

GEDDES URGES PEACEFUL TRADE

Merchant Marine Aims of U. S. and Britain Told at Banquet

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Adequate world trade development by Great Britain and the United States requires that both nations lay their cards on the table, Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador declared last night at a dinner given by the chamber of commerce of the United States to representatives of the British chamber of commerce as guests here of the American organization.

The ambassador insisted that there was greater desire in Great Britain for close business co-operation with America than has been indicated by many American writers. He had learned from these writers, he said, how "diabolically clever the British, more especially the English, are, and with what Machiavellian duplicity the British push their trade."

FRANKNESS LAUDED.
Economic waste results when each nation regards the other's commercial and financial activities with suspicion, he said, adding:

"I believe that it is imperative that each country should play the great game of world trade, so important to us both, with its cards upon the table insofar as trade is supported and developed by national, that is, political action."

"Secrecy breeds suspicion, the mother of hostility. I believe that full reciprocity in frankness is essential if we are to avoid difficulties. I believe most strongly that in spite of possible local diminution of profit co-operation between our nations will pay us both best in the long run."

SHIP SALE DENIED.
The ambassador denied published reports that the British government had re-sold to the German government a number of German ships with the object of hindering the development of the American mercantile marine. "Utter nonsense," he said, adding:

"The British parliament under the leadership of the government has made it illegal for a period of years to sell any ship to British hands to Germany or to Germans."

Reverting to his theme of mutual understanding, the ambassador said:

"If the English speaking peoples work together, no half baked communists or militarist adventurers will long continue to disturb the re-settling world."

Echoing the ambassador's plea for co-operation, Secretary Alexander of the department of commerce, told of America's merchant marine policy.

U. S. MARINE POLICY.
"The United States does not contemplate any attempt to drive other matters out of the shipping business," he said. "On the other hand, I am outwardly stating what is fair when I say it is the policy of this country to own and operate a fair share of the world's shipping. The requirement of her growing import and export trade are so great that commercially as well as from a broader national standpoint, our former position was an anomaly. But we simply want ships enough to take care of our own expanding business."

Secretary Alexander said that while rivalry as a result of international competition cannot be avoided, they "can be harmonized and localized," adding:

"We are a little apt, perhaps, to become unduly excited about things which would not disturb our equilibrium in more normal times."

BORAH WARNS OF LEAGUE AND WAR ASKS PAPERS TO PRINT COVENANT

Congress Bound to Act If Any Member Nation Is Involved

Democratic Chairman Calls Republican Papers to Give Publicity

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 7.—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, in an address last night made a vigorous attack on President Wilson's recent statement on article ten of the league of nations covenant. He declared that if this government refused to take up arms to aid a country in the league which was invaded by an enemy, "the United States steps out discredited and dishonored and the seeds of wars are scattered broadcast."

CONGRESS BOUND TO ACT.
"The president's last letter to the public informs us that article ten does not interfere with congress to declare war or not to declare war," said Senator Borah. "I can conceive of but one way that congress could get out of declaring war in case of the invasion of territory of a member of the league and that would be to violate and wholly disregard the plain terms of the treaty and to repudiate the league covenant itself. The president has said heretofore upon a very solemn occasion, that article ten constitutes a supreme moral obligation upon the part of our nation, which moral obligation, he declared to be more binding than an obligation of law or contract. Congress is but an agent of the nation, and in refusing to carry out a solemn promise, would brand out whole people with dishonor and moral turpitude."

MEANING OF SCHEME.
"Are we about to enter into some kind of a monstrous combination which supersedes moral obligations and to be disregarded when the exigency arises? Are we about to enter into a scheme which we are to carry out at the expense of a national honor and national decency? Have we already reached the point in international debauchery where we are plainly promising one thing and plainly intending to do another thing, if our own interests suggest it? Are we going into a world wide scheme for peace behind which is the honor of the nation, or are we going into a European scheme to be executed as usual under influences of treachery and trickery?"

RESULT OF PROMISES.
"If we go into this scheme and the hour comes when the United States must choose between the faithful execution of its treaty or its shameful avoidance, our people will choose the path of honor and execute even at the cost of treasure and blood. We have not yet accepted in this country the creed of Machiavelli. We still adhere to the creed of Washington, to observe in good faith all international obligations."

SMALL WINS NOMINATION AS ILLINOIS GOVERNOR.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 7.—When the state canvassing board completed its work yesterday showing Len Small of Kankakee, republican candidate for governor had won by a plurality of 792 over Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby, Governor Lowden, official head of the board, and the winning candidate clasped hands.

This ended the most strenuous of all Illinois' primary fights, in which Governor Lowden had backed Mr. Oglesby and opposed with all the forces of administration the candidacy of Mr. Small, who was supported by Mayor Thompson.

Word that Judge Burns in Chicago had refused to consider the petition of Lieutenant Governor Oglesby at the Chicago primary vote be thrown out, because of alleged frauds in 300 precincts made completion of the canvass possible.

Small's vote was 217,005 and Oglesby's 243,193.

W. B. McKinley, Lowden candidate for United States senator, received 373,549 to 281,130 for Frank L. Smith, Thompson candidate, the canvass showed. The only Democratic race in doubt was that for United States senator, which is to be contested on Robert E. Burke's complaint that he was unlawful. Mr. Burke got 83,624 and the victor, Peter A. Waller, 87,643.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee who returned today from a conference with Governor Cox announced that he had written to Will H. Hays, urging him to do his utmost to obtain wide publicity for the covenant of the league of nations.

"In the interest of truth, which the righteous certainly have no reason to fear," Mr. White requested Mr. Hays to "urge all newspapers to print the text of the covenant in full within the next few days."

"There are so many more Republican than Democratic newspapers in the United States that your request would secure the wide publicity which is desirable," added Mr. White.

CROWELL'S REMARK.
Mr. White also issued this statement:

"I noticed that wide publicity, in the past at any rate, was accorded two days ago in an interview from Major Benedict Crowell of Cleveland, in favor of Senator Harding. That a man until recently assistant secretary of war under this administration should take such a stand was dwelt upon in the dispatches as a sensational fact."

"Out in Ohio they do not find the fact sensational. Major Crowell is a lifelong Republican, one of the many whom Secretary Baker appointed to office. With many other distinguished Republicans, he served his country in the war, and he is for his party for the simple reason that he never left it. The Dutch have taken Holland."

"Major Crowell in his declaration says that the great issue this year is an efficient administration. He ought to know all about the efficiency or inefficiency of a man, but that is not the cause he was responsibly concerned with for several years."

REPUBLICAN AGREES.
Referring to Mr. White's letter asking Mr. Hays to use his influence to distribute the league covenant text, Scott Stone, director of republican publicity here, tonight issued the following statement:

"Concurrently with the issuance of the Republican campaign text book, a pamphlet was issued containing the full text of the league of nations covenant with analysis and comment. This pamphlet has had a much wider circulation than the text book."

"President Wilson's league of nations covenant has been printed and reprinted by all the larger newspapers of the country. I urge every Republican newspaper to carry the text of article 10 on the first page until election day. I hope this will be done."

JOBBER'S LOSE IN SUGAR SLUMP.
Huge Profits of Eastern Refiners Disclosed at State Inquiry

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—W. E. Foster, vice president of the American Sugar Refining company in a statement to Attorney General Allen today in connection with the latter's inquiry into the sugar situation said the company would require wholesalers to live up to their contract for sugar at 22 1/2 cents a pound, notwithstanding recent declines. The company would not be justified in using its surplus of $23,000,000 to offset losses of its customers, he said.

"It is not a fact that pressure was brought to bear on jobbers to contract for sugar at 22 1/2 cents a pound," Attorney General Allen asked the witness. Mr. Foster replied that dealers demanded the sugar and that there would be a feeling at the time that there would be a shortage in the fall.

IF LOSSES WERE STOOD.
The American company made an average profit of two and three quarters cents a pound on all sugars sold up to September, the witness said. Mr. Foster set at "slightly over $11,000,000" the operating profits made by the American company during the first eight months of the year. Attorney General Allen then sought to obtain from the witness a statement as to what this profit would be impacted if the company reduced its price on the 40,000 tons of sugar which Mr. Foster said it had on hand.

Mr. Foster estimated that if the company reduced its price the un-
