RAIN, MUD TIES UP INTERURBAN

Washout on Bamberger Line Blocks Service Until 10 O'clock This Morning

Heavy rains which assumed proportions of miniature cloudbursts, delayed Bamberger trains between Ogden and Salt Lake this morning for two hours and twenty minutes, according to reports from the local office.

Between Salt Lake and Bountiful mud was washed from the hillsides to the track. Although the debris was not deep on the track, it was extensive, covering more than a mile of track.

A large gang of men was set to work early this morning, but did not succeed in clearing the track until after 7:30 o'clock.

Because of the large amount of moisture in the mud which covered the tracks, workmen experienced difficulty in clearing the obstruction away, fresh mud seeping in nearly as fast as it could be removed.

Regular train service was not resumed until after 10 o'clock this morning.

Altriar Society to Give Musical Show

Under the direction of the officers of the Altriar society a musical fantasy, "My Isle of Dreams," will be presented during the coming week in the various small towns of Weber and Davis counties.

Written and directed by Bob Major, the play will be given for the first time at Roy September 8. It will also be given at Riverside on September 9, later, Kayville and Layton will be visited.

Special dance numbers are under the direction of Miss Louise Fisher. Miss Rossella Dalton is musical director. Arthur Brown is business manager.

One of the features of the fantasy is two musical selections to be given by Miss Mary Fisher between the two acts. Talent for the play was drawn from places outside of Ogden.

Bricks Dropped on His Head; Austrian Says

Alleging he had been assaulted by Steve Poppovitch and John Zigich, Ed Rukliva, an Austrian, sought aid of the police yesterday afternoon. The assault, according to Rukliva, took place at the rear of a bakery in the block between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets and Wall and Lincoln avenues.

The injured man claimed that as he stepped from the bakery, his assailants struck him with bricks, inflicting scalp wounds. Dr. H. W. Nelson, city physician, dressed the injuries of the man.

RESORTS LOOK FOR GOOD DAY

Despite Murky Weather, Holiday Crowds Prepare to Make Merry

Regardless of the weather, early indications today were that resorts will be generally patronized this afternoon and evening.

Many departed Saturday night for fields where doves are reported to be numerous and spent yesterday and today in hunting the birds. Many went fishing, and spent the holidays out of town, while the larger majority of Ogdenites will visit nearby resorts.

The Utah Hot Springs expects a large crowd. Fear of unpleasant weather has caused many to express doubts about attending open air events, although a large number signified intentions of journeying to Lagoona, Ogden canyon and other resorts.

Two Machines Crash in Street Accident

Attempting to pass a light truck on the right side yesterday afternoon, proved disastrous to W. A. Crosbie, 3179 Grant avenue, the driver of the first car having attempted to turn to the right at exactly the same moment that Crosbie attempted to pass.

According to Motorcycle Officer H. B. Flinn, both machines were going south on Grant avenue. At Twenty-ninth street, A. P. Mortensen, driver of the first car, turned west. Not regarding Mortensen's signal, Crosbie is alleged to have attempted to pass on the right side. His machine was badly smashed, while the light truck escaped with a bent fender and a punctured tire. Neither driver was injured in the smash.

Two Escape From Industrial School

Police are searching for Lawrence Jensen, 16 years old, and Bailey Humphries, 17 years old, who escaped from the State Industrial school this morning. The boys are thought to have set out for Salt Lake and authorities of that city have been notified to watch for the boys.

The report of the escape was received at the police station this morning at 10 o'clock.

To Whom It May Concern

I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by anyone but myself.

HEROES' PARENTS FRAUD VICTIMS

American Legion Hunts Swindlers Who Prey on Relatives of Lost Veterans

The Herman Baker post of the American Legion has been asked by the American Legion Weekly to cooperate with the legion in effort to clear up grief burdened mysteries of the war through an endeavor to locate missing soldiers and to be on the watch for swindlers who are preying on parents of men who either died or were missing in battle.

Many cases have been recently reported where parents have been swindled of sums by men who claim they were in the same companies with their boys and offer information if money is sent them. A nation-wide campaign to bring these swindlers to justice is now being made.

J. C. Littlefield, secretary of the Herman Baker post, has received a list of names of soldiers where information is wanted by the parents. The communication carries the following list:

CASES PRESENTED Following a report from Cleveland, Ohio, of the attempt of a swindler to profit by the grief of a mother whose inquiry was published in this department, the American Legion Weekly, by arrangement with which these cases are published, announces that it will prosecute all such offenders.

These additional cases are presented: John R. Tuse, private, M. G. company, Cleveland infantry, reported dead on October 21, 1918. Buried in American cemetery, No. 524, Les Plais, Meuse. Information about his death wanted by brother, George R. Tuse, Troy, Tenn.

Archie L. Lake, private, Ninety-seventh company, Sixth infantry, wounded on July 19, 1918; reported alive in hospital on August 29, 1918; presumed to be alive but with complete loss of memory. News wanted for his mother through Edward E. Gore, 200 South Fifth avenue, LaGrange, Ill.

Ross P. Burnworth, private, F company, Thirty-first infantry, last heard from while with detachment of this outfit at Ranzolines, Siberia, last September. His mother, Mrs. N. R. Burnworth, 11 Mifflin avenue, Uniontown, Pa., seeks his whereabouts.

LOCATION OF GRAVE George M. Hearne, missing from League island navy yard hospital since July 19, 1919. Believed to be suffering mental disorder. Information wanted by G. R. Hearne, Carlisle, Ill. Thirtieth field artillery, battery D.

Myrl Granger, not heard from since he went overseas from Fort Bliss, Father, J. A. Granger, Tekonah, Mich., wants information.

One hundred and tenth infantry, company L—John W. Cordes killed near Clergen on July 29, 1918. Location of grave wanted by mother, Mrs. J. W. Cordes, Blairsville, Pa.

One hundred and forty-first infantry—Roland Reeder reported missing on October 13, 1918, while acting as runner. Location of grave wanted by mother, Mrs. P. J. Reeder, Grundy Center, Iowa.

Robert Harron, Movie Actor Dies of Wound

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Robert Harron, 27 years of age, noted moving picture actor, died at Bellevue hospital today from a wound received in his apartments at the Hotel Seymour September 1, when his revolver was accidentally discharged. The body was removed to the morgue.

Relatives are on the way from California, it was said. Tentative arrangements for the funeral are being conducted by David Wark Griffith, who elevated Mr. Harron from an office boy to stardom and who had been a constant attendant at his bedside.

Robert Harron entered the movie game when he was 14 years of age as errand boy in the Biograph studio. His screen career began in 1908 with the Biograph company. Later he was with Reliance-Majestic and Fine Arts. He appeared in "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," "Near to Earth," "The Wharf Rat," "The Village Prodigal," "An Old Fashioned Young Man," "Sunshine Alley," "Hearts of the World," "The Great Love" and "The Greatest Thing in Life."

Shepherd Killed by Thunder Bolt

George Hanias, a shepherd, was found in the Wyoming forest last week by Ranger C. A. Dunn. Hanias had been killed by lightning during a heavy thunderstorm, which occurred during the last week. The man had apparently sought shelter under a big poplar tree, and the man, his horse and his dog were killed by the bolt.

The body had lain for some time when found by the forest worker.
