SCORES KILLED BY OKLAHOMA TORNADO

DOCTORS RUSH TO VICTIMS OF FATAL TWISTER

Bodies of Twenty-four Persons are Removed From One Building Alone

HUNDREDS HASTEN TO OFFER RELIEF

Newspaper Dispatches Reported to Scene of Storm in Airplane

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 3.—More than fifty persons are known to have been killed and approximately 100 were injured in a tornado that virtually wiped out Peggs, a small village in the northwest corner of Cherokee county, about 9 o'clock last night.

Forty-three bodies have been recovered by rescue workers from Muskogee, Tahlequah and Locust Grove. More are believed to be in the wreckage.

Only three buildings remained standing after the storm had passed. Crushed to Death.

Whole families were crushed to death when their homes were torn to pieces by the force of the gale. Nine members of the Levens family were killed; seven of the Litchfield family, eight persons by the name of Frank and five members of the Wilkerson family are numbered among the dead.

Forty-two coffins are being sent to the scene of the storm from Tahlequah. This is as many as could be found in the city.

Temporary hospitals have been organized amid the wreckage and scores of severely injured are being given first aid. Those who can stand the trip to Tahlequah are being taken there, where they will be placed in hospitals.

Calls for Aid.
Tahlequah doctors were the first to reach the scene. Six physicians left immediately after the storm was lifted last night. Later they sent urgent calls for more assistance, and at 6 o'clock this morning one hundred automobiles with men and women relief workers were on their way to aid the injured.

The stricken village had a population of about 250.
When the rescuers arrived in Peggs they found only a heap of mud-spattered debris and wreckage. Many of the houses were blown away and the workers began collecting the bodies from the ruins many were so plastered with mud that they had to be washed off before they could be identified.

The dead were collected in shelters left by the wind and roofs.
Doctors, nurses and assistants impressed into service have worked unceasingly since early this morning caring for the injured. A number of the wounded are en route to Tahlequah. Due to the rough country and poor roads it will likely be late this evening before they can be placed in the hospital there.

One of the freaks of the storm was that a small farm shack, uninhabited, was left standing in the heart of the town, while brick buildings housing many persons around it were blown away.

The Peggs school house, a concrete building, was crushed.

BRITON ATTEMPTS TO BREAK SHOE PRICE

LONDON, May 3.—Shoes made of honest-to-goodness leather from sole to tips for $3.91.

No, fellow Americans, no joke. It's sober, serious fact.
It happened this way: recently Malby-Deley, a very rich member of Parliament, opened a clothing store where he sold made-to-measure suits from $10 up to about $30. Results were the police had to be called to keep the anxious customers from breaking down the doors.

This made S. H. M. Blossom do some thinking. If Malby-Deley could swat the profiteers by dealing directly, why couldn't they do the same thing by taking the output of 4 shoe factories which had made shoes for the government during the war and were now looking for new business openings?

A store was rented and the announcement was made that shoes would be sold to men and boys at £1 (as this is written $3.91) the pair. Even when the English pound climbs back to normal, it will only be $4.86 a pair. The shoes come with light, medium and heavy soles, black and tan.

SEKOU SENTENCED TO DIE

SEOUL, Korea, May 3.—A special court today sentenced Kangkoku, a Korean, to death on a charge of attempting to assassinate Admiral Baron Saito, the Japanese governor-general of Korea.

EMPTY FLATS IN CHICAGO WORRY GREEDY OWNERS

CHICAGO, May 3.—More than 1000 vacant apartments were thrown on the market over the week-end and the real estate dealers are in a quandary as a result.

Hundreds of families whose rentals had been raised moved out May 1 without warning.

Rents have advanced in many cases from 50 to 300 per cent, the agents pleading the law of supply and demand justified the increases.

Real estate agents estimate that 10,000 families who had received notice to move May 1, refused to do so, defying the landlords because they could find no place to move.

The unexpected vacating of more than 1000 apartments has left the landlords in doubt. Many families doubled up, two in an apartment, and others moved to hotels rather than pay increased rentals.

POLISH FORCES CAPTURE KIEV, PAPERS REPORT

Bolshevik Army Evidently Unable to Resist Power of Opposing Troops

WARSAW, May 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Polish forces occupied Kiev yesterday, according to extra editions of the newspapers here today. General Pilsudski, president of the Polish state, led the troops into the city, the newspapers say.
The Polish advance into the Ukraine along a front of 180 miles began early last week for the announced purpose of expelling the "foreign invaders," or Russian Bolsheviks, from the Ukraine, an independent republic, would create a buffer state between Poland and the Bolsheviks. Kiev is the capital of the Ukraine, and the outlet for its vast stores of agricultural products.
General Pilsudski, head of the Polish state, announced that after the expulsion of the Bolsheviks, the Poles would remain only until an authorized Ukrainian government took control.

Stubborn Fighting.
WARSAW, May 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bolshevik forces have backed up against the Dniester river and are preparing to resist the Polish and Ukrainian efforts to take Kiev, towards which General Pilsudski's men are fighting their way from three directions.
Polish cavalry, which reached the region of Kiev on Saturday, has halted, according to latest reports, awaiting the coming up of infantry support.

Stubborn fighting is going on in the open country along the Telow river in the vicinity of Malin.
Chinese mercenaries are being used by the bolsheviks to stem the eastern sweep of Polish and Ukrainian forces, said Saturday's official communique.

A number of Chinese have been captured, it was announced.
Violent Collision.
BERLIN, May 3.—A violent collision occurred between Poles and Germans at Ratibor, Silesia, yesterday on the occasion of the Polish national festival, according to a dispatch published here. Many people were injured on both sides, some seriously.

Several thousand Poles carrying Polish flags and emblems paraded through the streets. The Germans demanded removal of Polish emblems of sovereignty, on the ground that such emblems were prohibited by the allied commission.

Fifteen detectives commanded by Sergeant James J. Gegan, of the bomb squad, and several deputies headed by Sheriff David H. Knott, guarded the court room, which was filled with Larkin sympathizers.

One young woman was rebuked in the court when she rose and attempted to take Larkin's hand as he was led away.

Called to the bar, the woman said: "I simply rose thinking I would be permitted to show respect in that manner for the man for whom perhaps I have more respect than any other. I thought I would be allowed to rise as one does for the judge of the court."

Several women shook hands with Larkin and the mother of former Assemblyman Gilroy, now serving sentence for criminal anarchy, embraced him.

The cloth mills affected are operated by 18 corporations with a weekly payroll of $357,000 and having 59,317 looms and 1,925,652 spindles.

BOMBINGS OF LAST JUNE CLEARING UP

U. S. Agents Say Many Are Nabbed for Dynamiting Palmer's House

NEW YORK, May 3.—Tony Tazio, 36 years old, detained by the department of justice as an important witness against a number of radicals involved in the bomb outrages last June, committed suicide early today by hurling himself from a window on the fourteenth floor of a Park office building where the department headquarters are located for six weeks.

Chief William J. Flynn, of the department, said today that Tazio was one of several anarchists who were arrested in connection with the bomb explosions of June 2 last, and had been detained at headquarters as a government witness for six weeks.

Two Persons Killed
The June bomb attacks included the homes of Judge Charles C. Not, of General sessions court in New York, and Attorney General Palmer at Washington. The explosions resulted in the death of two persons.

Tazio's suicide revealed for the first time that an important arrests ever had been made in connection with the case.

Chief Flynn said that the man's real name was Andre Salsedo.

Admits Part Played
Salsedo was a printer and writer. He was sleeping with another government witness when he got up, went to the wash room and jumped from the window without rousing his companion.

Mr. Flynn admitted that several other men had been arrested in connection with the plots, that they had confessed to participating and that they had agreed to turn government witnesses.

He declined, however, to give the names or to explain what part they had played.

Circulars Traced
From Chief Flynn and N. C. Donato, Salsedo's lawyer, it was learned that the circulars had been printed in an Italian printing establishment in Brooklyn where Salsedo was employed.

According to Donato, his client's employer asserts that Salsedo must have done the work in his spare time without his knowledge. He admitted, however, that the circular headed "Plain Words" and signed "Anarchist Fighters," had been turned out on his presses.

Chief Flynn said the Salsedo and other government witnesses had expressed fear of being murdered by the anarchist plotters if it became known they had confessed.

At their own suggestion, quarters were arranged for them in the Park Row building. Salsedo's wife was allowed to visit him frequently. She is said to have spent much of yesterday with him.

News of Salsedo's death will give the first information to some of his former confederates. Chief Flynn said, that some of the conspirators had been for a long time in custody.
