Wherry is to leave Price during the next few days for a trip to California and Montana. He is figuring on another location in one or the other of those states, having several places in view. He has a good practice here, but simply is going to better himself. His family may in the meantime go to California to spend the winter.

—Mrs. G. Ailie Fisk left Price this week for Seattle, Wash., where she is to be with her mother for the winter. She stopped over here last week and this on her way there from Washington, D. C. Her son, Russell F. Fisk, is in France with a medical division of the American expeditionary forces. While in the city Mrs. Fisk was the guest of honor at several social affairs, among them a Thanksgiving dinner at the Matt Gilmore home and a dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Peterson of Chilton, Wis., are here this week on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ferguson of Price, parents of the latter. Since leaving here Peterson has been engaged in the iron stock business, buying and shipping, and says the world has treated him as well as could be expected. He is looking around the country for the firm he is interested with and it may be this market will be gone into for cattle and sheep to ship out. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will be here some time yet. Chilton, Wis., is the "old home town" of W. C. Brooker and A. G. Guthell.

at a factory, when thirteen of the twenty-five came down with the influenza. He is attached to the troop transport service train, and no doubt will yet be sent to France. The course of training at Chicago is for eight weeks.

—Mrs. Johanna L. Warner, wife of W. J. Warner and a former resident of Winter Quarters, died at Provo last Tuesday of a malignant growth in the throat. She was 22 years of age and went from Carbon county to Provo about seven years ago, where the family home has since been. She is survived by her husband, three sons and a daughter, W. J. Warner, Jr., and George Warner, two sons, reside at Provo, while the third, Roland, is in France. The daughter, Mrs. Dianche Marrison, resides at Salt Lake City.

To insure against loss of theft of liberty bonds, owners are being urged by the treasury to have their coupon bonds registered, although the procedure results in a great amount of work and expense for the government, now that the number of bond owners runs above thirty million. The registration can be arranged at most banks and is done without cost to the bond owner. The number of bonds lost, stolen or destroyed, the government will pay it at maturity just the same, and interest checks will be mailed to the bondowner twice each year without requiring him to go to the trouble of clipping coupons and presenting them at a bank.

Prof. Orson Ryan had a letter the first of the present week from Prof. Earl Thompson, superintendent of schools of Utah county, which gives a slight idea of the influenza conditions out that way. He says: "A. G. Goodrich, our clerk, also has had the influenza, while Mrs. Mary Barnott, a teacher, is improved, but not out of bed yet. I am the only one that

VISION

The person who sees in his savings account only so many dollars and so many cents, plus so much interest, lacks vision. The savings account, properly regarded, is a magic wand which will some day give life to the ambitious dreams which all of us have, and which are good for all of us to have.

Nothing pleases the officers of this bank more than those little heart to heart talks about those big things you have in mind. Dreams come true—you know.

We pay 4 per cent on savings accounts, compounded semi-annually. A dollar starts an account.

seems immense in this office. I am going out turning now. Most of the people are patriotic and won't help their own folk. So, it's up to us, and the teachers are responding loyally. We have taken it while out nursing, but the rest keep on."

In 1918 American manufacturers produced 29,470 tractors and in 1917 22,742. For the first six months of the present year the output increased to 28,543, making a total for the two and one-half years of 120,855. Of these tractors 27,815 were sold to American farmers in 1918, and fewer than two thousand to exporters. In 1917, 49,504 went to American farms and 11,684 to exporters. Of the 1918 half year's output, 15,610 went overseas.

The body of Milton Edwin Wright, the son of John and Cynthia Elsworth Wright, was laid to rest at Richfield a few days ago. The grave was dedicated by Elder H. H. Johnson, D. D. The cause of his death was pneumonia resulting from influenza. He died November 24th. His mother and several other members of the family are quite ill at this time. Father, mother, two brothers and five sisters survive.
