MEMORIAL TABLET TO COST MORE THAN $1,000
 The memorial tablet to be placed in the Cleveland American league ball park in memory of Ray Chapman, star shortstop, who died after being hit by a pitched ball, must not cost more than $1,000. The committee selecting the memorial met last week and practically decided on the style and size of the plate. It will be of bronze and in the shape of a baseball diamond. It will bear the likeness of the player, together with the date of his birth, the date of his death, and other important information to be decided upon by the committee later.

WORLD SERIES OF 1919 FIXED

Prosecutor Replugs Issues Statement to Effect That Players Threw Games

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Direct evidence of an attempt to "fix" a game between the Chicago and New York National league clubs was anticipated today by Assistant State Attorney Harley Replugh. In charge of the grand jury investigation of allegations of major league baseball gambling, Jacob "Rube" Benton, a pitcher for the New York Nationals, was expected to testify today. There have been charges that Benton had been offered $500 by a former Chicago player to lose a game.

Charles "Buck" Herzog, Cub second baseman, in a statement today said there had been accusations that he had made the offer to Benton and that he wanted a chance to deny them. Herzog produced what purported to be a telegram signed by Arthur E. Wilson and Norman Bossett, of the Boston Nationals, stating that they had heard Benton declare he had won $3,500 by betting on the Cincinnati-Chicago world series game last year on advice of Hal Chase that Cincinnati would win the first two games and the series.

Prosecutor Replugh in a statement last night declared that evidence had been added to the effect that the world series was "not on the square." He said that the Chicago players were involved, but that no Cincinnati players were implicated.

LEONARD TO MEET JACK BRITTON IN TITLE TILT

An illustration of how fighters like the Walker law in New York state with its decisions at the end of every bout, is offered in the proposed match between Benny Leonard, champion of lightweights, and Jack Britton, the welterweight king. They have virtually accepted terms for a ten round mill to be staged in Cleveland next month. Each fighter will receive at least $15,000. Tex Rickard wanted the bout for his Madison Square Garden arena, and offered each fighter $25,000, but they refused.

TRIS SPEAKER'S FIND

Dixie Shortstop, Who Is Filling Chapman's Shoes, Takes Kindly To Big League Pitching

BY DEAN SNYDER.
 Buying a ball player for his fielding abilities and finding that he is also a pitiful slugger, is the luck of Tris Speaker.

In his first few games as a regular with the Cleveland Indians Joe Sewell is cutting a big swath with his bat as he is with his shortstoppping.

With almost uncanny foresight Speaker had already secured an option on the New Orleans player before the Ray Chapman tragedy. When the brilliant Cleveland shortstop was struck down Speaker paid the Pellucas a neat sum for an immediate delivery of the Dixie pastime.

Here's the Southern league shortstop recruit who has had a big job saddled on his shoulders and is getting away with it. He is Joe Sewell, who has got his chance in the big leagues before completing one full season in the minors. Note that he has wide-awake eyes and that he takes a cut at the ball which gets results.

FIRST FLASH.
 Some youngsters play over their heads the first few weeks when they first come up to the big show, but if Sewell can keep on doing it for a few days more he may be the cog that will cause the American league club to fly from the Cleveland flagpole.

The kid is slapping the Ian Johnson apple with as much confidence as he did the Dixie pellets.

Sewell is a product of the University of Alabama baseball team. He is in the majors before completing his first full year in the minors.

DOBBS PICKED HIM.
 Johnny Dobbs, manager of the New Orleans Pelicans, from whom Speaker picked the peachy shortstop, says that Sewell is the best player he ever seen up to the big show and is the great who gave both Jim Bagby and Del Pratt their first passports to the big orchards.

Dobbs was tipped off to the fact that Sewell was a promising player by Ward McDowell, former manager of the Birmingham City league. The youth was then playing on the varsity team at Tuscaloosa.

PAUL IS STAR.
 Ward told Dobbs that he had seen a pair of flashy players on the university nine which he ought to get for the Pele. The other player's name was Stephenson. Dobbs made a special trip to Birmingham and looked the lads over. As soon as he set his eyes on them he opened up negotiations which resulted in his getting Sewell before the competition of St. Louis and Philadelphia major league scouts had blocked the deal.

Speaker secured an option on the youngster while the Indians were training at New Orleans last spring.

but had not intended to exercise it until this fall. Stephenson, who is Sewell's pal, will get a trial with the Indians next year.

LOOKS GOOD.
 Here's the way Dobbs describes the work of the youngster since he reported to him last April.

"I sent Sewell into the game as soon as he reported and he didn't miss a day until we sent him to Cleveland. Very soon I made him a lead-off man, and I want to tell you that he is one of the best lead-off batters I ever saw. He is simply a marvel for a youngster. He hasn't a single weakness other than one or two little things that can only be overcome by experience, as, for instance, not looking every-

SPORT CHATTER

Two men have been mentioned to handle the chief officials position at the coming Utah Aggie-Ogden A. A. grid game, scheduled for this city, Saturday, October 3. The men in question are Tommy Fitzpatrick and Fred Kanzier. One of the two organizations to be represented on the field objects to Fitzpatrick while the other objects to Kanzier. It is expected, however, that both men will officiate at the contest, one as referee and one as umpire.

Coach Lester Jarvis at the Bingham High school has sounded a call for gridriders. The Commercial club of the mining camp town and the business men are back of the movement and it is expected that the grid game will be introduced there. The one question involved, however, is where will they play? Perhaps they may find room in one of the mountain tops where scrimmaging could be held without any great inconvenience.

What happened to Pitcher Allan Sothoron of the St. Louis Browns? That is the absorbing question in the American league these days. Sothoron was a dependable mound performer last season. This year he started and had only fair success, then the rule against spitters was reopened to permit him to use the moist delivery. The Brown management forgot to certify Sothoron as a juice pitcher. Now that he has been restored to the south ball list he has failed dismally and the sharps of the Johnson circuit declare he had some trick delivery which he knows he will not be able to get away with this year. He is still with the Browns, but he is rarely called upon.

Despite the rain which fell yesterday afternoon the gridgers of the Ogden High school were out in force and held a snappy workout. Coach Peterson had his men practicing diving and scrimmaging during the afternoon's workout.

Lon Romney former University of Utah star and former coach at the Ogden High school, will referee the Aggie-Ogden A. A. contest at Lorin Farr park Saturday afternoon.

Georgie Irwin and Paul Veasy, two former Ogden High school stars, will be seen in action in Ogden A. A. "uniex" Saturday afternoon. Both men will play in the back field.

Special trains will be run into Ogden on October 9 from Salt Lake and Logan for the Aggie contest, and it is expected that more than 2000 fans will be on deck to attend the struggle. Coach Romney at Logan stated today that at least 500 would make the trip from Logan.

Doc Keller, manager of Terry Keller, the Ogden scrapper, who arrived here yesterday, will endeavor to arrange two scraps for the local star, either in Ogden or Salt Lake before departing for the northwest.

Sothoron Has Had Poor Year on Slab

WILLARD UNCONCERNED.
 Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world, is apparently trying to forget all he ever knew about the boxing game. Asked after the Labor Day bout between Dempsey and Miske, for his opinion of the battle, he said he had no opinion on either of the fighters as he had been entirely out of touch with mill affairs and hadn't time to consult the reports of the battle. "I heard Dempsey won by a knockout but that is the extent of my knowledge of the mill," said Jess.

OUTDOING SPOKE.
 CLEVELAND—Elmer Smith, who has been celebrating all summer with his big hat, has recently developed a "Tris Speaker" fielding streak. He makes a thrilling catch most every game now.

INSIDER

Life is just a merry battle. Up and down the old tarapipes, the star hurlers of a year ago lost their systems.

Other clubs lost all love for the Reds and began playing their heads off against them, which got results.

Discipline was neglected, both on the playing field and in the players' camp. The club lost its barber shop harmony.

Now, with the feeling that the world is against them, Pat Moran's boys are in the same plight as Lot's wife was when she looked back. It's too late.

Moran's pitching staff in the spring of 1919 was much the same as your Uncle Wilbert Robinson's hurlers were last April. They were mostly cast-offs or fellows who had never stood out from the crowd as world beaters. But last fall the Red moundmen were conceded to be the best collection ever assembled under one tent. This year Flatbush carries the palm.

Such is baseball and it's curious ways of teaching that pride goes before a fall and that a pennant tree only blooms where there's harmony in the family.

QUIMET HAPPY BECAUSE HE HAS HOLED OUT IN ONE

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 23.—Francis Quimet, who as boy and man have accomplished nearly everything possible in golf, was happy today in the realization of the ambition of all golfers. He holed out in one.

Playing yesterday on the links of the Commonwealth Country club, he drove off with a noid iron from the third tee, with the hole 242 yards away. The lay is slightly down hill. The ball sped well to the hole and most of it dropped into the cup.

McGraw Praises Work Of Pirate Outfielder

John McGraw of the Giants passed a nice bouquet in the direction of Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates for picking Outfielder Nicholson out of the discard and converting the youngster into a first class ball player. McGraw would not object to having the lad on his payroll. He points to Nicholson as an example of the old saw that many a youngster would make good if he was used regularly. The "Pirate" star is battling beyond the 300 mark and most of his hitting is done when hits are needed. Detroit dropped him as hopeless.

NO SHINER

PHILADELPHIA.—Ed Rommel, the elongated hurler of the Mackmen, who has lined the Indians out of every game he's started against them, has so much stuff on the ball he's being accused of using a "shiner."

The Chinese are said to have some fruit far superior to anything on this side of the globe.

here to say that in two years he'll be in a class by himself in the majors. Why, in seven games against the Vernon Tigers he connected for 18 hits, more than some players collect in a month. He handled 51 chances with but one error plus 42 assists. Besides all that he ran the bases like Ty Cobb was doing a few years ago. His determination and speed are his greatest assets.
