REDUCTION IN CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

Sanitary Inspector George Shorten's report for the month of August shows a decrease in the number of contagious diseases. The department is cheerful over that fact for the reason that children will be returning to school and the small number of afflictions will lessen the possibility of the spread of disease. The report states that there were six cases of whooping cough, four of typhoid fever, four of diphtheria, two of pneumonia, two of chickenpox, two of meningitis and two of tuberculosis. The total number of contagious diseases reported is 22 while last month the number was 34.

Twenty-three males and twelve females died during the month, an increase of four over the preceding month. The number of births is reported at 92, of which 54 are males and 38 females.

In the milk and dairy department, the report states that 17 samples of milk were examined and four dairies were inspected with the result that all were declared up to standard.

During the month, 217 inspections were made, 26 written notices were served, 36 nuisances were abated, six loads of garbage destroyed, 28 dogs killed, 11 horses were destroyed and two sheep and two hogs condemned.

SALVATION ARMY OFFERS THANKS

The Salvation Army has addressed the following letter to the people of Ogden:

"Dear Friends—We extend to you our heartfelt gratitude and appreciation for the favors and kindness you have ever shown to us. You have been very good and kind to us in many, many ways. And we realize and appreciate it far more than pen or words can tell. We are in a position to know that there are many a good Christian heart in this little city of ours today and if the last great call should come at this moment there are many in the city of Ogden who would meet with His approval.

"There may be a few who have an idea that the life of the Salvation Army soldier is one of ease. But, if you could come with us day after day, night after night, you would soon find out it is a hard and strenuous one. But we are happy in our belief that the little good we are trying to do, in our small, weak way, will meet with its reward.

"And now, dear friends, we want you to know and to feel that it is you doing the good, and to you we give the credit. And if you know as we do how many a poor burdened heart you have made happier by your kindness through us, we are sure you would feel happy and satisfied.

"Dear friends, you have been very kind to us in the past. You have trusted us and we still ask you to have faith in us. And to those who have wealth and are able to give, we ask you to do so freely and willingly, whenever you feel disposed. And to those who are unable to give, there is still much that you can do. Give us all your kindly thoughts, and speak words of kindness, wherever you may be. Kind words never die, but grow and spread outward and upward, making life better and brighter for us all. And now, dear friends, let us thank you once more. May your life be full of joy and blessings, the earnest heart's desire of every member of the Salvation Army.

(Signed)
"ADJ. PIERCE DOWELL,
"Salvation Army Industrial."

CARD OF THANKS.

We most sincerely thank the missionaries, co-laborers with our son, Leonal, and others who made most encouraging remarks in eulogizing the many noble characteristics in the life of our son. Especially those who were obliged to come so far from home.

Also to express our gratitude towards all who furnished the handsome floral designs and sweet strains of music, both of which were emblems of the kind disposition he possessed and appreciated to the extreme by the family, as flowers and music were two things Leonal most dearly loved.

Also to thank all who took part and helped console the family in their hours of bereavement.

NEGRO MUST GO BACK WITH SHERIFF

J. M. Peters, a deputy sheriff of Ogea county, Kan., arrived in Ogden this morning and left this afternoon, taking with him George Skaggs, the negro wanted in Lindon, Kan., for a statutory crime alleged to have been committed last December. The man can also be charged with wife desertion, according to Sheriff Peters, as he has a wife and two children living near the scene of his alleged offense.

Sheriff Peters stated that the delay in sending for Skaggs was caused by the fact that the sheriff of the county had been called away on business. Peters is an under-sheriff and it was necessary for him to await the return of his superior before coming to Ogden.

Peters said there is no question but that Skaggs is the man wanted, as he recognized him when seen in his cell.

When asked concerning the reports from Kansas that the crops are destroyed by the heat of the last few weeks, Sheriff Peters stated that the reports were exaggerated. He said that Ogea county is considered a favorable district and that even there not more than 10 bushels of corn will be the yield per acre. In many instances, he said, one bushel will be the limit. He declared, however, that the farmers will not lose so heavily in wheat as they say, he said, is about half destroyed.

The sheriff declared that the first mud had been seen in five months was in Ogden today.

HADLEY CLAIMS HE STRUCK IN SELF-DEFENSE

Joseph Hadley, charged with committing an assault with a deadly weapon on the person of Robert McFarland, was arraigned before Judge W. H. Reeder this morning. He asked for a limited time in which to decide upon a preliminary hearing. The bail was fixed in the sum of $500.

Before being told that the court had no right to hear his plea, Hadley stated that he would plead guilty, but had struck McFarland in self-defense.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to all those who aided us in the hour of our bereavement in the death of our son, Kenneth. Especially do we wish to thank the singers, speakers and those who gave floral offerings.

OGDEN VALLEY HAS GOOD CROPS

William Smith, the man who carries U. S. mail from Ogden to Huntsville, reports that the recent rains have not caused material damage to crops in Ogden valley. Some hay was on the ground when the storms came which was damaged to some extent, but most of the crop had been cut and stacked. The second cutting of alfalfa is on but most of the farmers are holding back until the weather settles.

"Crops are good in the valley," says Mr. Smith, "and there has been plenty of water. There is more now, however, than at any other time since the spring freshets. The ditches are all full and the river has raised about a foot in the last ten days.

"Potatoes are fine this year and the yield will be a little above the average."

OPENING OF THE SEPTEMBER COURT

Tomorrow Judge Howell will open the September term of the district court. The first case to be tried is that of the City of Ogden against Jane Doe Ross accused of selling liquor without a license. It is an appeal case from the municipal court.

There are seventeen cases set for hearing this month and it is expected that they will all be considered. The criminal calendar is short, there being only four cases on the docket, as follows:

City of Ogden vs. Jane Doe Ross, appeal, September 8.

State vs. August Both, assault with intent to kill, September 15.

City of Ogden vs. Peter Saltis, appeal, September 17.

State vs. Wong Sing Quon, felony, September 29.

The sheriff's office is busy summoning the jurors, it being necessary in some instances to go to the homes of the men to get service on them. In most cases, however, they are easily reached by registered letter or by telephone. The sheriff says that a good many of the men drawn for jury service read the Standard and they virtually accept service when they see their names in the paper. A complete list of jurymen for the September term has been published in this paper.

MIDLAND TRAIL CANNOT BE BUILT

Frank Roselle of the Straw-Sunston company and H. Lee Boyer of the Boyer Brothers company, both of Springville, are in the city today securing a carload of construction material from the Utah Construction company to be used on the interurban road which is now being built through Utah county.

Both companies are construction firms and have done much of the work in changing the roadbed of the Rio Grande, near Soldier Summit.

The gentlemen state that the construction work on the Soldier Summit division is nearing completion and that the attention of some of the sub-contractors is turning toward construction work on the Utah county electric road, the building of which is proceeding at this time northward from Provo, the county seat.

Speaking of the Midland trail, which crosses the Soldier Summit divide, Mr. Boyer stated to a Standard reporter this morning that the proposition really amused him and that he could see no legitimate reason for any one to even suggest that route for a transcontinental automobile highway.

"In the first place," he said, "the expense of building the road over that route from Grand Junction to Thistle, in Spanish Fork canyon, would be so great that the taxpayers could not meet it and, secondly, there is no well thinking person who would expend his individual money to make the road. In the country from Colton, which is near the summit, to Price and Grand Junction, ravines over which the road passes have been filled in with dirt, no culverts having been provided to carry the water under the roadway. Every freshet—and freshets are numerous in the spring of the year, and even at this time, washes away the entire roadbed. Machines approaching the washouts usually are on the brink of the cavern before it is observed and they go plunging into the gully."

Mr. Boyer lives on the line of the proposed Midland trail, but he thinks it is absurd to undertake to build the road.

JUDGE HOWELL IS TO SPEAK

There will be a Mutual Improvement association conjoint meeting on Sunday evening, September 7th, in the Lynne Ward meeting house, at which meeting Judge Howell will be the speaker of the evening.

There will be a solo by Robert Greenwell and a reading by Miss Kathryn Bassett.

SUSPEND SENTENCE ON AN AMERICAN

Seoul, Korea, Sept. 3.—Suspension of the sentence of 18 months penal servitude pronounced on August 11 on James Mason, American manager of the gold mines at Un-San, for manslaughter, was ordered today as a result of the prisoner's appeal.

At the trial Mr. Mason pleaded the "unwritten law" in defending himself against the charge of killing a Chinese mine employe who had committed a criminal assault on his twelve-year-old daughter.

The suspension of the sentence is regarded here as equivalent to an acquittal.

BOSTON'S SUBWAYS.

In 1894 the legislature passed an act that authorized the Boston Transit commission to build what we know as the Tremont-street subway. During the same year the legislature passed an act incorporating the Boston Elevated Railway company.

In 1897 almost simultaneously the lease and the subway both became operative. The subway was the first of the Rapid Transit lines to be built. It was the first underground railway for street cars in the United States. It also made the construction of an elevated railway feasible by supplying tracks on which the trams of the elevated company could be run through the central section of the city.

The next provision was the East Boston tunnel which we believe to be the first structure ever built under tide-water for street cars. Maverick Square is one and one-half miles from the old State house, yet before the tunnel was built it took thirty minutes to travel this mile and a half—now it takes five and one-half minutes. Further, the annoyance of changing to and from ferry-boats is eliminated. Approximately sixty cars an hour are now being operated in rush hours—M. C. Brush in the Aero.
