"The greatest undeveloped oil region in the world."—Dr. David T. Day, head of Petroleum Research, U. S. Bureau of Mines.

"J. D. Owen, petroleum engineer: "By my own observations and that of others who have been over the ground, the Uinta Basin in Utah is the greatest field in the west."

The Uinta Oil & Exploration company, pioneers of the field, own over 20,000 acres of oil gilsonite and oil shale land, the best and most carefully selected in the basin. Do you know that gilsonite contains 160 gallons of oil to the ton? We are completely equipped with everything we need and the largest oil rigs in the country. We expect a gusher any day. Don't hesitate. Buy stock today at 15c a share. Our holdings have been investigated by the Utah Securities Commission and authorized to sell one million shares of stock in the State of Utah. # POLICE MAKE A STATEMENT IN REGARD TO RIOTS WHICH OCCURRED IN LABOR TROUBLES

Official statements in the form of answers to the statement made by J. Phillip Bird, general manager of the National Association of Industrial Defense, at the Hotel Utah in Salt Lake, Wednesday evening, in regard to the Ogdén police chief were made public last night.

Commissioner of Public Safety Miles Jones received two signed statements from the police department, one from Chief Browning and the other from Sergeant of Police A. B. Jensen.

Mr. Bird hammered the work of the Ogdén police in the recent trouble here in which men were compelled to walk in the gutter and were in other ways humiliated. The government was also to blame, according to Bird's statement, as it should have seen that the men were transported to their destination without any harm whatsoever. The statement follows:

"Chief Browning made his statement in reply to a question as to what he had to say regarding the statements made by the speaker at the Salt Lake event:

Says Information Wrong.

"I have this to say. That I do not blame him, but I do blame the persons that gave him the wrong information. Some unscrupulous persons are spreading all kinds of reports about the police department. We have enemies that start these rumors to reflect on our work. I am glad to correct this rumor that is going around to the effect that Woodward said at the gas house, 'You are with us, Tommy,' and that I nodded my head, indicating that I was. That never happened. Woodward never made any such remarks to me and the whole story has been made up of whole cloth.

"On the afternoon of August 29th, the union men began to gather at the Union depot, as it was rumored that another carload of strike-breakers would arrive at 2:30 P. M. I took the matter up with the railroad people, and they assured me that no strike-breakers were coming, the car having been cut off at Cheyenne and that the Union Pacific had also refused to carry the strike-breakers over that road. Sergeant Jensen and I went to the depot and found a few hundred men waiting for the train. We talked to them and assured them that no strike-breakers were coming. I heard some one in the crowd say, 'Let's go to the gas house.' It will be remembered that the day before fifteen non-union men had gone out on a strike at that plant.

Gas Plant Affair.

"I gathered the officers and we went post-haste to that point and arrived three or four minutes before the arrival of men and sympathizers, in all about five hundred in number. Here there was no disturbance noticed. From the gas plant the crowd proceeded to the Ogdén Commission company, there was no disturbance at this point other than the crowd which followed in the street. The sidewalk was kept clear, while Mr. Woodward went in and asked the manager to sign the 'Fair List.' When I arrived at this place the doors were bolted, but I gained admittance and I saw Mr. Woodward talking with someone.

"I told the man who seemed to be in charge and to whom Mr. Woodward was speaking, that he did not have to sign anything unless he wished, and that he need not sign anything that he did not wish to. However, this man did sign, as did one of his drivers. As I had an appointment with the city commissioners at the city hall at this time, I left, placing Sergeant Jensen in charge.

"Sergeant Jensen's report gives the details of the other affairs."

The report of Sergeant Jensen, under date of Sept. 1, is as follows:

"M. L. Jones, Commissioner of Public Safety, Ogdén, Utah.

"T. E. Browning, Chief of Police.

"Dear Sirs:—Pursuant to your request that you be furnished with a detailed report of just what took place at the Union depot on the night of Aug. 28, I

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as a last resort' I told the crowd that I would see that the strike-breakers were taken care of. This was done, and as the men marched away the crowd tried to follow, but were prevented by our officers, who told them to remain back. The men stopped and put on their shoes when just a few yards from the crowd, after which they proceeded south. We left them at a point about Thirty-first and Lincoln avenue.

Returned to Ogdén.

"At this time there were nine men who had been singled out as strike-breakers and who were taken from the crowd. Next morning these men began filtering into the business sections of the city and were quickly surrounded by a crowd of several hundred. In each instance the crowd was quickly dispersed and the men gathered at the station for protection. Being desirous of going to Salt Lake City, where they said they would be able to obtain transportation arrangements were made and the men taken to Thirty-first street, where they were given the necessary transportation to Salt Lake City. The next day the employment agent from Salt Lake City called back to Ogdén and obtained all baggage and stated that he had made all arrangements to care for the men.

Says Police Praised.

"It might be of special interest to you to know that the strike-breakers individually and collectively were unanimous in the statement that they were given every protection by the police that could be given. As I understand it, they were given tickets at Chicago from that point to Ogdén and exchange tickets from this point to Los Angeles, so that when the Southern Pacific refused to carry them, they were within their rights, this was also held by the strike-breakers, who simply stated that the agent employing them at Chicago should see that they were returned, which was done. In conclusion, I will say, that all disturbance where our officers are called, they exercise their best judgment, and I believe should be complimented for doing so. In my personal experience with our officers, I find them energetic and fearless, but with all cool and collected in the face of danger. On this particular occasion, I believe that our men did their duty, and did it well. As it was, not a drop of blood was shed nor any property destroyed. At no time was life or limb in danger, for had such been the case, I am positive of the result, for our officers would have taken extreme measures, which in all probability would have resulted fatally for some one. I fully realize and sensed the situation and believed that good judgment and belief, and yet believe, that the hundreds of assembled laborers would not have countenanced interference at the hands of any one, or any body of men, without trouble and perhaps bloodshed. As I said previously, they had the marks of determination thoroughly stamped on their faces, but for all that we were there to perform our sworn duty and to protect to the extent of our lives, if needs be, the life and limb of any individual in jeopardy.

"The officers on duty and at the depot were A. B. Jensen, Detectives Noble and Patton, Officers Conroy and Sullivan and several railroad officers. Edward Butterfield, driver of police auto, was also present.

"Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) "A. B. JENSEN,
"Sergeant of Police."

Many Had Lanterns.

"To give an idea of the number of people present on the occasion, I will ask you to recall the occasions when our boys went to the various training camps during the war. The crowd was made up of laboring men, the greater part, I would say, had left their various places of work, some from the shops, etc. Hundreds of the men were there, dressed in their overalls, covered with grease and their faces and bare arms gave indication that their work was nearby. Dozens of railroad lanterns were visible, which indicated to me that the men there were perhaps switchmen or brakemen. The men had the look of determination on their faces, and what was said and done gave evidence of this fact. There was no violence shown anyone, at any time. Occasionally a person would be led off to one side as a strikebreaker, but, as I have already stated, no one was hurt, no blood was shed, nor was any property destroyed.

TIME LIMIT FOR LEAVING FIUME HAS EXPIRED

ROME, Sept. 19.—The time limit fixed by General Badoglio, deputy chief of staff, for the Italian troops that entered Fiume with Captain Gabriele d'Annunzio to return to their commands, expired last night.

There have been no advices from Fiume showing d'Annunzio still in control of the city. The food situation there is said to be serious.

There have been no advices as to the blockade of the place by Italian naval and military forces, but there are reports that Jugoslav troops are concentrating on the frontier between Fiume and the Hinterland.

According to the Messagero, an agreement between Premiers Lloyd George of Great Britain and Clemenceau of France and Foreign Minister Tittoni which will insure the Italian nationality of the town, but the assent of President Wilson to the plan is yet to be gained.

The inter-allied forces which had been in Fiume, are reported to be at Abbazia, about two miles northwest of the city, where they are awaiting instructions.

ROME, Sept. 19.—(Havas.)—The adoption of a firm policy by General Badoglio in dealing with the Fiume situation was endorsed by King Victor Emmanuel, before he left Rome on his mission. The king, however, while recommending firmness on the general's part, expressed the wish that there be no bloodshed.

John Fitzpatrick of Chicago, chairman of the national committee, is in Washington today making a report to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. It was learned that one of the things to be discussed there is a proposal to hold in Pittsburgh within the next two weeks a meeting of all the unions involved and the executive council of the federation.

Community Councils To Offer Services To the President

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Resolutions offering to President Wilson the services of community councils throughout the country for the national adoption by industry of the principles of collective bargaining, profit sharing and the right of workers to a voice in industrial management, were ready for submission to the councils today.

The program also includes suggestions for social insurance, embracing unemployment, sickness, old age, accident, maternity and widowhood insurance; government employment exchanges and co-operative buying and selling, tending toward the elimination of the middle man.

The offer, if approved by the councils, will be in the president's hands when his industrial conference opens in Washington, October 6.

BRITISH WOMEN COMING TO U. S. FOR HUSBANDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Five thousand well-to-do British women determined to obtain American husbands soon will arrive in the United States, according to a warning issued to bachelors today by Mrs. S. C. Seymour of Camden, N. J., who has just returned from Europe. Mrs. Seymour was employed by the military authorities to supervise the transportation of the war brides of American soldiers in different parts of Europe. She announced the matrimonial army of invasion had already applied for passports and would arrive as soon as the present restrictions are lifted, which is expected to be on October 1.

During her eight months abroad Mrs. Seymour arranged for the transportation of 3500 war brides and 257 children representing 22 nationalities. She said 490 additional brides are due

COLLECTOR ROBBED BY ARMED BANDITS

SALT LAKE, Sept. 19.—J. F. Squires, collector for the Continental Oil company stations in Salt Lake, was held up and robbed of about $300 at 9 o'clock last night on Third West street just below Second South.

Mr. Squires had completed his rounds of the stations in the city. Just as he left the station at Second West and South Temple and started south, two men, who were on the sidewalk, ran and jumped on the running board of his machine. At the point of a gun they commanded him to continue driving south. When near Second South one of them replaced Mr. Squires at the wheel and drove the machine to Third West just below Second South. Here they brought the car to a stop and robbed him of the satchel containing the money and commanded him to hand over the key to the machine. After warning him to stay in the car they disappeared.

Mr. Squires picked the lock of his machine and drove it to the police station, where he reported his loss.

Peace Problem Is Before Meeting of Bar Association

SALT LAKE, Sept. 19.—Apostle Stephen L. Richards, of the L. D. S. church, has returned from attending the annual convention of the Bar association held at Boston September 3 to 5. Apostle Richards said that after years problems confronting the nation formed the central theme at the convention. He said that among the subjects discussed were reconstruction work, Bolshevism and means for preserving law and order.

Apostle Richards says other Utahans present at the convention were Justice Valentine Gideon, Attorney General

Dan B. Shields, and W. I. Snyder, of Salt Lake; David Jensen and C. K. Hollingsworth of Ogdén.
