eral mixup, there will be no Olympic games in Berlin two years from now. But if it ends in a few months, said James E. Sullivan, American Olympic commissioner, today, there is no reason why the games could not be held.

GREAT SWIMMER JOINS L. A. CLUB

Los Angeles, Aug. 15.—The Los Angeles Athletic club will soon have a notable addition in Duke Kahanamoku of Honolulu, the world's greatest sprint swimmer.

George Freeth, the club swimming instructor, said today: "The Duke will be added to the squad before the meet of August 27, and with his aid I hope to build up a team that should take the lion's share of the honors at the international water carnival to be held in connection with the Panama-Pacific exposition of 1915 in San Francisco."

Nor is the hope of the noted coach unwarranted. Kahanamoku showed last month that he has no peer at 100 and 200 yards by defeating the Illinois Athletic club stars in world's record time and Freeth can rely for the longer distances on Ludy Langer, a youthful product of his own school. Langer is the boy who set a new world's mark of five minutes 22 1/2 seconds for 440 yards on July 3, and on the following day lowered the American half-mile figure to 11 minutes 46 2/5 seconds. In so doing he defeated Helmer and McGillivray, the American champions. Between these two wonderful swimmers should have little difficulty in winning every event from 100 yards to one mile.

ITALIAN ROWER TO JOIN PROFESSIONALS

London, Aug. 15.—Giuseppe Sinigaglia, the giant Italian, who ran away with the Diamond sculls in the Helley regatta this year, is about to become a professional. He does this because he seeks fresh fields to conquer and has proved himself far ahead of any amateur.

Those who say him on the Thames believe he will outdistance the best professional. He is six feet five inches tall, weighs in condition 203 pounds and is a natural oarsman. He is 23 years old.

THOUSANDS ARE STARTING HOME

Departure of 4,500 Americans From Liverpool Followed by Another 1,000 From Glasgow.

London, Aug. 15, 12:10 p. m.—The departure of 4,500 Americans from Liverpool today was followed by that of another thousand from Glasgow. The carrying capacity of the vessels sailing for trans-Atlantic ports during the next 25 days is estimated at 60,000, or three times the number of Americans in the British Isles. While the number on the continent of Europe is not known, it is believed not to exceed 300,000. A large number of these are returning by Dutch, Danish and Italian lines.

Many American tourists in London who had booked passage on small vessels or had taken steamer berths are offering to sell their tickets to the American citizens' committee as they prefer to make a later and more comfortable passage.

The members of the committee say they fail to see the necessity for the despatch of transports to take stranded Americans back to the United States in view of new sailings which have been announced.

The Granplan sails tomorrow, the Arcadian, the Andania and the Anconia August 18, the Olympic August 19 and the Adriatic August 20.

The British steamer Buffalo which left New York July 25 has arrived at Hull.

Few Americans indigent. Berlin, via Copenhagen and London, Aug. 15.—2:20 p. m.—The Americans in Berlin are not altogether indigent although about 100 of them have been obliged to seek succor from their German and American friends because money sent to them from America has not arrived.

The Chamber of Commerce of Berlin has arranged gratuitously that sick Americans shall be admitted to hospitals.

It is hoped that the United States will be able to obtain the consent of the European powers now at war to the charter of a German steamer to return American citizens to the United States. The German government is ready to negotiate in order to obtain guarantees for the safe passage of such a steamer.

Quiet at Liege. London, Aug. 15, 1 a. m.—The Reuter Telegram company correspondent at Brussels, in a dispatch timed 7:50 Friday evening, says: "Last night passed quietly in the Belgian camp. The Germans attempted no attack."

CAMERON-BOLIN NUPTIALS. Kemmerer, Wyo., Aug. 14.—Hugh Cameron of Big Piney and Miss Kate Bolin of Bristol, Tenn., were united in marriage here this week. The ceremony was performed by Justice C. S. McDonald of Diamondville. They will make their home on the Cameron ranch in Big Piney.

BET SUGAR STOCKS ARE FORCED UP BY THE WAR

The weekly letter of John C. Cutler, Jr., is as follows:

The European war news has occupied the public mind so much lately that it is almost impossible to say or foretell at the present time to what extent the trade of the United States may be affected by the war conditions. While wholesale trade and industrial developments have been checked, and the exchanges of the country have been closed, business is gradually adapting itself to new conditions and improvement is manifested.

In Utah general conditions and crop prospects and harvests continue encouraging for fall trade, and, while the summer season is on, and a quiet period naturally prevails, the volume of both wholesale and retail trade is fair.

The beet crop is doing well, both in Idaho and Utah, and the outlook, as a whole, is considered fairly satisfactory. The Utah-Idaho Sugar company sold most of its stored sugar before the war at only a small profit, but operations will commence at its different factories in September, and the company's bins are filled with sufficient beet seed for 1915.

The unfavorable influence exerted upon business by the troubles in Europe have depressed several of our local securities. Utah-Idaho Sugar company stock is one of the exceptions. It has advanced from $6.10 to $6.75 per share and is advancing as the price of sugar in the bag advances. Germany will probably not supply England with sugar, so England has been bidding above parity in the sugar market. Dealers in this country have had much sugar on hand, so prices have been going up. Some relief may come when the present beet crop is harvested and manufactured into sugar.

The following are the approximate quotations of local securities:

LETTER COMMENTS FAMOUS LECTURER

Brigham City, Utah, August 11th, 1914. To Whom It May Concern:—It was my privilege to attend the four lectures given by Dr. F. H. Essert in our Tabernacle last Sunday and Monday.

The lectures are an "Educational Campaign Against Commercialized Vice." They are very timely, and worthy the careful consideration of every person who stands for the moral uplift of humanity.

Dr. Essert is a forceful and eloquent speaker. His lectures are delivered in such choice and appropriate language that the most modest woman may feel perfectly at ease in listening to him.

I am Yours Very Truly, (Signed) OLEAN N. STOHL, President Box Elder Stake.

These lectures are given under the auspices of the Stake Presidency, and the various churches of the city. These lectures are all free. electric line, joined yesterday afternoon and last evening in a celebration. Provo was the scene of a grand afternoon program of speechmaking, and a band concert in the Provo federal park, followed by an elaborate banquet at the Hotel Roberts.

A special train, carrying the Salt Lake delegation, fifty strong, left Salt Lake yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The train proceeded leisurely through the fertile territory traversed by the new line and the Salt Lakers were permitted to see the prosperous farms and towns pierced by the railroad. It was nearly 7 o'clock when the special reached Provo. There the visitors were welcomed by the committee of the Provo Commercial club, which was responsible for the entertainment.

After several concert selections by the Provo band, Mayor C. F. Decker of Provo made a short address of welcome and then introduced the speakers. Governor Spry, Mayor Samuel C. Park, W. C. Orem and Senator Simon Bamberger of Salt Lake, Mayor Earl J. Greenwood of American Fork and David T. Lewis of Spanish Fork addressed the gathering of 500 persons.

W. C. Orem, president of the new line, received a great ovation when introduced and was also heartily applauded for his optimistic predictions concerning Provo and its environs. He declared that the city of Provo would be twice as large within the next five years. He said there was plenty of room in Salt Lake and Utah counties for 100,000 more citizens and that the business of the interurban would help make possible this increase in population.

At the banquet Mayor Decker introduced Professor A. C. Lund as toastmaster and Mr. Lund kept the crowd in a good humor all evening with his stories and facetious introductions of the speakers. The speakers were Robert Taylor Thurberg, Spanish Fork; H. T. Reynolds, Springville; W. F. Gurney, mayor of Lehi; J. S. Macbeth, Payson; Senator Simon Bamberger, Salt Lake; W. W. Armstrong, Salt Lake; William D. Roberts, Provo; Preston G. Peterson, president of the Commercial club. A short final address was also given by President Orem.

At the afternoon meeting a telegram of congratulation from the first presidency of the Mormon church was read. At the banquet a rising toast was given to Mr. Orem. The towns represented at the celebration were Salt Lake, Provo, American Fork, Spanish Fork, Payson, Springville, Pleasant Grove, Lehi and Santaquin. The Provo Commercial club committee was composed of Mayor C. F. Decker, Preston G. Peterson, J. G. Farrer, Leroy Dixon, H. J. W. Goddard, C. H. Ward, W. N. Roylance, D. R. Beebe and Professor A. C. Lund.

The Salt Lakers who made the trip, some of whom were accompanied by their wives, were W. C. Orem, J. E. Cosgriff, F. M. Orem, T. W. Boyer, Governor William Spry, David Mattson, W. R. Armstrong, A. G. Mackenzie, James G. Berryhill, Jr., P. H. Cook, Mayor Samuel C. Park, W. R. Shearman, E. O. Howard, Frank Knox, W. W. Armstrong, Dr. E. D. Woodruff, Charles Baldwin, Simon Bamberger, A. D. Greene, Tuddenham, Karl A. Scheidt, Hyrum Pingree, Adolph Simon, E. H. Callister, A. H. Cowie, J. B. Bean, G. Y. Parrish, R. A. Flandro, L. H. Curtis, Sylvester G. Cannon, W. C. Spence, Harry E. Godwin, and newspaper representatives.

LONDON PAPERS ARE REDUCED IN SIZE London, Aug. 14.—The Times, explaining the reduced size of London newspapers—the biggest is now twelve pages daily—says there is only a week's supply of print paper in England. It comes chiefly from Scandinavia and Canada. The price for all buyers without fixed contracts has been advanced 3 1/4 cents per pound. This is ruinous to newspapers. Not a single newspaper in England is even paying expenses since the war began.

The war expenses of the two leading British newspapers, The Times and The Daily Telegraph, are now $10,000 a week each. They have eighty-five war correspondents actually in the field.

NAVAL COMPETITION IN GUNNERY As far back as 1886 the Navy Department had issued a large volume on "Target Practice," laying down a system of training and "Rule of Fire," whose principles were essentially those of today. And the telescopic sight—the very keystone of modern gunnery, invented by Lieutenant (now Rear Admiral) Bradley A. Fiske—was tried out on the Yorktown as early as 1892.

Now these and many other ideas were taken up in earnest. The most important change of all came, it is declared, from the cousins across the water, who gave us the first impetus toward a navy. Admiral Sir Percy Scott of the English navy worked out years ago the "spotting" system of controlling gunnery—a pointer at each gun, who keeps his sight on the target, and a firecontrol officer who sounds a buzzer at each gun, whereupon the pointer fires, and the officer spots the shots and changes the range as required.

Admiral Scott, while on the China station, imparted this system to an American officer, an old friend, and this American, Captain W. S. Sims set himself in 1901 to focus the new movement in our navy. He found an enthusiastic supporter in Roosevelt; a new office of target practice was established with Captain Sims at its head, and with the new devices and methods the navy started in to change the old individual go-as-you-please art of gunnery into a modern science, with a corps of expert specialized gun pointers and loaders, knit into a smoothly running human machine, controlled by one directing mind using the most up-to-date scientific aids.

The methods of building this human machine are most suggestive. First of all, conditions are standardized—ranges, rules, guns, times, intervals, targets—so that the hits and scores and percentages can be compared exactly. With these definite measurements of success, the men start in on a game, as competitive as golf or baseball, a squadron against a squadron, ship against ship, turret against turret, finally the individual against all others—with medals and trophies to commemorate the winners' feats. And then, in proper recognition of the increased value of increased efficiency, cash prizes and higher ratings at larger pay are successful—Highly Waysham in Review of Reviews.
