ALLEGED LEAK IS PROBED

Decisions of Supreme Court Known in Advance on Wall Street

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Evidence gathered by the department of justice relative to the alleged leak in decisions of the United States supreme court will be submitted to a federal grand jury in January, it was announced today at the department of justice.

The government's case is practically complete, officials said. The nature of evidence obtained was not disclosed except that officials predicted it would be "conclusive." Charges that there had been advance information on the decisions of the court in the Southern Pacific oil land case and the prohibition cases through which certain men made large sums in Wall street, have been under investigation by the department for two weeks.

HARRY T. MOREY VITAGRAPH STAR

When not at work on a "set," Harry T. Morey is to be found in No. 10. This is not a cell, but a dressing room of famous associations at the Vitagraph studio in Brooklyn, N. Y. It is the club room where gather the actors and directors for strictly masculine meetings. Before the day when each star had a room or suite of rooms with his name engraved on the door plate, Mr. Morey and Earle Williams shared No. 10. When Mr. Williams moved into new quarters, Morey, being a convivial sort, invited in such companionable "bunkies" as James Lackaye, Gladden James, Leo Delaney and Bill Dunn, who at various times were star visitors at the studio.

The walls of No. 10 resemble a genial combination of art museum and rogues' gallery. They are hung with pictures of Morey in the various characters he has played, ranging from a policeman, his first role, to the crook, Jos. Garson, of "Within the Law." A new character has been contributed to the gallery recently, that of the high financier, Wilbur Emerson, of "The Gamblers." This famous Charles Klein drama offers excellent opportunity for the vital personality of Morey, who constantly has been associated with vigorous characters during his ten years as a captain of dramatic industry.

From the Wall Street region of "The Gamblers" he will turn his activities to a lumber camp in "The Darkest Hour," an original story which he has selected for his next production.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR YOUNG FUNERAL ARE CHANGED

SALT LAKE, Dec. 30.—Lowered into the grave with the gathering of the shadows of the last day of the old year, the body of Richard W. Young will be interred in City cemetery late tomorrow, when, after three volleys from a battery of field artillery, the clear notes of "taps" will sound out over the final resting place of Utah's beloved "soldier-son."

Although the funeral services were originally announced for 2 o'clock Thursday, a change was effected through President Heber J. Grant of the L. D. S. church and members of the family, circumstances having arisen which obviated delay. Wires were received from the general's son and daughter in Washington, D. C., in which they stated it would be impossible for them to reach the city in time, even for the Thursday services scheduled. In view of Thursday being a holiday, the change was thus deemed advisable.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock, the band will be the one which General Young himself organized with the 145th Field artillery.

Colonel Gyram, who at West Point was in a cadet company commanded by General Young, will be in attendance. Four separate groups of war veterans will walk in the procession, first in line of march, veterans of the 65th Field artillery brigade, headquarters detachment led by Field Clerk Paul Talmadge, the veterans of the Spanish-American war, led by Gen. E. A. Wedgwood; men of the American Legion, John Holden, secretary; members of the 145th Field artillery, led by Lieut. Col. E. LeRoy Bourne. These groups, following the band, will constitute the military mourners. They will form at the north gate of the Temple grounds shortly before 2 o'clock, marching into the Mormon Tabernacle through the north doors.

Program is Announced. While the pallbearers and the band will be in uniform, uniforms will be optional among the mourners. The program of the service is as follows: President Heber J. Grant presiding. Opening hymn, "Farewell All Earthly Honors," by Tabernacle choir with ward choir from Ensign stake associated, under the leadership of Prof. A. C. Lund. Opening prayer by Elder O. F. Whitney. Selection by Eighteenth ward quartette, consisting of George D. Pyper, H. G. Whitney and John D. Spencer. Tribute on behalf of the State Bar association by W. W. Ray. Tribute on behalf of the Ensign stake by President John M. Knight. Solo by Emma Lucy Gates. Remarks by President Heber J. Grant. Remarks by Elder Melvin J. Ballard. "Rest, Rest for the Weary Soul," by the choir. Benediction by Bishop George Romney.

Comiskey Offers $10,000 For Proof of Team Dishonesty

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—President Comiskey of the Chicago American League club today reiterated his offer of $10,000 for direct information proving his dishonesty of any member of his team after an investigation of rumors that White Sox players in agreement with a St. Louis gambling syndicate "threw" games during the 1919 season and during the world's series.

Secretary Harry Grabner announced that no evidence to support the charge had been produced.

Didn't Relish Two Years of Starvation

"I have delayed writing to see if my relief was permanent; can say that I am feeling fine. Three doctors told me I had ulcers of the stomach and no medicine would help me, but your May's Wonderful Remedy has done so. I am now a well man again after two years of starvation and suffering." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. # Chaney Outfights Johnny Kilbane At Jersey City

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Dec. 29.—Young Chaney of Baltimore, outfought and outpointed Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, in an eight-round bout tonight, in the opinion of a majority of the New York morning newspapers.

Chaney weighed 122 pounds and the champion 125. The Baltimore boxer took the aggressive at the start and, although not as clever as Kilbane, often sent in blows so fast that the titleholder was frequently forced to clinch. Chaney took the first, third, fourth and seventh rounds, and Kilbane the second and eighth. The fifth and sixth were even.

The best blow Kilbane landed was in the second round, when he placed a right smash to the left eye. In the last round, Kilbane tried to score a knockout but Chaney fought back hard. Jeff Smith, of Bayonne, knocked out Jack Coyne, of Orange, N. J., in the second round.

Kerensky Working In London Beanery

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Alexander Kerensky, successor to the czar as ruler of Russia, is now working in a "beef and beanery" in London, according to Gregory Zilboorg, who says he was Kerensky's secretary of labor and who spoke tonight at the inter-collegiate Socialist convention. "The poor fellow is down at the beef," he added. "He is in the same boat as I am."

HARVARD FAVORITE OVER OREGON IN 1919 GRIDIRON CLASSIC SET FOR PASADENA

PASADENA, Dec. 29.—Jack Dempsey, Salt Lake's world heavyweight champion, attired in moleskins, has been selected to referee the classic between Harvard and Oregon in the 1919 gridiron classic here Thursday; that is, Jack will be present with a number of other stars to add to the excitement and to engage in a sparring exhibition with the referee. The Harvard team has just finished a visit to the studio where the champion has been shooting pictures. Both the grid stars and the referee expert cavorted on the lot before the camera.

Harvard is slightly favored in eleven-hour betting. The scene of the New Year's battle is one of sunshine, moonshine, and the ticket speculators with more nerve than Jesse James. The only difference is that the latter made a horse while speculators getting high as sixty dollars for a three-dollar place to squat charge the highways in passion-hued roadsters. At that, to get a ticket you have to be combination of a sleuth and porch-lumbar.

But with both teams having completed heavy training, nothing but complete rest now can fill the interim. Sport experts are not attempting openly to pick the winners, the merits of the two teams being discussed only in connection with their respective showings of the past season. Oregon, even though a Pacific coast conference team, is somewhat of a dark horse. Secret practice has been strictly maintained, not even the festive sport writers being allowed within the gridiron portals.

Harvard has resorted to this only when trying out trick plays. On other occasions passes have been issued to newspaper men.

Head of German Delegation Calls On French Secretary

PARIS, Dec. 30.—Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delegation at Versailles, called on Paul Dutaast, secretary of the peace conference. Great reserve was maintained and it is only known that von Lersner did not bring the German reply to the last note to the Berlin government from the allies.

It is understood that German is inclined to sign the protocol to the peace treaty on condition that guarantees are given regarding possible reductions as to the quantity of harbor or dock materials to be handed over in compensation for German warships sunk at Scapa Flow.

Shock Absorbers For False Teeth

Cleveland, O., Nov. 3rd.—Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore shock absorbers, non-skid tires, rubber heels, and such-like things have supposedly been limited in their application but now a chemical concern in Cleveland is advertising a powder which, sprinkled upon "store teeth," is supposed to form a smooth cushion, hold them firmly in place, and give a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest roasting ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

It is comforting for one who has lost his natural teeth to supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive powder—Corega—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, crack nuts and do other hazardous things without risk of shaking his prized "store teeth" from their upper and lower berths.
