Moses Amendment To Peace Treaty is Rejected in Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The Moses amendment to the peace treaty, last of those proposed by the foreign relations committee, was rejected today by the senate. Like the Johnson amendment, defeated last week, it dealt with voting power in the league of nations.

The vote was 56 to 47. Of those supporting the Moses amendment, three were Democrats—Gore, Shields and Walsh, Massachusetts. Nine Republicans—Cott, Edger, Hale, Kellogg, Keyes, Lenroot, McNary, Nelson and Sterling—voted with the Democrats in opposition.

of money in salaries for inspectors who travel over the entire country giving their special attention to the smoke nuisance?

Mr. Young might be interested to know that such authorities as William Kent, Francis Peabody of the Bureau of Mines, University of Pennsylvania and others, state definitely, with acutal knowledge of the subject that a firm man who produces volumes of black smoke is an efficient worker. There are some businessmen in this city who will acknowledge that their coal bills have been reduced fifty per cent by employing firemen who fire their furnaces intelligently.

When Mr. Young asks what does a newspaper man know about smoke, questions his right to criticize railroad authorities and then suggests there are evils in addition to the smoke nuisance that need attention, he is only begging the question.

The fact remains that Ogden City has a smoke ordinance that for some reason has not been enforced. That ordinance has framed upon expert information that furnaces can be fired in such a manner as to produce little or no smoke. There are some smoke stacks in this city that are a credit to the men in charge of the furnaces; there are others that are a positive disgrace. The fault really lies with the city commissioners and this and other evils will continue to exist until the citizens arouse themselves and elect to office men who are endowed with sufficient moral courage to enable them to perform their duties.

I agree with Mr. Young that some of our streets are in a deplorable condition, but would remind him that upon every occasion when the city authorities suggest paying improvements loud protests come from property owners who can swear a blue streak because of the fact that their shoes and pants are soiled during wintry weather. How inconsistent.

Mr. Young is entirely wrong if he thinks a newspaperman is an ignorant and knows nothing apart from handing out papers to boys for distribution. Any man who has discharged the duties of a reporter for any length of time, will become well informed upon almost any subject. To be a keen observer is one of his qualifications. In fact newspaper men are educators and it is by reading what they write that the people at large, Mr. Young included, are receiving a liberal education.

AUTOMOBILE IS AID TO HEALTH.
Here is the latest prescription for physical exercise:
Take one automobile—fill it with gas and take a long, fast ride every day.

That motoring is one of the finest forms of exercise for the average man and woman of today is a somewhat startling hypothesis. Most persons do not consider the driving of a motor car in the light of exercise at all. But now the theory of the automobile as a healthful form of exercise is being advanced by physicians.

It is the muscles of the arms, together with those of the chest and abdomen, that pre-eminently and habitually suffer. Here is found undevelopment and flabbiness. And it is precisely here that the steering wheel of the automobile may come to the rescue.

The handling of the steering wheel and the operation of the gear shifts and brake levers give a mild but persistent action which involves practically all the muscles of the arms, chest and abdomen. By driving a car 40 or 50 miles over average American roads the arms and torso receive a course of purposeful calisthenics that strengthen the muscles, arteries, heart digestive apparatus and nervous system.

Combine this with the fact that the motorist has been out in the open air and you have a form of medicine that it hard to equal.

If you are in the market for hay, corn, oats, flour or potatoes get in touch with Mitchell-McPeck Produce Co., Room 503 Eccles Bldg. Phones—day, 176; night, 1654 or 1349.

MARRIED IN COLORADO.

From the La Junta (Colo.) Tribune is taken the following concerning a former Ogden editor and attorney: Judge Elmer Willis McDaniel and Miss Mildred Ann Field surprised their friends by slipping off to Pueblo last Saturday morning and being married at the home of an old-time friend, Judge Frank G. Mirick, the latter himself performing the ceremony.

"The home was decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers, and the trying of the matrimonial knot was witnessed by a few very intimate friends. Miss Sadie Detweiler of this city, a near friend of the bride, acted as bridesmaid.

"Judge McDaniel has been a resident of La Junta for nearly twenty years, having been an honored member of the bar since coming here, and has served as county judge for three terms, with Miss Field as his efficient clerk for the past nine years. He is a lawyer of high standing, progressive, and alert to the needs of the community, and one of La Junta's foremost citizens.

"During the recent war, Judge McDaniel had charge of the Four Minute speakers, and made many addresses in La Junta and other towns in the county in the interest of the government. He has superior ability as a platform speaker and takes an active and prominent part in all civic affairs. He has won for his bride one of La Junta's most splendid young women—one who is loved and admired by all who know her intimately, and one who is in every way worthy of her distinguished husband.

"Judge and Mrs. McDaniel will be at home for the present at 721 San Juan avenue. May countless blessings and abundant prosperity be theirs until the end of time, is the sincere wish of The Tribune."

Miss Florence Bohn and Dr. F. J. Drake Married At High Noon Today.

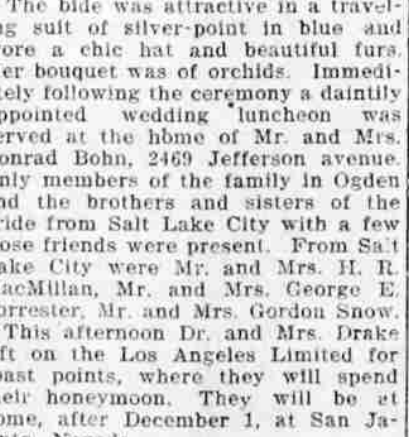

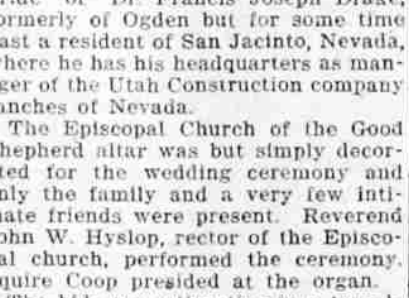

A quiet yet very impressive wedding ceremony and one of interest to a large number of Utahans as well as friends in the state of Nevada, occurred today at high noon, when Miss Florence Bohn of this city became the bride of Dr. Francis Joseph Drake, formerly of Ogden but for some time past a resident of San Jacinto, Nevada, where he has his headquarters as manager of the Utah Construction company ranches of Nevada.

The Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd altar was but simply decorated for the wedding ceremony and only the family and a very few intimate friends were present. Reverend John W. Hyslop, rector of the Episcopal church, performed the ceremony. Squire Coop presided at the organ.

The bride was attractive in a traveling suit of silver-point in blue and wore a chic hat and beautiful fur. Her bouquet was of orchids. Immediately following the ceremony a daintily appointed wedding luncheon was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Bohn, 2469 Jefferson avenue. Only members of the family in Ogden and the brothers and sisters of the bride from Salt Lake City with a few close friends were present. From Salt Lake City were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. MacMillan, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Forrester, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Snow.

This afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Drake left on the Los Angeles Limited for coast points, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will be at home, after December 1, at San Jacinto, Nevada.

Football Equipment Soars in Price

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—Varsity football equipment has soared in price during the past few years but tickets have remained almost the same, according to estimates made at the University of Washington here. In the old days of 1914 it cost the student body $14.88 to outfit a player. This year the uniform of the varsity players cost $29.48 each.

Shoes show the smallest percentage of advance, having gone up only 27 per cent. Belts display the highest, 200 per cent. Headgear has jumped 110 per cent, hose 129 per cent, jerseys 100 per cent and trousers 92 per cent.

Five years ago the student body paid $3.76 for a football. This year the pigskin cost the organization $6.

MAYOR ROLPH AND FICKERT SEEKING TO BE ELECTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—District Attorney Charles M. Fickert and Mayor James Rolph are carrying forward campaigns which they hope will result in their re-election at the general municipal election here November 4.

All the county supervisors, two police judges and other city officials are also standing for re-election.

Matthew Brady, who has been endorsed by the San Francisco Labor Council and the county Democratic committee, was said to be the leading candidate against Fickert for district attorney. Milton T. U'Ren withdrew from the race after it was too late to take his name from the official ballot. The other candidates are Daniel O'Connell, who was convicted in connection with alleged violation of war time laws, Gilbert D. Boat and Arthur M. DeVal.

Fickert has been the center of a bitter controversy here ever since his office handled the prosecution of Thomas J. Mooney, Warren Billings, and others for complicity in the preparedness day bomb explosion here in 1918. Recently he underwent a serious operation but this did not prevent him from entering the race for re-election. He has the endorsement of the Republican county committee and the civic league.

Eugene E. Schmitz, former mayor of San Francisco, who was convicted in the municipal graft case of 1907, is considered to be the leading candidate against Rolph for mayor. Schmitz, now a supervisor, stood out against a raise in the county tax rate and he advocated a liberal policy toward amusements.

Mayor Rolph is completing his second four-year term as mayor of San Francisco. He was a candidate for governor in the last state-wide primary election in California. Because his name has been mentioned as a candidate to succeed Senator James D. Phelan next year, some political writers here have held that the result of the 1919 mayoralty race may be of more than usual importance. Rolph has the endorsement of the San Francisco labor council.

At Weber Normal

At the regular devotional exercises this morning, Professor Aldous Dixon gave a talk on the standards of the school. Two of the rules of the school which are strictly enforced are as follows: A student must be a graduate from the eighth grade before entering Weber and, after entering, must absolutely refrain from using intoxicants or tobacco in any form, nor must they frequent pool halls or other places of ill-repute.

Yesterday, Juvenile Office Reese and Professor Dixon made the rounds of the pool halls, and among the several arrested, two were students of Weber. Professor Dixon declined to offer leniency and desired the boys to receive the full extent of the law.

The state law provides that no boy under 21 years of age be allowed to enter a pool hall, while the city law sets the age at over 18. It is to be decided shortly whether the boys of Ogden are to abide by the law of the state or that of the city.

Miss Ethel Rounds, a former student of Weber, splendidly rendered two vocal solos, "A Message" and "Sleep." Also Miss Catharine Cannon, a present student of Weber and a promising musician, played "Melody in F."

CHANCELLOR SEES NO CAUSE FOR ENGLISH PANIC

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking in the commons on the financial situation, said that there was every reason for caution, economy and wise husbandry of resources but none for panic. He hoped the house would not confuse hysteria with strength and announced that the position of the government was distinctly better than had been anticipated in August.

Taxes and revenue were coming in extraordinarily well and he no longer thought that new taxation would be required.

Mr. Chamberlain asserted that no single feature of the world situation had placed heavier burdens upon Great Britain than the fact that no treaty of peace with Turkey had been signed and no settlement in the east had been reached. For this, however, the government was in no way responsible.

He continued that it was not within the power of the British government to remedy the Turkish situation, which was an international affair. Everybody knew that a settlement was being delayed, pending a decision by the United States whether she would undertake her part of the white man's burden, and the execution of the tutelage of Turkey under the league of nations.

Mr. Chamberlain said that a general levy upon capital was out of the question. A levy upon war profits stood upon a different footing, but the difficulties of undertaking such a scheme of taxation were immense and the disadvantages outweighed the advantages.

Star Athlete

Wesley K. Jacques, stellar distance runner of the Utah Agricultural college at Logan, entered the six-mile cross country championship race from North Ogden to Lorin Farr park on November 11 today. Jacques is recognized as one of the classiest distance runners in the college class in the state and should be able to give the many veterans already entered a battle for first honors. He is a miler, half miler and a five-miler. In the six mile race he will be adding an additional mile to his total but nevertheless he should be one of the determining factors in the big race.

Jacques won both the mile and the half mile runs in college competition in the state meet at Provo last spring and is rated as one of the greatest middle distance stars in the state since the days of Nathan Tolman. His entry was received from Coach Lowell Romney of the Aggies today. Jacques is now in training for the big classic.

ALFRED GLADWELL MAKES REPLY ON SMOKE NUISANCE

Editor Ogden Standard: It might interest Mr. Young to know that I am better posted on the subject of the smoke nuisance than he is willing to admit. I have been deeply interested in the subject for the past two years and am not speaking upon the subject without some knowledge.

If I understand aright, every fireman on the railroads, whether stationary or locomotive, has instruction how to fire without producing smoke, so that he will produce more heat out of the coal consumed, and positions to higher offices are made on condition that the firemen produce no smoke, and thus securing higher efficiency. Now, Mr. Young, am I right or wrong?

Does Mr. Young forget that the railroad companies are spending vast sums
