Cleveland Honors Baseball Winners

Fifty Thousand Fans Attend Reception Given in Honor of Indians; Sewell and Mays Draw Full Share of Players' End of Gate; Mrs. Chapman Is Awarded Portion of Receipts

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 14.—The champion Cleveland baseball team began to disband today and by tonight most of the players will be en route to their homes in various parts of the country. At least seven expect to winter here.

"Bill" Wambsganss and George Uhle are residents of Cleveland. Elmer Smith and Jack Graney usually spend most of the off-season here. "Doc" Johnston has taken over a billiard room here for the winter and Steve O'Neill and Ray Caldwell expect to enter the automobile business.

Manager Tris Speaker, after a week's fishing in Canada with Catcher Leslie Nunamaker and other friends, will return to Texas to look after his business interests. Nunamaker will rejoin him in Hubbard, Tex., and the two will hunt and fish for several weeks on the Gulf of Mexico.

Stanley Coveleskie, after a brief visit to his home in Shamokin, Pa., will join Outfielder Joe Wood on a hunting trip. Wood will spend the winter felling trees, hunting and fishing in New Jersey.

Jim Bagby returns to his business in Augusta, Ga.

Larry Gardner is going back to Enosburg, Vermont, where he has a big garage and repair shop. Charlie Jamieson will sell groceries in Paterson, N. J. After visiting his family in Mississippi, Dr. Joe Evans will resume his work at a St. Louis hospital.

Infielder Harry Lunte also returns to St. Louis.

Chester Thomas will go to Los Angeles where he expects to be connected with a moving picture company. George Burns returns to his home in Philadelphia, and Joe Sewell to Tuscaloosa, Ala., where he will complete his college education.

Guy Morton will winter at Vernon, Ala., Walter Mails on the Pacific coast, and Pitcher Bob Clark in Newport, Pa.

Cleveland last night paid tribute to its world champion baseball team in a public demonstration in Wade park, attended by approximately 50,000 persons. So great was the enthusiasm of the baseball crazy mob that it finally became uncontrollable and broke through ropes marking off the stage where city officials and the Cleveland American league baseball players sat, smashed chairs, pushed several persons into a small lake and vocally and physically expressed its joy over the winning of the world series.

Special details of police were powerless and not until long after the lights had been put out and the ball players had left did the celebrations end.

THOUSANDS ATTEND.

Thousands were unable to get near the scene of the demonstration. Streets for blocks around were jammed with thousands of automobiles and a great mass of people anxious for at least one look at the score of athletes who brought this city its first baseball championship.

Down in a little hollow in the park was the stage where seats were reserved for Mayor W. S. Fitzgerald, the players and others who took part in the program. Long before sundown hundreds of fans began assembling on the hillsides, trekking their way in from every direction. When the mayor arrived at 7 o'clock the hillsides were packed. Great searchlights played down upon the stage, keeping the ball players in the spotlight, fireworks were set off, bands played and automobiles for blocks around kept up a continual horn honking.

Each player as he was introduced got a wild demonstration.

When the last speech had been made the crowd refused to leave. Instead it rushed through the ropes and hundreds climbed on the stage to shake hands with the athletes. Babies were passed over shoulders to be kissed, hats were smashed and chairs shoved aside, but while many persons were bruised there were no serious injuries.

POLICE AID.

Squads of police ranged through the mass of people trying to get it to break up, but without avail. Finally, the ball players were slipped out the back of the stage, the lights were turned out and lusty lunged men with megaphones begged everyone to go home. The crowd slowly, but noisily started for home but it was midnight before the park had been cleared.

The Cleveland players today voted to give Walter Mails and Joe Sewell, recruits, who joined the club late in the season, full shares in the split of the world series receipts. One thousand dollars each also was given to Secretary Walter McNichols of the Cleveland club, Scout Jack McAllister, Trainer Percy Smallwood, Groundkeeper Frank VanDellen, and Miss Edna Jamieson, chief clerk of the club. Mrs. Ray Chapman, widow of the player killed by a ball thrown by Pitcher Carl Mays, of the Yankees, already had been voted a full share. Today's action of the players reduced the share of each to $3,936.33.

THE INSIDER

The man who framed the fall sports
Must have been a rough-neck, right:
He picks a lot of snappy games
Which takes much main and might.
For instance, football! Think o' that!
It's jam and shove and push,
In which a player oftimes gets
A dislocated mush.
And that's just one of many sports
That come when fall arrives.
Just one of many sports in which
The sportsmen risk their lives.
But turn to spring and summertime,
When gentle breezes blow,
The sport events are practicadlly
As gentle don't you know!
We'll cite you, just for instance,
The famous diamond game,
Compare it with the gridiron sport
And you'll agree its' tame.
Yea, we could name a dozen of
Both classes, goodness knows,
But it is really easier
To jot them down in prose.
And here's the prose:

This is the time of year when the beasts of the forest are in much danger. The hunter has set forth with his gun to bring home the bacon, or the deer meat.

But think of the hunter himself. Many a man who has gone out to shoot has been shot himself. And some of them "half shot." But that is a dead issue—or supposed to be.

For some reason or other there is a heap of danger—nay, carelessness—attached to the hunting sport.

Not in the same class, and yet somewhat dangerous, is the basketball pastime.

Many a druggist has reaped a profit following a rough and tumble goal-shooting contest. Liniment, adhesive patches and bandages!

Turning back to football: There probably isn't a sport on the market that sends more fellows to the medicine cabinet than the pigskin pastime.

There is nothing wrong about that actually—it's part of the game and if you pick it as your pleasure, you must take what comes.

Somebody has said that the stuff it takes to make a real, game footballer is what real American youths are made of.

Mebbe so! We hope so!

Now slant at tennis. It's a great game but who ever got injured batting an inoffensive cloth circle about?

The genius who made the rules and regulations knew what he was doing. We refer to "forty love"! That's tennis.

A newcomer once asked a friend what the score was. The old-timer replied, "Thirty love." "All right, sweetheart," replied the newcomer.

That's not meant as a slam at tennis—it jus was funny to us! And it listens like tennis feels when you play it.

And yet we like tennis ourselves, and we're a rank player, too!

Now as to the great American game: Baseball is a sturdy pastime, sure enough. But the casualties are few and far between.

Golf is another great sport which has few terrors, except the language which usually goes with it.

But they are all sports, and be they rough or tame we're for 'em.

SCHMADER LOSES.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 13.—Andy Schmader, Omaha heavyweight boxer, was disqualified in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round mill with Tony Melchoir, Chicago fighter, here tonight, for striking Referee George Duffy of Milwaukee. Referee Duffy had warned Schmader twice for fouling.

"Kid" Schlaifer of Omaha knocked out Roundy Johnson of Cincinnati in the second round of a scheduled eight-round bout.

ISSUES CHALLENGE.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 13.—Ed R. Maier, president of the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast Baseball league, announced tonight he had renewed his invitation to Baltimore, champion of the International league, to play a series with Vernon in Los Angeles.

THE PRODIGAL GRID SQUAD RETURNS!

Fordham Comes Back After Absence From Game Since 1917

NEW YORK—The prodigal of the football world has returned to the gridiron fold.

In other words, Fordham University is back among those present in the pigskin chasing sport, after having been out of the game since 1917.

And Fordham's "comeback" started off with a large bang in the first game on this season's schedule. The New York Aggies were the goose-egg end of a 71 to 0 score.

COACH HAS HUSKY CREW.

That gives a pretty good idea of what Coach DuMoe's squad of players looks like. They are a husky crew and have mastered the fine arts of the autumn pastime in spite of the fact that only one member of the team has ever worn Fordham football trousers and noseguard before.

DuMoe is sort of on trial as a coach. He has never tried the instructing art before, though he was a prominent member of the All-American lineups due to his playing at Fordham and Lafayette during the past four years.

BACKS ARE MAINSTAYS.

C. Halloran, Jerry Noonan and E. J. Kearns are mainstays around which DuMoe has built a dangerous rival for the strong teams listed in the Fordham schedule.

Halloran, at fullback, is a giant in build and has had a heap of experience in interclass games.

Noonan, at halfback, was a member of the freshman team at Northwestern University last year and has had plenty of experience.

Kearns at halfback, was halfback on the Peddie Institute and won a place on the interscholastic star lineup of New Jersey last season.

ONE VETERAN IN THE LINEUP.

The Fordham line is questionable. Not as to punch and speed, but as to who will land in the regular positions. DuMoe has a lot of material to pick from. One man who looks sure to be a star is Walsh, who, before the war, was a member of the Fordham prep eleven. Fitzpatrick is the only Fordham veteran. He played on the 1917 squad at end, the same position he is holding this season.

Veterans, who have seen DuMoe's outfit, are saying "Watch Fordham!"

Coach DuMoe, Fordham College, looks to his backfield outfit, Halloran, Noonan and Kearns, for the ability around which to build a winning gridiron eleven.

TWO SPIT KINGS.

CLEVELAND — There are just two spitball pitchers in the business who will moisten the third strike. They are Coveleskie and Grimes.

TOMMY TO COACH.

HANOVER—Earl Thompson, holder of the world's record for the 120-yard hurdles, will assist in coaching track athletes at Dartmouth.

UTAH TO CLASH WITH COLORADO

Game at Colorado Springs Will Be Hotly Contested; Prouse Named to Lead U

The University of Utah gridders, nineteen strong will depart from Ogden at 6:30 o'clock this evening for Colorado Springs where they will vie with the fast Colorado college aggregation Saturday afternoon. Utah will play her first conference game Saturday.

Coach Tommy Fitzpatrick and Dr. Ray Harrison will accompany the "U" gridders on the trip. The following men will represent the Crimson in the contest: Leland Prouse, Gilmer and Franke, ends; Hurd and Swan, tackles; tf Clark, J. Clark, Evans and Decker, guards; Hancock and Silver, centers, Smith and Romney, quarterbacks; Ure,, Oswald, Stiefel and Watkins, halfbacks; Ferguson and Gardner, fullbacks.

At a meeting of letter men held at the "U" yesterday Lee Prouse was elected to captain the gridders during the coming season. He won out over Mac Swan by five votes to four. Prouse played a star game at end for the "U" last season and is expected to be one of the big stars during the coming year. He is an all around athlete.

Mose Stiefel, star halfback, injured in the contest against the all-stars last Saturday at Salt Lake will make the trip to Colorado Springs, but in all probability wil not participate. The following Saturday the Utah warriors will face some regular opposition in meeting the University of California at San Francisco. Coach Fitzpatrick, however, expects his men to come through the California contest with flying colors.

OFFERS $50,000.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 13.—Matt Winn, general manager of the Kentucky Jockey club, today wired Sam Riddle and Willis Sharpe Kilmer an offer of $50,000 for a race between Man O' War and Exterminator, the distance to be one and one-half miles.

The source of practically all the icebergs of the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions is Greenland.

WEBER TO VIE WITH OGDEN A. A.

Watson's Eleven to Play First Game of 1920 Season at Local Park Friday

Coach Malcolm Watson's Weber Normal grid machine will mix with the Ogden Athletic association's fast eleven at Lorin Farr park tomorrow afternoon in the first game of the season for the Weberites. The kickoff for the initial Weber fray is set for 3:30 o'clock.

Although Weber will be minus one of her backs in Lindsay, she will present a classy array of stars and is out to hand the local independent aggregation a trimming.

More than forty men have reported for the team at the Weber school and of this number the majority gives signs of developing into first class players, according to Coach Watson.

Halliday, Hinckley and Wilcox, three stars of the 1919 aggregation are again in togs and are showing a world of class. These men together with Lindsay — expected to be the shining lights on the Weber aggregation during the coming season.

Captain Bill Glasmann of the Ogden A. A. eleven, who was injured in the contest against the Aggies, will again don the togs and lead his eleven. Glasmann tore a ligament in his left leg in the contest against the Aggies.

Harry Kilpatrick, Earl Andrew, Irwin, Dee and other stars of the local eleven will be on deck when the whistle sounds. Officials for the contest will be named Friday. The teams will lineup as follows:

Ogden A. A.		Weber Normal
Kilpatrick	re	Williams
Carson	rt	Davis
Andrew	rg	Ballantyne
Bagley	c	Hinckley
Smyth	lg	Price
Watson	lt	Terry
Irwin	le	Hill
Glasmann (Capt.)	qb	B. Newman

Wilkenson	fb	Wilcox
Reberg	rh	Halliday

NO JAZZ.

BROOKLYN — Dodger fans, who watched the first three games between the Superbas and Indians, are still wondering why Squire Ebbets didn't furnish any jazz music.

AGGIES ENGAGE MINERS OCT. 16

Coach Romney's Stars Primed for Battle Against Fast Team From Colorado

Coach Lowell Romney's scrappy eleven at the Utah A. C. at Logan, which defeated the fast Ogden A. A. aggregation here last Saturday 16 to 0 in a hotly contested game, will clash with the Colorado School of Mines at Logan Saturday afternoon.

The colorado aggregation defeated the University of Arizona last Saturday by a score of 133 to 0 and are reputed to have a classy eleven.

In the coming contest the Aggies will be outweighed by the visitors but expect to make up for that handicap in speed. Lew Falck and Per Hansen are the two men expected to star for the Aggies while Captain Worley and Stan Anderson on the line are also expected to show a world of class.

McKay and Belnap, former Weber stars will be seen in action in the Aggie lineup. These men failed to get in the game here last week due to injuries but will be on deck Saturday according to Coach Romney.

Morris to Seek Higher Rating for Texas League

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 13.—President Walter Morris of the Texas league announced today that he will seek higher classification for his circuit at the forthcoming meeting of the minor leagues in Kansas City. The fight will be based on the claim that the Texas clubs have one million population within or near the member cities and that the Texas league brand of ball is as fast as that of the Southern Association, citing the defeat of Little Rock in the post season series by Fort Worth.

M'GINTY NICKED.

CLEVELAND—Promoter McGinty, aspired to introduce Jack Britton and Benny Leonard to the Cleveland public, got nicked for $30,000 by the weatherman.

ORIOLES AGAIN TRIM ST. PAUL

International Leaguers Within Striking Distance of AA Championship

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 13.—Baltimore's International league champions today downed St. Paul, title winners in the American Association, 6 to 5, in their minor league championship series, demonstrations by fans in protest against decisions marking the contest.

With the three victories registered by Baltimore on their home field, against one win by the Saints, the Orioles now need only one more victory to give them the minor league title. The next contest will be played here Friday.

The Saints used four pitchers, starting their ace, Charlie Hall, who was succeeded by Williams in the seventh. Griner replaced Williams in the next inning and he, in turn, was succeeded by Foster after the Orioles had charged Griner with using the emery ball. Bentley went the entire distance for Baltimore, winning his third game in this series.

Singles by Laury and Holden, and Boone's error gave Baltimore its first two runs in the third; Bishop's and Egan's singles and Lefler's double that Haas misjudged, added another in the sixth; a walk, Bentley's single and Boley's double counted two more in the seventh and Maisel's single, Griner's wild pitch, Laury's single and an infield out brought in the Oriole's final run in the eighth.

The Saints got their first run in the fourth on Hargraves' walk, Rapp's single and Rapp's force out by Bergahammer at second. The locals staged a rally in the seventh that brought in four runs on four hits, including Miller's home run with one on.

Umpire Stockdale's decision on Laury at first in the eighth, calling him safe, met with disapproval from the fans, who hurled cushions at the umpire. After the game policemen and Jim Murray, an Association umpire escorted Stockdale from the field while fans showered them with cushions. No one was injured.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	002 001 210	6	15	0
St. Paul	000 100 400	5	11	1

Batteries: Bentley and Egan; Hall, Williams, Griner, Foster and Hargrave.

CHINA TO HOLD RUSS PROPERTY

International Control of Old Czar's Interests Opposed By Officials

PEKING, Oct. 12.—China is opposed to international control of Russian concessions and interests in China, as suggested by the diplomats on the ground that this would be illegal and unprecedented and involve a breach in treaty stipulations.

Foreign office officials declared today that the transfer of Russian privileges to a third power or a group of powers would be inconsistent with usage, unjustifiable and calculated to entail international complications. Dr. W. W. Yen, minister of foreign affairs, is authority for the statement that China does not contemplate the abrogation of the Russian treaties nor the rights derived from them.

TEMPORARY SEIZURE

Replying to inquiries from members of the diplomatic corps, Dr. Yen said definitely that the government's assumption of the custody of Russian state property and concessions was temporary, and that they would be held in trust until a recognized Russian government exists. He added that the presence in China of the Verkhne-Udinsk mission of the Far Eastern republic had not influenced China's action in reference to China's withdrawal of recognition from Prince Kodaucheff, the Russian minister, and the Russian consuls, and that the fuctions of the Russian administrative bodies and their concessions are not affected further than by the substitution of a Chinese official in the place of the Russian consul.

RIGHTS IN ABEYANCE

The foreign minister added that the extra territorial rights of Russia for the present were in abeyance but that suits against Russians in Chinese courts were to be conducted under Russian law, as far as this is consistent with Chinese authority. The status of the mission of the Far Eastern republic, headed by M. Yourin, and China's negotiations with it are not changed.

FEARS 'WET' MAN WILL BE CHOSEN

Prohibition Nominee Asserts Both Parties Selected Friends of Liquor

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 13.—In an address here last night in support of the prohibition ticket, D. Leigh Colvin of New York, candidate for the office of vice president, declared that both major parties nominated the "wettest" of the men seriously considered during the pre-convention discussions.

"Certain politicians are claiming prohibition is a settled issue" said Mr. Colvin. "That is all the more reason for voting the Prohibition ticket this year."

A vote for Watkins for president will be the most effective protest against the nomination of our national conventions by the "wet," interests Mr. Colvin declared.

He urged the election of Watkins on the grounds that a prohibition president, with his power to veto, would be able to offset efforts of the "wet" interests to bring about the defeat of the spirit of the Eighteenth amendment. He explained that the amendment could be weakened by a new definition of what constitutes intoxicating liquor by the appointment of men sympathetic to the "wet" interests in offices charged with the enforcement of "dry" measures and by cutting appropriations for the enforcement of the Volstead act.

RACING CAREER OF MAN O'WAR ENDED SAYS OWNER RIDDLE

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 13.—Man O' War, conqueror of Sir Barton in Tuesday's match race at Kenilworth park, left here today for his home stable, his racing career ended, according to the announcement of his owner, Samuel B. Riddle, of Philadelphia. Before his departure Riddle reasserted his intention of retiring the champion from the track and placing him at the head of the sires at Glen Riddle farm.

It had been suggested that the colt be entered in the Ascot gold cup race in England next year, but Riddle was quoted tonight as saying this would not be possible. It would not be advisable, he said, adding that Man O' War could not become acclimated in less than a year.

The season closed at Kenilworth today, the thoroughbred stables shipping to Cuba and the south.

WANDERING YOUTH, TAKEN IN, FIGHTS BURGLAR IN HOME

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 13.—Lawrence Westover, 16, Boy Scout, has paid part of his debt of gratitude to C. R. Jewell, whose family gave him a home with them last year after he had been found trudging along on a country road leading to Omaha.

Returning from school yesterday the boy found a burglar sacking the family silverware. After arming himself with a knife he fought and finally put the intruder to rout, but not until he had been cut twelve times. None of his wounds, however, is serious.

In England, if a woman occupies a house with 15 windows she is eligible for jury duty.
