RUSSELL JAMES CO.
24th St. at Lincoln Ave.

John Slater was fined $50 this morning in the city police court after being found guilty of allowing a stranger to leave a parcel in his place of business which contained intoxicating liquors. Slater, it is said, was unaware of the contents but, nevertheless, was fined $50 with the alternative sentence of fifty days in jail.

Bert Gray, charged with drunkenness and said to be the party who left the parcel in Slater's trust, forfeited $100 bail this morning when he failed to appear in the city court for trial.

SUGAR PRICES ARE FLUCTUATING

"What's the matter with the retail price of sugar? Everybody seems to be quoting different prices every day in the week," asserts Mr. James, of the Russell James company.

"Sugar today is selling for less money than it should. The jobbers are selling the retailers at different prices every day—and at prices they can ill afford, just because the jobbers are at loggerheads with each other," says Mr. James.

"The present price of sugar as regulated by the government, in Ogdens, should be $11.08 to the retail grocer, and then the government allows them $1 a bag additional for expenses in handling it. The grocers seldom if ever, make a margin of $1 a bag. Most of them prefer to sell at practically cost—as sugar is in such demand, so sugar is resold to the consumer at cost to the grocer plus handling charges. "Under present conditions, the dealer is allowed to buy only five sacks of sugar at a time from the jobber. This, of course, limits our service to the consumers, and in addition, the selling price to us has changed every day, so that our retail price, naturally has been $11.75, $11.25, $10.85, and $10.80. These are all prices of this week, and as long as the jobbers can afford to lose money on sugar, the retail prices will wobble around indefinitely."

GENERAL BLAMES MARCH

Chief Held Responsible for Execution of Four Men.

DENIES CLEMENCY

Former Judge Advocate Answers Samuel T. Onsell.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—General March, chief of staff, was held chiefly responsible by the senate military subcommittee today by Major-General Enoch H. Crowder, judge-advocate-general, for recommendations that four soldiers in France sentenced to death on conviction of sleeping on post or disobedience of orders be executed. All four were pardoned by President Wilson, but General Crowder declared General March had refused to concur in recommendations for clemency made by Secretary Baker and himself.

General Crowder was answering the charges made by Samuel T. Onsell, former judge-advocate-general, that "the whole military hierarchy entered into an agreement that these men should die." He denied having said that the war department should uphold General Pershing, who approved the sentences, "regardless of merit," but admitted having transmitted to General March a recommendation favoring execution of the sentences, subject to appeal to the president. General Crowder added he had sent to General March a note suggesting clemency.

Three state champions have already entered and fifteen other stars from various parts of the country have also entered. Coach Lowell Romney in a letter to the athletic committee for the celebration, today stated that the Utah Aggies would have at least three men in the races.

The athletic card will see some of the athletic talent in the west in harness and the thousands who attend the doings should have a real treat.

A REVIEW OF FEMININE, LOVELINESS AND LUXURY

BERT LYTELL IN "LOMBARDI, LTD."

In silken negligee and rainbow garments. A smart comedy of modes and models by Frederic and Fannie Hatton. A peep into perfumed studios where style is born. It is the story of an eccentric male modiste, a designer of gowns for the smart set of Fifth avenue. The atmosphere is one of artistic luxury. There are beautiful girls galore, and they wear models by Hickson, Tappe, Lucille and other New York dress-makers of smartness, besides creations especially imported from Paris.

Aside from the unique characterization of Tito Lombardi by handsome and ingratiating Bert Lytell, "LOMBARDI, LTD.," is in itself a criticism of what well dressed women are wearing and will wear. We trust you will not miss this opportunity to pass a most enjoyable afternoon or evening. It will prove greatly to your profit.

LAST TIME TODAY UTAH THEATRE

PRAISING LATADO MINING DISTRICT

That the Latado mining property, 15 miles east of Wendover, Nev., is a great property is the opinion of Andrew Kessler, who with five associates, all former employees of the Southern Pacific railroad, have holdings that bid fair to become producers of silver, lead, copper and gold ore. An assay of samples shows that the ore runs from 45 to 48 per cent silver, 26 to 28 per cent lead, 8 per cent copper and $2 worth of gold per ton.

The Ogdens men have been working on the property for seventeen months and have four carloads of ore sacked and on the dump, ready to be hauled to the railroad. A compressor, rock drill, 16-horsepower engine, tracks and ore cars. Enough interest in the property has been created to cause a party of Ogdens business men to make a "trip to the property next week."

Thought T. N. T. Meant Travel, Nigger, Travel

The daily news letter of the forest service carries an account of an instance where a negro was working on a forest service road project, "TNT" being used as the explosive employed in the work. After the firing of the first charge of explosive, it is said that the dusky workman became firmly convinced that the "TNT" meant "travel, nigger, travel."

THIS BELGIAN PRINCE SOME BOY

Cow Testing Pays

"COW testing associations in Wisconsin State last year proved that in the average herd of eighteen cows at least three of them were being milked, cared for and fed the entire year for the fun of it. Even in the best associations this ratio is true. How much worse would the situation be among the one million eight hundred thousand cows which are not and never have been under test. All the poor cows are not in a few herds by any means. For instance, in the Waukesha County association the herd having the lowest producing cow which produced $4.71 net profit also had a cow producing $90.61 profit and Waukesha thinks it is the hub of the cow universe," says Frank Baackes, V. P. Am. Steel & Wire Co.

"The time is at hand when it will be a crime in law as it is a crime in fact, to rob the soil, and the next big step forward would be the compulsory testing plan whereby no man will be allowed to waste his feed and time by feeding cows which will not produce quid pro quo. The most progressive farm bureaus now have cow testing associations. The tester carries a complete outfit with him and tests a different herd every day. There ought to be twenty-six herds in each association—one a day. Besides testing the milk of each cow, he makes a test of the skim milk and the cream. A great majority of farmers have never seen a Babcock tester in action.

"Why allow a 'three-tub' cow to take the room, labor and feed that could be used by a 'twenty-tub' cow? When dairying is conducted on business principles the whole family is interested. The boy gets the father to give him a heifer calf and becomes a business man on the spot.

"The reason why a milk price cannot be determined upon is that the ignorant man wants the public to pay him for his shiftlessness and failures. Dairying is a business like any other business and a good dairy will always pay a profit."

HOOVER DECLARES U. S. MUST GET CUBAN SUGAR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Mr. Hoover appeared before the committee in connection with an inquiry into the sale of 22,000,000 pounds of army sugar to France.

"Sugar consumption in the United States has increased apparently because the country has gone dry," said Mr. Hoover. "The present consumption of 93 pounds per capita a year is the greatest in the history of the country," he said. "Last year's consumption being 73 pounds, the previous high consumption being 83 pounds.

"The shortage is not large. The equalization board has stated that for November and December the consumption will be larger than in past years, but that the increased consumption leaves a minor shortage. To meet all demands we will have to get more than half of the Cuban crop."

Mr. Hoover told of disagreements among advisers of the administration as to whether government control of sugar should be continued and said no agreement had yet been reached.

More Food Necessary.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Sixteen to twenty million tons of food more than necessary for American consumption will be the yield from this year's crop, Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, told a house war investigating
