

THE OUTBURST OF EVERET TRUE

NOW RAISES 600 CHICKENS

After Being Relieved of Organic Trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oregon, Ill.—'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me. I saw the Compound advertised in our paper, and tried it. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends.'—Mrs. D. M. ALTERS, R. R. 4, Oregon, Ill. Only women who have suffered the tortures of such troubles and have dragged along from day to day can realize the relief which this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, brought to Mrs. Alters. Women everywhere in Mrs. Alters' condition should profit by her recommendation, and if there are any complications write Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

BACK TO WORK. I am back from my vacation rested up and full of vim, back from weeks of recreation in the forest vast and dim; towering mountains I've ascended, hunting cougars to their lairs, and I found the fishing splendid, and I shot some grizzly bears. You poor dreary hum-drum critter, never moving from the grid, just sit down and hear me twister of the bull's time I had. Where the mount-brooks go sailing down the gorge, to the sea, I caught perch and trout, and grayling two feet long—some even three. And I shot golden eagle, that was roosting on a bill; such a bird is truly regal, and the shooting takes some skill. Here's its beak I hold before you I detached it from its mate; what, you say storken born? and you wish I'd close my trap? That's the way I'm always treated when I try to entertain; that's the way I'm always greeted by you stay-at-home insane. When I come back full of stories of the wondrous things I saw of the forest and its glories, I am asked to see my jaw. You know—that mmmmm flavor!

With fine tea an abundance of exquisite tea-flavor develops before the tannin begins to draw. In common tea the tea-taste hardly starts before the tannin comes along and smother it. Tannin, the rank harsh injurious—what people use to tan leather with. Try Schilling's. You'll never go back to common tea.

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon, India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In parchment-lined moisture-proof packages. 24 grocers everywhere. A Schilling & Co. San Francisco

By LEE PAPE. SWIMMING. Nothing is so useful to people in deep water as knowing how to swim. If a person is drowning no matter how many other things they know, unless they know how to swim they will keep on drowning. Many of the smart people have bin saved from drowning by ignorant people just because they didn't know how to swim and the ignorant people did. Keeping up in the water all depends on wat motions you make. Sometimes drowning people make more motions than any other kind, only they ain't the right kind of motions, many of them merely being motions for help. A person that don't know how to swim is just as anxious to stay on top of the water as anybody else, but that don't say he will. This proves that nollege is more powerful than hope. A good swimmer wouldn't care now awfen he fell in the water if it wasent for his clothes. Most people don't mind trying to swim in shallow water because it is a grate comfort to know you cent go down ferther than your neck if you go down. Many people who seem to be swimming in shallow water really have one foot on the bottom. This proves that appearances is deceeffill. Altho a persin can dive without knowing how to swim, they awnt to for their own safety. A diver who goes in jest rite without hardly making a hole gets the most enjoyment out of it, but one that goes
