DON'T BE ANTAGONISTIC

By DOROTHY DIX, the World's Highest Paid Woman Writer

One of the greatest mistakes that any human being can make is to adopt an antagonistic attitude towards life.

There are people who pride themselves on never being "one of the mob" as they express it. They never agree with anybody. To avoid an enthusiasm in their presence is to have them ridicule it. To express an opinion is to have them dissent it. To introduce any topic into a conversation when they are present is as good for a singer as a cake.

These misguided individuals think that by taking the opposite point of view they show how extremely clever, and original they are. They like to shock people, and they take a fiendish delight in trampling rough shod over the pet prejudices and faiths of others.

They scoff at religion in the presence of the devout. They revile their country to the patriotic. Let a foreigner be in the company, and they recall every unpleasant episode in the history of his nation. Speak of some statesman you revere, and they tear his reputation to tatters. Mention your favorite author, and they jeer at your taste. Tell of some great movement in which you are interested heart and soul, and they try to convince you that the whole thing is a combination of graft and politics, and that you are a brainless idiot who is being scientifically worked for the benefit of some profiteer.

Such people are about as agreeable to have about as an ice cold wet blanket. They can freeze conversation to death, and put an extinguisher upon all cheerfulness and good humor in about three minutes. Yet they wonder that they are not popular, and that no one pines for their society!

In spite of their flattering opinion of their own superior mentality, they have not intelligence enough to know that none of us like to have our opinions derided, our point of view made to look ridiculous, and that we do not adore the hand that tries to pull down our heroes and idols from their pedestals and lay them in the dust. On the contrary, we resent the desecration of our gods more than we would a personal insult.

None of us enjoy having our fur rubbed the wrong way. Therefore, when we seek our friends and companions, and those with whom we want to do business, we do not choose those who will muffle our tempers, and say things that annoy us. We pick out individuals who have a soothing touch, and with whom we can count on getting along without argument or friction.

People who adopt the antagonistic attitude towards life may be full of talent. They may have admirable qualities of character that we abstractly admire and esteem, but they

MUSTERING OUT MAY BE AT LOGAN

As the result of a conference held Saturday and summoned by Acting Governor Harden session, a movement is well under way to secure, if possible, the mustering out of the 145th field artillery, which is composed mainly of Utah boys, at the Utah Agricultural college.

The college facilities are adequate enough to accommodate 1900 men and citizens of the community will willingly care for others until their mustering out becomes effective.

There are 1700 men in the 145th field artillery and but three hundred of these were recruited in Utah, the remainder coming from California.

FRENCH COMMISSION

A French educational commission composed of Professor Theodore Reinlich, lieutenant colonel in the French army, Dr. Etienne Burnet of the Pasteur Institute, and M. Seymour de Ricci, art critic and editor, accompanied by M. Henry Pierre Roche, delegate of the French high commission from Washington, were guests at the local canteen for a short time Sunday.

MEMORIAL IS HELD FOR CAPTAIN LEWIS

SALT LAKE, Dec. 15—A memorial service was held at Phillips Congregational church last evening in honor of Captain Harold Lewis, adjutant, 175th field artillery, who died of pneumonia at base hospital No. 12, before St. Mihiel, France, on September 25.

Captain Lewis had been from childhood connected with Phillips church. At the service last evening special music was rendered by Professor Wylie Jones, who sang Abt's "Be Thou With Me," and Miss Ruth Treweek, who sang "The Singing in God's Acre."

Tributes to Captain Lewis were paid by Professor W. W. Barton, who was his teacher in grammar school; Professor George A. Eaton of East High, and Professor George C. Steiner of the university, as well as by his pastor, the Rev. P. A. Simpkin, who affixed the golden star to the service flag of the church.

A memorial tablet for Captain Lewis and Private Edward Crawford will be secured and set in the church in the new year.

of the balance of mankind? Surely to be dreaded, to be shunned, to be disliked is a high price to pay for the conceit we display in differing with the world, and that's what happens to the antagonistic.

WILSON RECEIVES PLAUDITS OF EUROPE WHILE MAKING PLANS FOR VISITS TO FRONT

PARIS, Dec. 15—Plans for the re-assembling of the inter-allied conference and the meetings of the peace congress are gradually being matured. It was the first intention to have the inter-allied conference meet tomorrow Tuesday, but owing to the inability of Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Minister Balfour to be here because of the British elections and the approaching holidays, the formal session will not be resumed until January 1.

Meanwhile President Wilson will have an opportunity to confer with the premiers and leading statesmen of the allies and to visit the battlefields and, perhaps, Italy. King Victor Emmanuel, the crown prince and Premier Orlando arrived in Paris Thursday. They will dine with the president some time this week.

The merits of the questions and consideration to come before the conference thus far have developed only in this initial phase, discussions of them having been more or less informal. For the American delegates, the chief object to be obtained during the next fortnight is a first-hand understanding of the views of the European statesmen and an opportunity to convey to them the American point of view.

PARIS, Dec. 15—The city probably was more brilliantly illuminated last night than ever before. Electrical devices erected in honor of President Wilson blazed in all parts of the capital. The words "Vive Wilson" outlined in electric lights were displayed at many vantage points while the coat of arms of the United States frequently was seen outlined in red, white and blue.

The exterior of the chamber of deputies was outlined in lights. The headquarters of the American peace delegation was lighted with a huge electric sign bearing the motto "E Pluribus Unum" the building occupied by the Red Cross was ablaze with lights and a huge electric sign stretching across the Rue Royale from the French naval building to the peace mission headquarters bore the slogan "Vive Wilson."

The immense searchlight on the Eiffel tower heretofore used in searching the sky for raiding aircraft, radiated over the city carrying a message of peace.

All public buildings and monuments were lighted brilliantly.

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 15—At a mass meeting of citizens today presided over by the mayor of Copenhagen, the following resolution was adopted:

"President Wilson, a great assembly of Danish men and women representing all classes of society, welcome you to Europe. They thank you for your work up to this time for a just and continual peace, they wish you luck in carrying out your program to secure peace and wish you luck in carrying out your program to secure order, liberty and progress in the world."

"As Danish citizens we greatly admire you because the realization of one of your principles—the right of free determination—shall reunite again all peoples, who are Danish."

PARIS, Dec. 15—Thousands of names already have been inscribed on great visitors' book in the entrance of the Murat mansion, President Wilson's temporary residence. Not only have world called and signed the book but also the leaders of society. The name of scarcely any prince, duke or marquis is absent. Side by side with the names of eminent men of science and art are the names of humbler persons. Among the names are those of Cardinal Amette, the archbishop of Paris, and the Japanese ambassador Keishiro Matsui.

MADRID, Dec. 15. (Havas)—All the newspapers here, regardless of opinions and sympathies welcome the arrival in Europe of President Wilson.

PARIS, Dec. 15. (Havas)—The Echo de Paris says that the French delegates to the peace conference will be Premier Clemenceau, Marshal Foch, Foreign Minister Pichon and Leon Bourgeois, former premier. It adds that Captain Andre Tardieu, head of the general commission for Franco-American war matters, probably may be named.

BERLIN, Dec. 15. (By the Associated Press)—Dispatches reporting the arrival of President Wilson in Paris are displayed prominently by the Berliner newspapers. The president's utterances are being scanned carefully. Newspapers which formerly were foremost in attacking the president's policies, now plead that they were deceived.

PARIS, Dec. 15—Premier Clemenceau arrived at the Murat residence at 6 o'clock this evening and was received immediately by President Wilson. The French leader went by automobile to the president's house, a half hour after Colonel E. M. House of the American mission had called upon him.

After conferring with Premier Clemenceau President Wilson had a long talk with Herbert C. Hoover, the American food administrator, who gave him the latest information on food conditions in Germany.

Tomorrow, some time before the public reception at the city hall, the president will receive Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador to Italy, who is expected to convey to him some kind of an informal invitation from the pope to visit the vatican.
