

ST. GEORGE AND THE LION

ravages of war. They had become reconciled to the position of an inferior, but expected peace. From that day to this, the Germans, to the extent of their available military power, have been bearing down on the Russians, burning, destroying, murdering in every direction.

There is a well defined purpose in all this brutality. If the war goes well with them, the Germans will not stop until they have burned deep scars wherever their flame projectors can be brought to bear.

The Germans have planned to horrify and overawe the world, and, in case of overwhelming victory, they will commit outrages never equaled in the days when prisoners were put to death, women were made slaves and young girls were given over to the soldiery.

Russia accurately forecasts what is coming to us, if Germany wins!

What has young America to say in response to Germany's resolve to outrage, first, Russia, then France, then England, then the United States?

FEWER TRAINS TO BE OPERATED.

On the Santa Fe railroad trains are being pulled off to conform with the new order of things which demands economy in every direction.

Competition, in normal times, has caused much duplication of train service, and this is being overcome by the government efficiency experts who have been over the different railroad systems to determine the number of unnecessary trains.

This retrenchment process is certain to strike Ogdem. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Oregon Short Line, Denver & Rio Grande will be reduced in passenger train service.

Wherever there is duplication of train service, there will be a cutting down.

MUSICIANS DOING THEIR FULL PART.

An excellent spirit has been displayed by our musicians in volunteering their services for the patriotic parade of next Tuesday. Organized and unorganized bands are to be in the line of march as evidence that, under the call of country, every element of our social structure is yielding to the common cause.

Our musicians—a very big percentage of them—are dependent on the revenues they receive at public affairs. Therefore, it is not to be expected that they regularly volunteer without pay to perform for patriotic events. To do so would be to deprive them of a big part of their livelihood, but on extraordinary occasions, as on Tuesday, or at other times when they can carry on their regular work and give their spare hours without suffering individual losses, their coming forward to offer their talent is most acceptable.

HUGHES CALLED ON BY WILSON.

In summoning Charles E. Hughes to act with Attorney General Gregory in the investigation of criminal charges made in connection with aircraft production, President Wilson has crossed the political line to bring to his aid one of the cleverest of public investigators.

Bringing to his assistance the man who opposed him for president in the last campaign, Wilson proves he is broad-gauged and, furthermore, that he aims to conceal nothing, but earnestly desires to know the whole truth and to take the American people into his confidence.

The authorizing of the investigation in itself points to a feeling of distrust. The administration evidently is greatly disturbed over the repeated charges of irregularities in the management of the aircraft campaign. Many of the most distinguished officers of the old regular army are involved, and their reputations are at stake. The making of a great air fleet was turned over to them as experts, which was the proper course to pursue, for neither the President nor Secretary Baker were expected to qualify as experts in airplanes, in guns, in ammunition, or any one of one hundred other lines of preparedness. Now an accounting is to be exacted and the public is to learn from a reliable source whether our old military establishment has been kept up to a high standard or has undergone the weakening of dry rot during long years of softening.

A WARNING FOR ALL THE WORLD.

Now and then a Russian community, under the constant lash of the German invaders, strikes back at its persecutors, but Russia as a whole is tamely yielding to the horrors of a satanic rule.

What is occurring in Russia is an object lesson for America. To begin with, Germany spoke of self-determination of peoples and freedom of action. The Brest-Litovsk conference was preceded by a declaration of that kind. When the terms were signed with Germany, the Russians had reason to expect an end of slaughter and an immediate attempt to eliminate the rain, and the storm of last night may save a large acreage where the wind and absence of rain have combined to almost destroy all prospect of the seed germinating.

Our farmers, if favored with good crops this season, will be able to perform the double duty of adding to the nation's food supply and lending greater sums to the government in the prosecution of the fight for liberty.

short lived, because some time in his life almost everyone has tuberculosis. This theory is based on a number of autopsies performed by a certain physician, which showed that between the ages of 18 and 30, 96 per cent of the cases bore evidence of tuberculosis.

INDICTED IN ARIZONA. Formerly, the tuberculosis patient was required to consume large quantities of milk and eggs, which proved valuable in increasing his weight. Now, many physicians are abandoning this expedient, believing that a long continued diet of eggs and milk is apt to make the patient bilious, and instead are prescribing drugs to stimulate the patient's appetite.
