INJUNCTION NO LONGER HOLDS

Judge Maltbie's Order Against United Hatters of North America Is Dissolved.

COERCION HAD BEEN CHARGED

Complaint That Danbury Firm Had Been Prohibited From Completing Contract—News of General Interest to All Workers.

Judge Maltbie of the Connecticut superior court dissolved the injunction that he issued July 5 against Jeremiah Scully, John O'Hara and Royal Raymond, officers of the United Hatters of North America, and especially against Lodges 10 and 11 of Danbury, and Lodge 16 of Norwalk, against their boycott and interference with the R. & W. Hat Shop, Inc., of Norwalk.

The injunction was asked by the R. & W. Hat Shop on the ground of coercion by the United Hatters, it being contended that George McLachlan of Danbury was prohibited from completing his contract of furnishing hat bodies to the complainants.

GENERAL LABOR NOTES

In state workshops, railways, agricultural and industrial establishments in Peru a day's work is fixed at eight hours.

Street car service at Muskogee, Okla., which was resumed July 17, following a strike lasting several weeks, was discontinued when the car men declared a new strike.

An agricultural strike was declared in the region of Melun, about 25 miles southwest of Paris, France. The men demand wages of 13 francs a day, with double pay during harvest.

Seven organizers and officials of the American Federation of Labor were arrested at North Clairton, a suburb of Pittsburgh, for holding a meeting without a permit. They were released on bail for a hearing.

Without winning their demand for a closed shop the 1,800 employees of the Corn Products Refining company at Argo, Ill., are back at work. Neither hours nor wages figured in the strike and the men have been returning gradually. It is said.

The appointment of Miss Mary Anderson as director of the woman-industry service of the department of labor, announced by Secretary Wilson, brings a trade union woman for the first time into government office as a federal bureau chief.

More than 7,000 cigarmakers went on strike at Tampa, Fla., to enforce demands for a 25 per cent increase in wages. With strippers, packers and selectors out of work because of the cigarmakers' strike, 12,000 men were said to be idle.

The radio telegraphers were voted a $15 increase in wages a month by the American Steamship association. They were allowed a charge of $3 a day for subsistence while in port. The scale is to remain operative for a year. This brings the salary of the senior operators to $125 and junior operators to $100 a month and subsistence.

The Building Trades council of Atlanta, Ga., announces the consummation of an agreement with the Atlanta building contractors effecting a 44-hour working week for 7,000 mechanics in these trades, and by which it is agreed to work in harmony until May 1, 1920. The wage scale for the ensuing year gives bricklayers 75 cents an hour, beginning next fall.

At the semi-annual elections of the Toronto (Canada) District Labor council which have just taken place, the red element gained a sweeping victory over the moderates and captured all the offices. Mr. J. Munroe of the Machinists' union was elected president; John Cottam of the Carpenters' union, financial secretary, and Mr. A. W. Mance of the Typographical union, recording secretary.

Virtually capitulating to the demands of their 3,000 workers, who have been on strike for nearly eleven weeks, entailing a wage loss to the community of more than $200,000, the board of governors of the J. P. & C. K. Eagle, Inc. silk mills at Shamokin, Pa., at Trevorton and Kulpport, this afternoon announced the granting of the demands and calling for all employees to report for work.

In compliance with the demand made by 1,000 striking garment workers, nine firms of Toronto, Canada, have agreed to abolish the piecework system, but other important matters in dispute have not yet been settled owing to the refusal of the employers to negotiate. The business manager of the Garment Makers union says that the strikers have the support of the international union and that strike pay, ranging from $10 to $12 a week, began on Monday, July 1.

The movement which is taking place among the employees of the great London (Eng.) banks to organize on a large scale is steadily growing, and the number of clerks of all grades who have enrolled in one or other of the guilds now reaches several thousands.

Nine hundred shipbuilders, members of the international union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, went on strike at the Davis shipbuilding yards in Lazon and at the finishing plant in Louise Basin, Quebec, Canada. The strikers are demanding recognition of their union.

Marriage License—Leroy Richards, of Kallispell, Mont., and Bertha Lucille Kelly of Salt Lake, were granted a marriage license and were married at the clerk's office by Bishop Gilbert Thatcher.

FAMILY OF EIGHT IS FOUND IN DIRE DISTRESS

Six children, with mother and father, were found in a serious state at Sylvan park grounds yesterday by members of the Elks' lodge. The family, without food, shelter or the necessary clothing with which to keep warm, has been camping at the park grounds in a tent. With the sudden change in weather a few days ago, the distress of the family increased and was reported to the Elks' club.

E. H. Wiman, with his wife and children, came to Ogden from Cheyenne, Wyo., during the early part of last April. On April 15, Wiman was taken suddenly ill of influenza and was confined to his bed until July 15. From July 15 to July 27 he was attended by local physicians for gastritis and during the end of July was discharged from the hospital.

While in Wyoming, Wiman worked for the state highway commission and upon arrival here was employed by the Union Pacific as an instrument worker until he became ill. After departing from the hospital in July his condition became worse and he has been confined to his bed.

When investigated yesterday, the family was found in very poor circumstances. The children had absolutely nothing to eat and were in two very small tents. Beds were not in evidence. The members of the family, with the exception of the father, sleep on the ground. In one corner of the tent is a small two-baked cook stove. When visited the family was subsisting on whatever neighbors were kind enough to give.

The children range in age from 9 months to 12 years. They have no funds and local charity associations have been called upon to assist. Letters to relatives in various parts of the country have been sent, in which assistance in aiding the family is urged. The names of the relatives follow:

Nellie McGuffey, sister, Lawrence, Kan.; Mrs. J. E. Wiman, mother, Erie, Kan.; R. S. Wiman, brother, Erie, Kan.; Mrs. Ella Kinborough, Geneseo, Ida.; Mrs. Cary Crapson, sister, Erie, Kan.; and V. C. Hendricks, Green River, Wyo.

Yesterday afternoon a supply of groceries afforded the family relief for a few days, but shelter for the family has not been provided.

Eden Is to Have Its Own System of Waterworks

Articles of incorporation of the Eden Waterworks company, with a capital of $30,000, were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday. The officers of the company are:

Joseph Bachman, president; George F. Stallings, vice president; C. Alex Hogg, director, and Arthur M. Ferrin, secretary and treasurer. The company owns Burnett springs in the Eden district and is so incorporated that it can drill artesian wells and can operate waterworks of various kinds. The stockholders are land owners in the vicinity of Eden.

Some wonderful models of suits are being shown at Wolfers—the harmony of their lines, the grace of their design, the unusual richness of the fabrics, is so distinctive that they promise to be "sold out" in a very short time.

In our coat section, we have some beauties; they are in the much-wanted leather—just the thing for rainy days—velour, plush, fur, in fact in almost any coat-fabric you could want. Let us show them to you. We will be glad to have you come in, and you will be glad you came.

URGES STUDY OF PROBLEMS

Lecturer Pleads for General Education on Subjects That Directly Pertain to Labor.

"We must make it our business to get educated on subjects that pertain to labor. We must cultivate a new sense of personal loyalty. We must stand against conscription. We must stand against militarism. We must gain new sympathy for the men and women who live by the power of their arms," said Norman Thomas, in summing up some of the most important policies for a better, safer and happier world, at Earlham college, Richmond, Ind., before the final open lecture of the Young Friends conference.

"Instead of using a process of education and re-education in correcting the evils of the world, we put men in jail where they have plenty of opportunity to think up new evils," he said. "If you do not believe this, go to jail yourself and try it."

"I think we need an immense amount of sympathy with the laborer, and when we hear of a strike we should not jump quickly to denial of its rightfulness, but get the facts and think, think about the men and women who toil with their hands and their arms, and go and talk to the people in any party which you think will help you see things right."

Thomas treated with the methods of a social change he believes possible through other means than violence, to which he said he was opposed as a means to an end.

"I do not say that no good has ever come after war or other violence, but I do say that I think it more likely that it came in spite of the violence rather than because of it. Violence is a weapon, a tool, if you like. I do not think it has worked with the labor situation in America."

HEAD OF WORLD FEDERATION

William A. Appleton, British Labor Leader, First President of International Trade Union Federation.

W. A. Appleton, secretary of the General Federation of Trades Unions of Great Britain, is the new president of the International Trade Union Federation, which recently held its convention in Amsterdam, Holland. Appleton, who is called the Sam Gompers of England, was nominated for the international presidency by the American labor leader. His election indicates that the conservatives, headed by American and British representatives, controlled the convention.

The American Alliance for Labor and Democracy issued the following statement: "It will be gratifying news to the great body of constructive trade unionists in America that William A. Appleton has been elected president of the International Federation of Trade Unions at the congress in Amsterdam. Mr. Appleton has been for years secretary of the General Federation of Trade Unions in England. In 1917 he visited the United States as head of a delegation representing the General Federation of Trade Unions. More than any other European leader of labor, he thinks in accord with Samuel Gompers."

British Labor Legislation

To provide adequate living wages and to set a limit of 48 hours as a week's work is declared to be the purpose of two important bills which are being prepared for action in the British parliament.

These measures are understood to be the result of an agreement between representatives of employers, of trade unions and of the minister of labor, acting as a national industrial conference.

The wage bill as drawn up provides for an inquiry by a commission to decide what shall be the minimum wages for adults and for young persons the commission to consider the cost of living. It is also provided that the minimum wage shall be adequate to meet the increased living cost.

422,160 in German Mine Union

According to a report made to the twenty-first convention of the Mine Workers' union of Germany in Bielefeld and quoted in the Frankfurter Zeitung of June 19, the membership of that organization has risen from 101,986 before the outbreak of the world war to 422,160, after having fallen to 46,371 in 1915. The convention adopted a resolution demanding the liberation of all miners arrested during strike disturbances, except in cases where they had been guilty of crimes against life or property.

Textile Workers' Wages Advance

Textile wages in England are now from 110 to 120 per cent above the so-called standard, advances averaging 110 per cent having been obtained during the period of war. The president of the United Textile Factory Workers' Association of England is authority for these figures. Presumably they do not include the 25 per cent advance that has been offered to Lancashire cotton workers, provided they accept a forty-eight-hour week, as the statement was made public the latter part of May.—Textile World Journal.

Fewer British Unemployed

The pay roll of the unemployed, to whom the British government is making a weekly dole, has been reduced by about 500,000 names since May last, when the government drew its purse strings tighter. From November to May the weekly benefits were paid to about 1,250,000 persons. Payments are now being made to about 750,000.
