RAFFLES TO HIT THIS CITY SOON; PEOPLE WARNED

Noted. Amateur Crackman Expected Here Sunday; Thrills Promised Ogden Folk.

"Raffles," with John Barrymore in the title role, is the offering at the Orpheum three days beginning Sunday. A play that is setting the country wild with its thrilling incidents. A world-wide scene of adventure. A chase across two continents. A love theme so intense as to cause a gasp. The women, in all his gentlemanly crookedness, simply adore him. The men count upon him as a "pal." But it is a woman who almost places him behind prison bars. He is such a boy, such a lovable fellow, though, that even this woman's jealous attempts to thwart him fail. You are glad, for some inexplicable reason, that he escapes. You don't know why you love him, but you do. You leave the theatre in a glow and figure to yourself, "What would I do in Raffles' case?" You witness the fact that he would sacrifice himself for a friend and you cannot understand such complexity of nature. He binds you to him with his magnetism. He holds you with affection. He steals from you, if you are rich, and gives to you if you are poor. Raffles will be seen at the Orpheum, starting Sunday.—Adv.

FARMER GIVES PRICE HE IS PAID FOR HIS MILK

Editor Standard: Herewith are some figures which no doubt will be of interest to the public: For the month of October the butter manufacturers at the skimming station paid 69 cents per pound for butter fat, which would be as follows for 101 pounds of milk testing 3.5 per cent butter fat:

100 pounds of milk testing 3.5 per cent equals 3.5 times 69c or $2.41—the amount the farmer received for his milk. From this was made 4 1/4 pounds of butter, which retailed at 70 cents per pound, being 1 1/4 times 70c or $2.98. Of the dollar spent by the consumer for butter, the farmer received 81 cents.

For the same month, the cheese manufacturer paid for 100 pounds of milk testing 3.5 per cent butter fat 70 cents per pound for butter fat, as follows:

For 100 pounds of milk testing 3.5 per cent equals 3.5 times 70c or $2.45—the amount the farmer received from the cheese manufacturer. From this was made 9.9 pounds of cheese, which retailed at 38 cents per pound, being 9.9 times 38c or $3.76. Of the dollar spent by the consumer for cheese, the farmer received 65 cents.

The average price paid for 100 pounds of milk testing 3.5 per cent butter fat, would be $2.98 for the butter, and $3.76 for the cheese. Added together, $2.98 plus $3.76 equals $6.74, divided by 2 equals $3.36, and the farmer received 73 cents out of the dollar spent by the consumer for butter and cheese. The average price for 100 pounds of milk testing 3.5 per cent butter fat, figured at butter and cheese prices, would be $3.36 retail, plus 31 cents (being one-half of his value of the skimmed milk figured at 50 cents per 100 pounds and of the whey at 12 cents per 100 pounds, which are returned to the farmer by the manufacturer), $3.36 plus 31c equals $3.67. This 100 pounds of milk is equal to 11 gallons, 2 quarts and 1 pint, figured at 8.6 pounds per gallon. This would be 32 cents per gallon retail, and the farmer still receives 73 cents of the consumer's dollar spent for market milk, and the distributor would receive the same profit as the butter and cheese men.

But I am informed by a milk producer that he receives 27 cents per gallon for his milk and no definite butter fat test was required. This milk was retailed at 35 cents per quart. Is that not the Ogden price for a single quart, retail? It would figure like this: One gallon costs 37 cents and retailed at 15 times 4 equals 60 cents. And the farmer would receive only 40 cents of the consumer's dollar spent for market milk.

Who is holding up the consumer when he buys market milk? All of the above prices are determined and offered by the several buyers, and not by the farmer. To whom should the farmer sell the milk? (Signed) PHIL ORTH, Huntsville, Dec. 1, 1919.

JENKINS HELD LEGALLY SAYS MEXICAN WIRE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The Mexican embassy made public last night a dispatch from Hilario Medina, sub-secretary of regulation affairs, reiterating that American Consul Agent Jenkins under arrest at Puebla, was not exempt from jurisdiction of Mexican courts because of his official position.

The message from Medina follows: "For your information and publication, I quote the statement issued to the press: 'I deem it convenient to make public that Mr. Jenkins, consular agent of the United States in the city of Puebla, Mexico, is not exempt from the jurisdiction of the Mexican courts, as the fact of being a consular agent does not confer immunity upon him.' As a general rule, the consuls do not enjoy any more immunities than those provided in the treaties or those granted them by the laws of the country in which they perform their duties. The treaty of amity and commerce concluded with the United States on February 2, 1848, contains no provision in this regard, but declares in force the provisions of the treaty of amity and commerce concluded with that power in April, 1831, which, not having been denounced by either of the parties, must be regarded as being still in force. This latter treaty, in its articles 27, 28 and 29 which provide the establishment of consular agents do not stipulate any immunity in their favor. In article 31, it is agreed that as soon hereafter as circumstances will permit, to form a consular convention, which shall declare specially the powers of immunities of the consuls and vice consuls of the respective parties."

"This consular convention has not been carried out, and therefore, there is no special agreement by which the consular agents of the United States may enjoy immunity in Mexico."

ROME, Wednesday, Dec. 3.— Announcement that the general strike in Italy would terminate at midnight Wednesday, was received with relief by everybody throughout the country, including many workmen, who admit they struck only in obedience to orders.

The order for the cessation of the strike, which was issued by the direction of the Socialist party and the General Federation of Labor, declares among other things:

"We never more will tolerate in the slightest degree a violation of the right of representation, or the liberty of thought, and are ready to take measures which will be sufficiently efficacious to check everywhere every reactionary desire of the professional militarists."

BUREAU URGED FOR EMPLOYEES AND WORKERS

Real Collective Bargaining Is Held Impossible Under Present Conditions.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Creation of a bureau of research by employers and employees to bring about a condition of "real" collective bargaining was advocated at today's session of the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers which was devoted to discussion of industrial unrest.

The suggestion was made by A. L. De Leeuw, of New York, a consulting engineer, who confined his paper to consideration of wage payment.

Collective bargaining, according to Mr. De Leeuw, is a misleading term. He asserted that "under the present conditions there can be no bargaining" for "the issue has been brought to a conclusion by strikes or threats of strikes." This, continued the speaker, is no more than a method of bargaining than when a man points a gun at his debtor to collect a bill.

Asserting that the difficulty in paying labor is to find a unit of measurement, Mr. De Leeuw said that "we must drop to a large extent that wage is a large compensation for time," and declared "it should be made a compensation for product delivered."

He closed by urging more concerted effort by employers and employees to bring about a classification of labor so that wages can be set to such a degree of scientific accuracy that variations caused by disturbing facts will not be so large, but that they will lend them selves to compromise.

Norwegian Devises Water and Electric System For Palestine

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 4.—A Norwegian engineer has devised a plan to provide water and electric power for Palestine at an initial cost of $40,000,000. Albert Hjørth, of this city, proposes to utilize the variation of the level between the Mediterranean and the Dead Sea and, by means of a tunnel for water, to provide electric power to be used for pumping stations, irrigation and general purposes.

Mr. Hjørth proposes to dig a tunnel 27 miles long, from the Mediterranean to the Dead Sea, passing under Jerusalem. This tunnel would carry water from the Mediterranean to the western slopes of the lower end of the Jordan valley. Thence the water would pass through pipes down to the Dead Sea, where a power plant would transform the water power into electricity, to be distributed as light and power throughout the country. This power would be used to drive a pumping station at the southern end of the Sea of Galilee (Lake Gennesaret). The surface of the Dead sea is about 1,300 feet below sea level; that of the Sea of Galilee 650 feet below sea level.

Preliminary estimates, Mr. Hjørth states, show that tens of thousands of horse-power might be developed in this way by means of a tunnel carrying 20 tons of water per second. He estimates the rise of the Dead Sea caused by this at not more than part a yard per year. The surface of the sea which is now about 4,500 square miles.

Two canals would be built running parallel with the river Jordan and from these canals water could be distributed among the fields sloping toward the Jordan sufficient, it is claimed, for the irrigation of many hundreds of thousands of acres.

Mr. Hjørth claims it would be no more difficult to build this tunnel than the proposed railway tunnel under the English Channel and estimates the cost of a Dead Sea tunnel (double) with a minimum area of 135 square feet at $10,000,000, to which must be added the cost of the power plants, factories, canals and irrigation works. It is pointed out that the estimated cost involved in this plan does not compare unfavorably with the irrigation works constructed in Asia and in America during the past decade.

Mr. Hjørth's plans have met with great sympathy among leading scientific authorities and practical engineers in Norway. It is proposed to send out a Norwegian technic-scientific expedition, which, with the anticipated support of the governments of the great powers interested, will proceed to Palestine and make a year's thorough investigation of all the conditions relative to the realization of this project—topographical, hydrological, technical, geological, hygienic, etc. It is seriously to be contemplated that the sources of Norway will no suffice although the aid of international capital will be invited.
