DETECTIVES VERY BUSY

Fifty Experts Trying to Run Down New York Safe Blowers

New York, March 17.—Fifty detectives were at work today trying to run down the cracksmen who robbed Martin, Simon & Sons' pawn shop on the east side some time yesterday of more than $250,000 worth of jewelry, one of the most daring and successful robberies committed in this city within the memory of the present generation of policemen.

It comes as a climax to a series of safe blowing robberies which for more than nine months has engaged the attention of a special "safe squad" of detectives organized by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty.

Since January 13 more than 20 safes have been cracked and robbed in the lower east side section, where yesterday's big haul was made. The police believe that the robbers are the same as those connected with many of the previous burglaries and in the one instance they have a clue to this effect.

Gloves Only Clue.

When Herman Shapiro's pawn shop on the Bowers was robbed of $6000 by cracksmen last Thursday night the robbers left behind them a pair of cotton gloves which they had used to avoid finger prints. The robbers of the Simons shop left behind two pairs of similar gloves. This vague clue, however, is the only one the detectives are known to have.

The care with which the burglars cut their way by a devious route from an adjoining cellar to the Simons building convinces the detectives they were very familiar with the premises. The men had carefully avoided using the basement stairway which was opened to them, but had sawed their way through two floors, apparently knowing that the stairway was wired with burglar alarms.

Attack on Walls.

In like manner, when they reached the big vault in the pawn shop, they did not touch the great steel doors or the locks, but attacked the walls, two feet thick.

The vault contained valuables worth $300,000, according to Simons, $500,000 in jewelry and watches, which money had been loaned, $120,000 in negotiable securities and $60,000 in notes, as well as $8000 in cash and checks.

Threw Bonds Away.

The thieves took the bonds and notes, but threw them away before leaving the building. In the vault they took nothing but diamonds and light jewelry contained in 24 drawers. Watches and other jewelry of less value, packed away in 260 small drawers and compartments, were not taken, although all the drawers had been pulled from their places, and the jewelry and watches dropped on the floor until they were a foot deep.

POLICE ARE ON STAND

Captains Tell of Solicitude Shown For Women in March 3 Parade

Washington, Mar. 17.—Police captains in charge of men along the line of march of the suffrage parade on March 3 had their findings today before the senate sub-committee.

Captain Daniel Sullivan said he had little trouble preserving order. Captain Sullivan outlined his orders from Superintendent Sylvester to keep the road clear. He said he carried out the orders to the best of his ability. Captain Sullivan said that Sylvester had shown solicitude for the women and showed an evicting purpose to have everything go off pleasantly.

Captain J. P. Hollenberger in command of the force on the section of the avenue where great disorder occurred said that when he and his men reached their posts on 1:20 o'clock on the day of the parade, the street was filled with people from building line to building line. At no time did I have the crowd under control, said the Captain. "As fast as I would force one man back two would fill his place."

His men, he said, made eight arrests for disorderly conduct.

MILITARY SPIRIT DOMINATES FRANCE

Paris, Mar. 16.—The new military spirit dominates a quarter of a million Frenchmen who today surrounded the reviewing field at Vincennes, where 300,000 troops saluted President Poincaré. Throughout the great assemblage groups of men enlisted for three years service amid cadences that sounded not unlike an American college yell.

In other parts of Paris large anti-militarist meetings were held by Socialists. The favorite cry at these gatherings was an exhortation to "split upon" the 3-year-service plan.

Several violent encounters occurred when militarist tried to prevent the display of the red flag. Several persons were injured and many arrests were made.

MOORE TO BE COUNSELOR

Washington, Mar. 17.—John Bassett Moore, professor of international law at Columbia university and a recognized authority on that subject is to be appointed counselor to the department of state. Professor Moore was appointed recently by Mr. Taft as a representative at The Hague tribunal.

The president today appointed Senators Fletcher of Florida and Gore of Oklahoma, Representative Moss of Indiana, Colonel Harvey Jordan of Georgia, Dr. John Lee Coulter of Minnesota, Dr. Kenyon L. Butterfield of Massachusetts and Clarence J. Owen of Maryland, members of the commission authorized in the last agricultural bill to co-operate with the American commission assembled under the auspices of the Southern Commercial congress to study in European countries co-operative rural credit unions and similar organizations devoted to the betterment of rural conditions. The same men also have been designated delegates to the general assembly of the International Institute of Agriculture in Rome next August.

McCombs May Accept.

Intimations were received at the White House today that National Chairman William F. McCombs, finally might accede to the president's request that he become ambassador to France. It was said Mr. McCombs was making such rapid headway with the organization of the Democratic national committee, that he probably would be in position to go abroad within a month.

President Wilson does not expect to announce further appointments until the extra session of congress convenes April 7, unless some extraordinary occasion demands it.

RAILROADS TO TRY AGAIN

Official Start Afresh on Dissolution Plan for Harriman Lines

New York, March 17.—Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific Railroad company, said today that he and his associates would try to work out a new plan for the dissolution of the Union and Southern Pacific roads to comply with the decision of the supreme court.

The original dissolution plan was abandoned Saturday on account of the opposition of the California railway commission.

"The present situation," said Judge Lovett, "is that we must start afresh and try to work out some plan to comply with the decision of the supreme court. As soon as we have done so we shall submit the same to the attorney general and to the circuit judges."

NO MORE WALKING WITH MANILA GIRL

Washington, March 17.—No more can the American fighting man in Manila walk hand in hand in the moonlight with his brown-skinned, starry-eyed sweetheart for the war department learned today that Colonel Geo. K. Hunter of the Seventh cavalry has issued an order prohibiting the men from appearing in public with native women. The order was imperative and read:

"Members of this command are hereby forbidden to be seen in public in the company of native women, except those men who are married to such women."

An explanation of the reasons governing the issue of the order did not accompany the report. It is understood, however, that the prohibition will not prevent the men who have lost their hearts to the brown-skinned girls from courting them in the privacy of their homes.

PARCELS POST INCREASES FAST

Washington, Mar. 16.—The parcels post business last month was almost 40 per cent greater than in January, as shown by reports of Postmaster General Burleson today. In February nearly 50,000,000 parcels post stamps were handled, an increase of 10,000,000, but as February contained three days less, the increase was nearly 40 per cent.

As in January the three cities doing the largest parcels post business in February were Chicago, New York and Boston in the order named. Chicago sent and received 5,167,000 pack-

WILL SUBMIT TARIFF PLAN

Caucus and Ways and Means Committee to Take Up Details

Washington, March 17.—The tariff plan will be submitted first to a caucus and then directly to the house by the ways and means committee.

The majority of the ways and means committee today began taking up the administrative features of the new tariff. The tariff revision plan will be in such condition that whatever form the caucus determines upon can be reported immediately out of the committee and the whole tariff discussion formally opened up in the house without delay.

There will be no attempt to name all or even the bulk of the house committees at the outset of the extra session, that being reserved under the present plan until toward the close of the extra session so as to obviate any unnecessary legislation until the regular session of congress convenes in December.

Personnel Determined.

The ways and means committee personnel already has been determined upon in Democratic conference in the 63d congress and it will be ratified by the house at the opening of the extra session, when the committee on rules, mileage and accounts also will be named. Whether any other committees will be created for doing business at the extra session depends upon developments between now and April 7.

DUKE WAGING CAMPAIGN

London, March 17.—The duke of Marlborough's announced intention of placing 1000 more acres of meadow land on his estate at Blenheim under the plow has attracted great attention here.

The duke, who owns 20,000 acres, has chosen this method of waging a campaign against the present government's proposed legislation in the direction of the nationalization of land in the British Isles.

The duke of Marlborough argues that a private landlord can administer his land more cheaply and efficiently than the state. He will endeavor to demonstrate his theories by showing that he can employ a greater number of laborers, pay them better wages and produce a greater yield than would be possible under state administration.

OPPOSES BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S PROPOSED LAND SCHEME

Washington, March 17.—President Wilson could hold office for life if juvenile Washington had its way, for there was jubilation among the children when it was announced today that on Easter Monday the White House grounds would be kept open to and a half hour beyond the regular time for the annual egg rolling pranks.

Hitherto the sloping lawn of the White House has been at the disposal of the children for four hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock. This year the gates will not be closed until 3:30.

The egg rolling on Easter Monday on the White House grounds is an institution that draws hundreds of children and as many more hundreds of adults to watch the frolic. It has been the custom for the president and his wife to visit among the romping children some time during the morning and both Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Taft appeared to take keen enjoyment in the observance.

BAGGAGE RATES ARE APPROVED

Washington, March 17.—Baggage in excess of 45 inches in any dimension, excepting widths as applied to "cases," may be charged for at excess rates by railroads, according to a decision today by the interstate commerce commission, and it is said if it measures more than 72 inches the carriers may refuse to accept it at all. The charge may not exceed the charge for five pounds of excess baggage for each inch over 45 inches.

Widths in cases may run to 90 inches in length and 12 inches in diameter.

IRISHMEN WEAR SMILE

Shamrock is Worn in New York With Great Rejoicing

New York, March 17.—Irishmen in the United States are not only wearing the shamrock today, but the "home rule smile" in anticipation that the "old folks at home" will soon realize their hope for freer reign in their government.

The program for the day in New York was filled with a variety of rejoicings beginning with a morning mass in the Roman Catholic cathedral which bears the name of the patron saint anniversary of whose birth the day is supposed to mark. Cardinal Farley occupied his throne during the ceremony of a solemn mass which was given an unusual touch by the attendance of the 69th regiment of the national guard in parade dress.

Sons of Erin Parade.

The big event for the day was as usual the parade of the sons of Erin. With the fine weather which was promised for the late afternoon it was expected that 30,000 would join in the march up Fifth avenue from 42d to 120th street, and west to the Harlem river, a distance of more than four miles.

Governor and his military staff, Cardinal Farley and other church dignitaries, Mayor Gaynor and other city officials had places in the reviewing stand in front of the cathedral. Another large parade was arranged in Brooklyn.

Dinners, dances and reunions almost innumerable were other festivities for the evening, with the official ball at Terrace garden, the largest of the merry-making affairs. Combined with the rejoicing over concessions which the home rule movement has already won, there were efforts here to further the "spirit of unity" on the home rule question.

CONGRESS TO CONVENE

President Calls Extra Session to Open at Noon, April 7

Washington, March 17.—President Wilson today issued the formal proclamation convening congress in extra session at noon on April 7.

The president's proclamation today was brief and followed form closely. It stated merely that "whereas public interests require," congress would be convened in extra session by order of the executive.

Originally Mr. Wilson had fixed on April 1 as the date, Representative Underwood, the Democratic majority leader, having informed him that the tariff bills to which it was agreed congress should give immediate attention would be ready on that date.

Mr. Underwood found, however, that the ways and means committee would need another week to draft the tariff schedules and today's proclamation is in deference to the wishes of Mr. Underwood and house leaders.

The absence of any specific reason for the calling of the extra session is explained by the fact that Mr. Wilson's statement immediately after his election declared that he would call an extra session to revise the tariff.

President Wilson plans to point out specifically his wishes for the extra session in his first message, in preparation. This, it is known from talks the president has had with members of congress, will outline the administration's idea of how the tariff should be revised and just what schedules should be taken up. The belief is general that the entire session will be taken up with a discussion of the tariff.

TERMS NOT ADMISSIBLE

Powers Will Not Submit Allies Proposals to Turkish Government

Berlin, Mar. 17.—The European powers will this week inform the Balkan allies that their suggested terms for peace negotiations with Turkey are inadmissible. The powers will decline to submit them to Turkey.

A carefully worded note to this effect was drawn by the ambassadors in London at their latest conference and is now being considered in the various European capitals. It is to be handed to the allies after it has been approved by a further conference in London on Wednesday.

The note will suggest that a modification of the allies' demands is indispensable. It will urge strongly the necessity for the conclusion of peace.

INQUIRY IS ORDERED

Special Grand Jury to Investigate Alleged Butterine Frauds

Chicago, Mar. 17.—Judge Landis in the United States district court today instructed a special grand jury to investigate alleged butterine frauds compromised by the internal revenue department on March 4. The grand jurors are to learn if the manufacturers were not of conspiracy to defraud the government under section 37 of the national penal code.

The jurors also were instructed to ascertain if any member of the national government was guilty of conspiracy. On this point the court said: "If there are officers or agents or attorneys of a corporation tax debtor have conspired among themselves or with officers of the United States, or with other persons to defraud the government out of the revenue tax, anyone of such persons has done any act to carry such conspiracy into effect they may all be proceeded against in account of such conspiracy even though the criminal liability of the tax debtor for the fraud itself has been specifically extinguished by the commissioner of internal revenue, with the concurrence of the secretary of the treasury."

Duty of Jurors.

The jurors were informed that they had authority to look into the oleomargarine business and that of manufacturing cotton seed oil and to bring witnesses here from any part of the country. If there was a common understanding among manufacturers, Judge Landis instructed, "It will be your duty to inquire with very great care whether any public officer or agent of the government had a conscious part in the arrangement."

Judge Landis told the jurors it was discovered two years ago that big oleomargarine concerns were using cotton seed oil treated with sulphur which resulted in the imitation butter which he said, were warned that they would use the colored oil at their own peril.

A committee of the house of representatives investigated and calculated the government had been deprived of $1,200,000 in taxes. The committee also recommended that the cases be NOT compromised.

McVeagh Compromises Tax.

Nevertheless as one of the last acts of his late administration of the treasury department, Secretary McVeagh compromised the penalties at $10,000.

This compromise, continued Judge Landis, was based on the law giving the internal revenue bureau authority to compromise cases where the revenue law has been violated.

FIGHT ON AT DAYBREAK

Refugees Rush Across Border — Rebels and Federals Exchange Hot Fire

Laredo, Tex., March 17.—A battle unexpectedly began in Nuevo Laredo, the Mexican town opposite here, at daybreak today. Carranzistas, reported to number 200, during the night had forced their way into the city and occupied a lard factory. At dawn a salvo of rifle firing awoke Americans in Laredo. The first sight that greeted them was a rush of refugees across the bridge to the American side.

Men and women carrying their children jammed the bridge, heedless of hurried wagon traffic. Numerous officials of Nuevo Laredo were among the refugees. The officers carried books and records by the armful.

Light Rifle Fire.

The Carranzistas at daybreak arrived within four miles of Nuevo Laredo and opened a light rifle fire. The distance was too great, however, for this preliminary firing to arouse the sleeping American town or to disturb Nuevo Laredo. The rebels advanced cautiously until they were within the city limits. They rushed into a lard factory, barricaded windows, then constructed entrenchments for skirmish lines with the aid of outlying fences and sheds.

Rebels Fall Back.

At 6:30 their files broke the twin cities with a sudden fusillade. This was followed by an hour's silence. Then the firing was renewed for a few minutes, only to be succeeded by another silence. About three the rebels fell back from the lard factory under a hot federal rifle fire and retreated slowly, pushing hard by government troops.

Colonel Brewer, commanding officer of the Fourteenth United States cavalry on patrol duty here, sent word early today that there must be no firing in a direction which would endanger border points.

Early reports placed the number of Carranzistas at 600, but when the retreat began their number was estimated at 200. It was reported that many persons had been wounded in the fighting at Nuevo Laredo.

Twenty Carranzistas and 15 federals were killed. Nearly 50 soldiers were wounded.

The Carranzistas retreated to the hills south of Nuevo Laredo, where they prepared for a fresh assault. The street battle continued for an hour and a half.

CONGRESS TO CONVENE

President Calls Extra Session to Open at Noon, April 7

Washington, March 17.—President Wilson today issued the formal proclamation convening congress in extra session at noon on April 7.

The president's proclamation today was brief and followed form closely. It stated merely that "whereas public interests require," congress would be convened in extra session by order of the executive.

Originally Mr. Wilson had fixed on April 1 as the date, Representative Underwood, the Democratic majority leader, having informed him that the tariff bills to which it was agreed congress should give immediate attention would be ready on that date.

Mr. Underwood found, however, that the ways and means committee would need another week to draft the tariff schedules and today's proclamation is in deference to the wishes of Mr. Underwood and house leaders.

The absence of any specific reason for the calling of the extra session is explained by the fact that Mr. Wilson's statement immediately after his election declared that he would call an extra session to revise the tariff.

President Wilson plans to point out specifically his wishes for the extra session in his first message, in preparation. This, it is known from talks the president has had with members of congress, will outline the administration's idea of how the tariff should be revised and just what schedules should be taken up. The belief is general that the entire session will be taken up with a discussion of the tariff.
