THE WHOLE WORLD IS WRESTLING.

Several hundred persons watched a wrestling match here Thursday night. They observed that for nearly every "hold" obtained by one grappler there was a counter move or "break" used by the opponent.

Life is replete with just such "holds" and "breaks." Life might be considered a big wrestling match.

When the employer got a tight hold on the worker the union came into effect as the break. Now there seems to be a movement for the organization of all employers into one powerful unit to combat labor.

There is something open, frank, and above board about men who are active in the stock raising industry. They have that out-of-doors appearance of good health and vigor.

This was Ogden's first "annual" stock show. That word "annual" sounds well. For it indicates that the stock show is going to be a regular feature.

One is struck by the great number of bank robberies that are successfully carried off by thieves who use the automobile in which to make their quick getaway.

Germany thought she had a strangle hold on the allies when the first tanks of poison gas were let loose, but before 24 hours had passed brainy men were devising the mask which was to break this fearful hold.

OGDEN'S FIRST STOCK SHOW.

The stock show is a great success and we wish to thank those progressive Ogden citizens who planned the

RETRACTION

In the issue of Tuesday, The Standard printed a paid advertisement inserted by one, Mrs. H. Worthman in which she said Mrs. Worthman charged a young Ogden woman with improprieties and indiscretion.

The Standard has found nothing upon which the charges made by Mrs. Worthman could be based and so is happy to take this opportunity to publish this statement to undo the injury that has been done the young woman mentioned in Mrs. Worthman's published notice.

The article slipped through the business office through inadvertence and The Standard is sorry that the mistake occurred.

We feel that the nature of this article was such that those who read it were not influenced and that the explanation given here concludes an unfortunate occurrence.

show and carried it out in such a successful manner.

Ogden has been an important livestock center for a long time, but few, outside of those who have business dealings that concern the stockyards, knew just how big this industry was. The stock show not only made known to the people of the west that Ogden was in the business good and strong, but it opened the eyes of hundreds of Ogden residents.

Despite all the newspaper articles that have been written about activity over the viaduct, there were hundreds of Ogdenites who had never crossed that long bridge until the attractions of the stock show pulled them over. Their eyes are opened and they will be more proud of their city.

We like the type of visitor that has been drawn to Ogden by the show. There is something open, frank, and above board about men who are active in the stock raising industry. They have that out-of-doors appearance of good health and vigor. They are democratic and sociable. We should be happy if a few more would decide to make Ogden their home.

This was Ogden's first "annual" stock show. That word "annual" sounds well. For it indicates that the stock show is going to be a regular feature. And if the men behind the movement can make such a success of the first show we know that in a year or two the local stock show will draw from the farthest corners of the nation.

WHAT ABOUT MR. BRYAN?

Newspaper paragraphers a few weeks ago were inquiring "What has happened to Bryan?" A little later they began asking "Can Bryan Come Back?"

To this last question we say, "Yes." The surprise he sprung at the Jackson day dinner has brought him back. No matter whether he is right or wrong in disagreeing with President Wilson he has jumped into a prominent position in the ranks of the Democratic party. From being a private in the ranks of the party he has become overnight a standard bearer, again. Once more he is pointing out a path for the Democrats to follow.

It is too early to predict how many Democrats will come to Mr. Bryan's way of thinking. The news stories of the dinner party said sentiment seemed to be about equally divided and party leaders are waiting to see what the rank and file think about the matter. The party leaders want to know whether the Democratic voters want the peace treaty submitted to the nation's voters as the big issue of the 1920 campaign, as President Wilson recommends, or whether the Democratic congressmen should yield to the Republicans and accept what changes the controlling party desires to make in the treaty.

Bryan let the hint fall that he was not speaking as a prospective candidate for the presidency, but we are strongly inclined to the belief that when the delegates gather at San Francisco next summer Bryan will be among those nominated.

Bryan holds a warm place in the hearts of Democrats and there are surprisingly few who speak ill of him. His eloquence makes him a popular campaigner and he could make a whirlwind "swing around the circle." With his record for honest statesmanship the Democrats could do much worse than nominate Bryan to battle for the presidency against the Republican candidate.

ART AND POPULAR TASTE.

E. W. Howe in his monthly criticisms those persons who spend huge sums supporting symphony orchestras and grand opera and declares that if half the money spent for such purposes was spent to send a good brass band over the country giving concerts, everybody would be much happier.

We have no objection to the brass band. Bands make good music but if Howe's logic was followed along other lines we should find ourselves in a bad way. For instance we might urge that artists confine their efforts to the comic supplements since more people seem to enjoy them than real art. Or we might encourage the writing of trashy novels since more people read trash than good works.

Anybody who spends time and effort to encourage the finer things is to be commended, not criticized.

JOKE OF THE DAY.

We happened to run across this in an eastern exchange and think it is worth passing on:

"Say, Bill, you know de diffrence between a prophet and a profiteer?"

"No, Sam."

"Well, when a prophet says de world was goin' to end last Thursday at lunch time he didn't know what he was talkin' about, but when a profiteer says soap, sugar and shoes will be higher next week he knows what he's talkin' about."

Record Sale of Hogs at Average $1,554 Each

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A record sale of thoroughbred hogs was made when 26 Poland China sows were auctioned for $55,975, an average of $1,554.84 each, at the farm near Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, of William Wrigley, Jr., who took 298 stock raisers as his guests on a special train from Chicago. The buyers were taken in motor cars and the sows from the train to the farm where the sale was held in a steam heater pavilion. Afterward a turkey dinner was served.

Ernest Melberg, of Norway, Iowa, paid highest price, $4,000 for a sow, Grover Sampson of St. Joseph, Mich., paid $3,700. An offer of $50,000 was made, but refused, for a prize boar for which Mr. Wrigley paid $15,000.

Idaho Range Horses Starving to Death

SALMON, Idaho, Jan. 10.—Scarcity, or absolute want, of hay is causing neglect of horses all over Lempi county and many of the range horses, usually pastured or fed during the winter, are starving to death. Even stockmen having hay feel that they cannot afford to feed the horses, and nobody is willing to take them for the price of the feed bill. Numbers of the suffering animals have strayed into town, where they have pawed up lawns in search of food.

Astor Property to Be Sold Off at Auction

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Tracts of property in the heart of New York City valued at six million dollars, which the late Henry Astor inherited from his grandfather, John Jacob Astor, who bought the land in 1797, for $25,000, will be sold at public auction next March, it became known tonight. Trustees of the estate decided shortly after Henry Astor's death in 1918 to dispose of his realty interests.

Henry Astor was the forgotten son of William B. Astor, who cut him off in 1871 for marrying Malverina Rinehart, daughter of the gardener on his father's estate near Rhinebeck, N. Y. It is estimated he lost $25,000,000 by the disapproved marriage. After suffering the ostracism of the family, he bought a farm at Copake, Columbia county, and lived there in obscurity with his wife until his death. During the years he lived as a recluse the valuable New York City real estate was held in trust.

The land was the Eden farm when it was bought by the founder of the Astor fortunes and on it now stand theaters, private dwellings, factories and tenement houses.

DANCE TO BE HELD BERTHANA TONIGHT

Manager Goss Preparing to Entertain Stockmen on the Last Day of Show

The regular Saturday night dance will be held at the Berthana tonight and Manager J. F. Goss is preparing to entertain visiting stockmen, their wives, sons and daughters. The Berthana is known over the western country as one of the most beautiful dance halls of the country and doubtless many of the younger stockmen and their sweethearts will take advantage of this last opportunity to spend an evening at the famous dance palace.—Adv.

FAMOUS BARS SOLD SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Eleven years ago J. J. Wilson, proprietor of the once famous Nevada cafe at Kearny and Post streets here, paid $25,000 for the handsome bar and back bar of his establishment. The other day it was sold at auction for $165. Similarly the bar of the old Richelleu, Kearney, Geary and Market streets was auctioned recently for $210. It cost $6,000. Other sales of bars here are reported, the $16,000 mahogany of the College Inn bringing $315 and the $2,500 bar of the Odson cafe bringing $200.

HAIG FOR HISTORIC POST. LONDON, Jan. 9.—Rumor has it that Field Marshal Earl Haig will be appointed to the decorative post of "Constable of the Tower of London" which has become vacant through the death of Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood. This position dates from the days when the Tower was a residence of the kings of England. The uniform worn by the constable on state occasions is one of the most magnificent and showy in the kingdom.
