DANIELS HURLS MORE SHOTS AT SIMS DEMOCRATS OPEN FIRE ON KNOX PEACE Carranza and Army Nearly Trapped

SECRETARY OF NAVY TELLS OF WAR MESSAGES

Sims Was Hypnotized by British, Daniels Tells Senate Investigators

WILSON CALLS FOR INDEPENDENT ACT

President Disappointed by Answer Sent by Admiral From London

WASHINGTON, May 12.—A confidential cablegram from President Wilson to Rear Admiral Sims in London, sent during the war, was read to the senate naval investigating committee today by Secretary Daniels. It expressed surprise that the British admiralty had failed to "use Great Britain's great naval superiority" effectively against submarines, and called on Admiral Sims for comments and suggestions based on "independent thought" and without regard to "judgments of any one on that side of the water."

Wilson's Telegram

President Wilson's message to Sims follows: "From the beginning of the war I have been greatly surprised at the failure of the British admiralty to use Great Britain's great naval superiority in an effective way. In the presence of the present submarine emergency they are helpless to the point of panic. Every plan we suggest they reject for some reason of prudence. In my view this is not the time for prudence, but for boldness, even at the cost of great losses."

Sims' Advice Sought

In conclusion, President Wilson asked Admiral Sims to advise him as he would advise "if you were running a navy of your own."

Admiral Sims' Reply

Admiral Sims' reply, said Secretary Daniels, who presented the president's message in connection with his answer to Sims' charges against the navy department's conduct of the war was "a long telegram of generalities of what the British admiralty was doing."

Telegram from Sims

Mr. Daniels also read a telegram from Admiral Sims to former Ambassador Page, written August 7, 1917, which in part said:

"In this connection I have a suggestion to make. I have received word, practically directly from the president, that he was much displeased with my reply to his cablegram; that it did not change his opinion at all; that he regarded me as owned by the admiralty and so pro-British that he seriously considered the advisability of replacing me by some other officer."

Admiral Sims' reply to the president told also of plans for a combined sea and land attack to turn the German right flank and cut off Zebrugga as a provisioning base. Mr. Daniels said, "That was the kind of 'bold and audacious' thing the president and the navy department had been urging from our entrance into the war," declared the secretary. "But even then Admiral Sims said it had not been taken off yesterday."

FARRELL SEES GREAT FUTURE FOR BUSINESS

President of U. S. Steel Corporation Is Foreign Trade Convention Speaker

REBIRTH OF WORLD IN PROGRESS, CLAIM

Either Glowing Prosperity or Stagnation Lies Ahead, Experts Are Told

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The world offers vast opportunities for American enterprise, James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation and Chairman of the Seventh National Foreign Trade Convention told trade experts from all parts of the world here today. His speech, opening a four day international discussion of trade, portrayed conditions in the United States as leading either to stagnation and business reverses due to over-production or to glowing prosperity following development of world trade channels.

Stagnation Ahead

"We shall be confronted," he said, "in a quite unmistakable way, with the fact that we are able to produce more than we can sell at home. We shall face, accordingly, such an urgency for foreign trade as we never before experienced. For we shall find markets abroad for the surplus of our industrial productivity, or we shall cease to produce it, while his quite unthinkable. That way lies stagnation, unemployment and business reverses."

"But the world offers vast opportunities for American enterprise. Needs that have been restricted by jealous and discordant political parties, material development that has been checked by the insistence of narrow spheres of interest will be governed in places where broader and surer conceptions of international cooperation than has ever prevailed before."

Furnish New Markets

There can be no question about the economic rebirth of the civilized world, for it is already in progress, even in places where industrial distress seems most acute and social disorganization most profound. Vast undeveloped portions of the world with fertile soil and cheap labor are entering upon period of rapid development. They will help supply the rapidly increasing needs for food, raw materials, and they will at the same time furnish new markets for finished products.

Must Work Hard

"We may not be able to tell the precise extent or fix the exact direction of forces that are about to change the face of the world, but we may face the future with confidence by the exercise of an intelligent foresight and by being ready to adjust ourselves to the new course of economic development."

We must devote the same sustained and intelligent effort to international commerce that has produced such wonderful results in our domestic trade.

The development of our industrial productive capacity during the war, coupled with the change in our national financial status, might if unintelligently handled, be the forerunner of distress. But if only it be handled with intelligence energy and courage, there lies in it a vastly greater potentiality for general benefit through foreign trade."

HOBOS' UNION SENDS PLEA TO U. S. SOCIALISTS

They Want to Vote at Any Time and at Any Place in America

NEW YORK, May 12.—Detailed consideration of the proposed "moderate" platform of the Socialist party, as presented by Morris Hillquit of this city, was the principal business before the national convention of the party today. The "red flag internationalists" who were defeated yesterday by a vote of 103 to 33 in their attempt to substitute a more radical program for the party, declared they would continue their fight against the Hillquit document.

Jean Longuet, leader of the French Socialists, whose passports to the American embassy at Paris refused to vice, sent greetings of the French Socialist party.

Cameron H. King, of California, was elected chairman for the day over William Kruse, of Chicago.

A representative of the International Brotherhood Welfare association, known as the Hobos' union, appeared at the convention to ask the delegation to endorse a proposed amendment to the United States constitution providing that all citizens shall vote in the general election, regardless of race, sex, color, habitation, occupation or "lack of occupation."

The amendment is in direct opposition to the platform of the Illinois delegation, which provides that citizenship be limited to only persons "permanently employed."

G. O. P. PLANS FOR WAR'S END CALLED FUTILE

Senator Hitchcock Says Mountain Has Labored and Brought Forth Mouse

KNOX RESOLUTION HELD INCONSISTENT

Speaker Denies Congress Has Power to Make Peace as Proposed

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Democratic attack upon the Republican peace resolution was launched today by Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, administration spokesman, who declared in addressing the senate that the measure was futile and inconsistent and inimical to the treaty of Versailles.

"The mountain has labored and brought forth a mouse," he said. "Great expectations for an act of congress that would bring a peace settlement are to be disappointed. High hopes that a resolution by congress could be made to perform the functions of a peace treaty are abandoned. Instead of a peace settlement to be forced by a resolution of mandatory requirements, we are merely to repeal the war declaration, declare the war at an end and invite the president to negotiate a separate peace."

Senator Hitchcock cited three similar resolutions which he said had been sponsored since last November by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, and Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, author of the pending resolution. The latter, Mr. Hitchcock said, is the fifth peace resolution offered by the Republican leadership.

"In reaching this important conclusion," he said of the pending measure, "the supporters of the novel plan have staggered from side to side over a zig zag course for nearly six months."

No Power For Peace
Senator Hitchcock denied that congress has the power to make peace although it has authority to declare war. The vote was unanimously against giving congress peace-making jurisdiction, he said.

Senator Knox's recent argument that the war actually was at an end was conceded by Mr. Hitchcock, who asked:

"Then why this resolution. Hostilities ceased 18 months ago and our army was reduced to a peace basis. Since that time commerce has been resumed. We have sold hundreds of millions of dollars worth of products to Germany and purchased much from her. The war which the senator from Pennsylvania proposes to end by this resolution does not by his own admission exist."

What's He Doing
"What then is the senator from Pennsylvania attempting to do by this measure, which he calls a resolution to terminate the war. He is making an utterly futile and hopeless attempt to make a peace settlement with Germany to take the place of the Versailles treaty."

"Instead of declaring peace, he said, "the Knox resolution declares the war at an end. That we have raised the interesting distinction between declaring peace and declaring war at an end."

The peace resolution adopted by the house last month was denounced especially by Mr. Hitchcock because of its proposals for an embargo against Germany within 45 days in event of German objections to the resolution and its provision for reserving rights under the treaty.

BATTLE FAILS TO DISLODGE FEDERAL ARMY

WASHINGTON HEARS FROM MEXICO CITY

Dispatches Tell of Carranza's Flight From Capital With Ten Trains

VERA CRUZ, May 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Venustiano Carranza's army of 4000 men, virtually surrounded by rebel forces commanded by Generals Trevino and Hill, is making a determined stand in a strong position between San Marcos, Puebla, and the village of Huamantla, ten miles northwest in the state of Tlaxcala, according to advices received here. The struggle went on all day today and, according to the latest reports, the Carranza forces had not been dislodged.

More Troops Sent

Rebel reinforcements, under command of General Porras have been sent up from Cordoba and have taken positions at San Andres and San Simula, southeast of the scene of the battle, probably for the purpose of preventing the escape of Carranza, should he succeed in breaking through the lines thrown around him. Reports state the Carranza forces are entrenched along the Mexican National railroad.

Soldiers Barred

General Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of President Carranza and governor of the state of Vera Cruz, has abandoned all chance of escape from the country in an effort to join his superior and share in his fate, says a dispatch to El Dictamen. Emissaries from Aguilar today conferred with General Sanchez' chief of staff, and asked that their commander be permitted to pass through the rebel lines toward San Marcos. This request was granted, but it was stipulated General Aguilar must be accompanied only by his general staff and civilians, all of his soldiers being barred.

City Is Peaceful

Paul H. Foster, American consul here, has reported to the state department in Washington that conditions are returning to normal, that the lives and property of foreigners have not been molested and that there is no reason for retaining United States warships in Mexican waters where they may cause friction.

Felix Diaz, leader of a rebel group in the state of Vera Cruz, has asked permission to leave the country, promising he will take no further part in political movements in Mexico. It is probable his request will be granted.

News From Mexico

WASHINGTON, May 12.—President Carranza, his cabinet advisers and other adherents, left Mexico City last Friday morning by train apparently going in the direction of Vera Cruz, the state department was advised today in messages from the American embassy at Mexico City.

Carranza's train was preceded by numerous trains carrying troops, and equipment, supplies, records and archives. Artillery and supplies also were held in trains waiting at the railroad station some hours after Carranza left.

Trains Captured

The dispatches, which were dated May 7, 8 and 9 and which were held up by the interruption of the telegraph lines, quoted an official bulletin published in the Mexico City newspapers on May 8 announcing that 43 cannon, ten trains of equipment, supplies, etc., and one train with funds which had accompanied Carranza's train had been captured by the revolutionists.

The newspaper of May 8, the dispatches said, published statements that there was no confirmation of reports that Carranza had been captured or that Generals Aguilar, Murguia, Burragan and Urquiza had been executed.

Conference Held

The dispatches told of a conference between Generals Obregon and Gonzales on May 8 at Tacubaya, just outside of Mexico City, and said General Gonzales had appointed Juan Ascona and Aurelio Mendivil to take temporary charge of the foreign office and the department of the hacienda, respectively. They also said General Gonzales had appointed directors-general of posts, railway and telegraph lines.

PALMER PLACES LIMIT ON PROFIT MADE ON SUGAR

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Telegrams were sent by the department of justice to all United States attorneys reiterating the department's policy of holding the margin of profits on sugar sales to 1 cent for wholesalers and 2 cents for retailers.

In a telegram to Boston the attorney general ordered that steps be taken immediately to prosecute persons taking larger profits.

The attorney general's order will not have the effect of standardizing prices either at wholesale or retail. Dealers obtained their stocks at different prices and as a result sale prices will vary, but in no case can profits exceed the margin allowed.

POISONS HIS PARENTS FOR LOVE OF AUNT

Kansas Youth Admits Plot With Woman to Remove Opposition to Marriage

SALINA, Kans., May 12.—Confessions that they plotted the death by poisoning of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bunch, both of whom died at Lincoln Center, near here, nearly a year ago, were obtained from Miss Stella Hymans, 29 years old and her nephew Lee Bunch, 21 year old son of the victims. County Attorney M. J. Healy announced. According to the prosecutor the pair were in love and the boy's parents had refused to allow them to marry.

Miss Hymans, the prosecutor alleged, admitted to him today that she administered poison first in coffee to her sister who died August 1 last, and then to her brother-in-law, who died August 14. The same poison was given Lee's sister, who escaped with her life, was left permanently an invalid, according to physicians, the county attorney said.

Lee Bunch in his statement at Lincoln Center admitted, according to Mr. Healy, that he helped his aunt plot the deaths. The professor said Miss Hymans admitted that she had administered the poison. He asserted charges of murder will be placed against both the woman and youth today. They were arrested Monday.
