LOADS OF PLANK ARRIVE AT MOLE WITH DELEGATES

Baggage and Trunks Filled With Home Brew Planks For Convention

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Oakland mole, arrival point for Democratic national convention delegates who poured in by the hundred, looked more like a lumber yard than a passenger depot today. So many platform plank suggestions arrived with the delegates that their special trains clattered like fast freight lumber trains.

A rough estimate would indicate that it would take the resolutions committee a month sitting 24 hours a day, if it planned to give all the suggestions a full hearing.

Delegates in every car whiled away the journey hacking and sawing at language they thought would look good in the party's bill of particulars. They hammered and banged away at every subject under the sun and had no time for scenery.

As desert, mountain and valley rolled by the car, the self-appointed sacrificers fought hand to hand battles with the English language seeking words to say one thing and another. Hand baggage and turnks were loaded down with home brewed planks prepared before the political voyagers embarked for the Golden West.

Wet and Irish planks were in the majority; but no subject was slighted.

Where delegates themselves had not prepared a few thoughts for consideration of the official platform makers, representatives of some association, committee, league or other propaganda center promptly filled the breach.

WANTED TO SEE WRECK

UKIAH, Cal. — A desire to see a train wreck is reported to have led two 12 year old boys of Fort Bragg to wrap a logging chain around the inside rail of the railroad track, one mile from Fort Bragg, Cal., in an endeavor to ditch the eastbound passenger train. The engine and three coaches passed over the obstruction safely. Had the chain been around the outside rail, the train, filled with woman and children bound for a picnic on Pudding Creek, would have been dashed into the creek many feet below. The boys confessed that their desire to wreck the train was inspired from a movie film.

HOUSEWIVES TO "LAY FOR" PALMER
COX'S BOOSTERS COME A-SINGING

SAN FRANCISCO.—A group of San Francisco housewives are "laying for" A. Mitchell Palmer. They have a bunch of questions to fire at him about what his department has done to bring down the price of shoes and things.

"We've held off the bread-wagon and milk-wagon drivers from striking during the convention, said Mrs. Edward Scanlono of the Housewives' League. "We want to know what Mr. Palmer thinks he's done for us, and why he thinks the women should support his ambitions to be president."

G. O. P. TO PICK JUDICIAL TICKET

Convention to Be Held in County Courthouse at 2 P. M. Today

With the opening at 2 o'clock this afternoon of the Republican judicial convention in the courthouse, one of the most interesting political sessions in Ogden in years is expected. One of the features will be the consideration, it is forecasted, of the proposition of the Democrats for a non-partisan judiciary.

While members of the Republican party declared yesterday that they were unable to say what would take place at the session, it was intimated that there is a probability that the convention would nominate two Republican judges and turn down the proposition of indorsing the present judges, Arthur E. Pratt and A. W. Agee, who were named last Saturday by the Democrats.

There are a number of Republican candidates for the judgeship, the most promient of whom are John A. Sneddon, James N. Kimball, John G. Willis, J. A. Howell and John C. Davis. It was said last night that N. J. Harris has declared he is not a candidate.

The nomination of a district attorney promises an interesting fight between Royal J. Douglas and Joseph E. Evans.

Guardsman Has Chance to Enter West Point

Men enlisted in the national guard of Utah, who on July 1, 1921, will be between 19 and 22 years of age, and have served one year in the organization, will be eligible for selection as applicants for admission to the United States military academy at West Point. For men who served honorably not less than one year in the armed forces of the United States or allied armies in the world war, the age limti is 24 years, according to information received here today.

The vacancies to be filled will be announced next month. The apportionment will be made by the war department according to the enlisted strength of the state national guard units. The governors of the states will select the candidates from successful competitors in a preliminary examination, similar to the regular examinations for entrance to West Point. This examination will be held between December 1 and 15, 1920.

Approximately 350 vacancies exist at the United States military academy, for which the respective senators and representatives in congress have been requested to nominate candidates who can qualify by certificate for admission on July 1, 1920, it being too late to hold another entrance examination this year. In the army and national guard there are approximately one hundred vacancies.

The First district of Utah has the only allotment open to this state for entrance to the academy, July 1.

SKULL CRACK FEASIBLE SITE FOR OGDEN'S FUTURE WATER SUPPLY
MAYOR SAYS AFTER INSPECTION

"Skull Crack in South Fork canyon is the feasible place in which Ogden must look for its future water supply," said Mayor Frank Francis this morning after his return from a survey of the proposed dam site which he made yesterday with members of the city commission.

"Two sites were investigated in the canyon during the trip," Mayor Francis said, "but nothing definite was decided upon in their selection. One was at Skull Crack where preliminary work has already been done for a dam foundation and the other is farther down the canyon below the fork of Causer creek. The selection of the latter site will mean that the flow from Causer creek can also be utilized by the city, while to erect a dam above will result in these waters being lost."

Supply At Limit.

"The supply of the city wells has now reached its limit and the city must look to other sources for its future supply. The Skull Crack project will impound enough water to supply the city for years and the residents of the city will be later called upon to give the city authority to construct the dam."

"The city has already established its right with the state engineer to construct a dam in the canyon and water rights been apporpriated. In my opinion the city should not allow these concessions to lapse and the project should be installed as soon as possible."

Outing Camp.

During the trip to South Fork the site for the camp to be established by the Weber stake of the L. D. S. church was selected by selected by representatives of the stake who accompanied the party. The affair will be known as "Fathers' and Sons' Outing," and will be held July 22, 23 and 24 in the meadows of South Fork. A city of tents will bei nstalled on the grounds and a large number of persons are expected to participate in the encampment.

Fathers and sons who are members of the stake will stay in the camp during the entire three days and on July 24, the mothers will be invited to take part in the program. On the evening of July 21, the Boy Scouts of the stake will go to Huntsville by train and then will hike to the camp site. Theh boys will remain in camp during the three days.

Athletic sports, games, fishing and other activities are scheduled during the outing. Strict attention will be paid to the sanitary condition of the camp and army regulations will be in effect. Members of the survey party said this morning that the site was one of the most beautiful spots in the entire canyon.

GAMES WILL BE TAUGHT KIDDIES

Community Service Worker to Be Here Monday; Demonstrates at City Park

Miss Josephine L. Randall, expert and special worker in children's play for the Community Service and Pastime Associations of America, has been secured for Ogden and will give demonstrations in children's grass play in Ogden for the next few days.

Miss Randall is a graduate of Leland Stanford university and has taken special work in other schools in play and drama work for children and adults. Miss Randall was in charge of the play for children in San Diego for three years and had charge of the girls' work for Camp Kearny during the period of war activities. Since then she has been doing demonstration work in the bay cities and later at Sacramento.

Miss Randall will meet young children Monday on the City park and in Lester park at places and times to be announced tomorrow.

The games will be new to the little folks of Ogden and for them there will probably be a play hour each day in two or more parks during the next few days under Miss Randall's leadership.

Commissioner Flygare and the mayor and board of commissioners have entered into this demonstration with hearty accord in order to give it a trial here, it is said. If it is as attractive here as it has been in other cities it will be a feature for the children of Ogden this summer and several play centers will be opened later.

All little ones are welcome to these grass games.

WEST VIRGINIA WORKING HARD TO LAND DAVIS

Governor Cornwell Says Ambassador Ideal Candidate and Forceful Speaker

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The West Virginia delegation arrived here tonight and went aggressively to work for the nomination of its favorite son, John W. Davis, the American ambassador to Great Britain. His strength, they declared, would become apparent after the opening ballots had demonstrated that none of the leaders could be nominated.

Gov. John J. Cornwell, who will make the nominating speech, issued this statement:

"Davis would be an ideal candidate for many reasons. He is one of the most forceful speakers and debaters in America. His great ability is universally admitted. His character could not and would not be questioned. There are no antagonisms, no objections could be urged except that he is a Democrat. The public is in no mood to vote for or elect any man merely because he is a candidate of any certain political party. This is not a politician's period. A man to win this election must face the rising and not the setting sun. He must stand not only for the right but be able to make the people understand him. Davis would be able to do that."
