HUNDREDS GREET P. M. CUSHNAHAN

Reception at Virginia Hotel Tribute to Popular Ogden Priest

Paying a splendid tribute to the faithful service of Monsignor P. M. Cushnahan, V. G., who for 25 years has been pastor of St. Joseph's parish in Ogden, a surprise made up by members and friends was presented to the pastor at a reception held at the Virginia last evening. The presentation speech was made by former Mayor A. R. Heywood, who with Mrs. Heywood, gave the site for a new hospital in this city. About five hundred persons called during the reception. Early in the evening scores of Father Cushnahan's old and new friends gathered in the hall of the Virginia and then formed in a long line to greet the monsignor. It was surprising the number of men and women whom Father Cushnahan greeted by name as he chatted a moment or so with each as the long line moved. After meeting Father Cushnahan the guests passed into another room and there signed their names to a book, which was a souvenir of the occasion. VISIBLY AFFECTED. Mr. Cushnahan, who just returned from a trip to Ireland, was visibly affected by the appreciation shown. What he thought was to be a sort of family reunion had developed into a gathering of life-time friends, he said, and one which he appreciated more than words could convey. Never before in his residence here, he declared had the spirit of unity for which Ogden has been noted, been more clearly shown than on this occasion. The spirit would make possible still greater accomplishments. The speaker advocated a continuance of that spirit of tolerance by which the various denominations had worked together in harmony for the glory of God and the material betterment of the city and its inhabitants. Content of the final result, Monsignor Cushnahan declared, he would go ahead with plans for the new Catholic hospital as recently announced.

HALLOWEEN DECORATIONS. The rooms and hallways were decorated with colored ribbons and vases of cut flowers. Following the formal greetings, refreshments were served by women members of the congregation. The ladies had a covering of lace centered with bowls of roses. A program of songs and readings was also carried out. Among the out-of-town visitors were the Rev. Fathers R. J. O'Donnell, R. J. Cotter, Duane Hunt, M. Sheehan, Edmund Stoeckel, all of Salt Lake, and the Rev. James O'Grady, of Las Vegas, Nev. The leather-bound volume in which was stamped in gold the date and occasion for the reception was signed by the guests and presented to Monsignor Cushnahan. The committee from the Knights of Columbus and the Altar society of the St. Joseph's church, which arranged the event, included Mrs. T. D. Ryan, Mrs. R. P. O'Neil, Mrs. Joseph Campbell, Mrs. E. G. Quinn, Judge D. E. Sullivan, James Brennan, T. D. Ryan, W. J. Dermody, W. S. O'Brien, David Hickey, John C. Lynch, M. J. O'Connell, John Quinn, J. H. Callahan and Thomas Whalen.

Wright's A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE Another Shipment!!

Suits, O'coats $45

Saturday's selling nearly "cleaned us." Men seem actually delighted to get such good clothing at a price like this.

This morning comes another big shipment. Suits and coats that are going out at $45—and this is easily $15 under their value.

A clothing salesman, looking at these clothes said: "But you can't afford to sell such clothes for $45." Answered the clerk: "No, by jove, but we're jolly well doing it."

Come have a look. Sizes and styles for every man, any age.

How We Did It

When clothing drummers were here last spring wanting orders their prices were too high. We refused to buy. At that time we did not place an order for a single suit or coat; we knew prices must come down.

Three weeks ago, word came to us of lowered prices—of good clothing to be had at greatly lowered prices. Our man went to the market with spot cash to pay. Suits and overcoats that would have sold for $65 to $75 were bought to sell for $45. Come in for a look.

Sellman Released in the City Court

Paul Sellman, charged with grand larceny accused of having stolen oil stock from Mrs. Dixie Conners which was alleged to be worth $4000, was released upon recommendation of County Attorney Joseph Bates yesterday. It appeared that the stock, alleged to be worth $4000 was practically valueless. Notwithstanding the fact that the stock was found concealed on Sellman's person, testimony taken during the hearing indicated that he was making his way to turn the stock over to the sheriff. County Attorney Bates maintained that if Sellman had stolen the stock, and it was worthless, a grand larceny charge could not be pressed.

ELECTION SEEMS TO BE DECIDED

Some Ebbing From Republican Strength, Sullivan Says in Article

By MARK SULLIVAN, National Political Correspondent of the Evening Post. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—It is hard to conceive that the election will be Republican loss of interest. Elections are largely a matter of crowd psychology and it is hard to keep the interest of the crowd at top pitch for five weeks. The Republican campaign opened too early. It is like a crowd in a theatre. If a play were so constructed as to come to a climax at the end of the second act, with the plot cleared and the outcome easily apparent under such circumstances it would be difficult to keep the crowd in the theatre and their interest on the stage during the last two acts. DOUBTFUL FIGHTS. In one section of the country this ebbing of strength is enough to turn what might have been several Republican claims about the border states and the south have been beyond what the facts have justified at any time. The Republicans have talked about most surveys of that state. I have made one survey of that state. I asked Joseph Daniels about it and he laughed in a way that seemed to me to have evidential value. I don't think the Republicans will carry Tennessee either or even come close to carrying it. But undoubtedly there was at one time and to some extent still is, a condition in Tennessee that justifies the Republicans in expecting to do better than ever before. There are several elements in it, but one of the most substantial is quiet dissatisfaction of a good many Democratic business men. Large and small they disapproved of many features of Wilson's administration. COMPLAINT UTTERED. The other day I overheard a southern business man, who had been swayed between the falling price of cotton and the rising price of coal, say to his neighbor: "If you make money you're a profligate, and the government prosecutes you and takes it away from you. If you lose money, what are you? A loafer, then, and does the government give it back to you?" The kind of growth sentiment expressed itself in a vote against the party in power. Among business men there is most as much of that kind of resentment in the southern and border states as elsewhere. Nevertheless in all four of the border states the condition today is close, with no sign how and hardly any possibility later on of the Republicans' landslide in those states as some of them have been talking about.

WEARING PAJAMAS, GOV. COX MAKES MORNING SPEECH

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 19.—The entry of Governor Cox of Ohio, in New England, was marked by his appearance in pajamas before a crowd at the railroad station in this city early today. The candidate had not been expected to speak here and was making leisurely morning preparations in his private car intending to give his first address of the day at Worcester, fifty miles away, when he heard the calls of the crowd of several hundred persons that had gathered to see him. The governor hastily slipped on a long overcoat which he carefully buttoned to the chin and then, still wearing his bath slippers, stepped to the rear platform and spoke for five minutes.

RETAIL CLOTHIERS TO SELL AT COST, OFFICIALS ASSERT

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Retail dealers throughout the country will sell clothes at cost this fall, Andrew Burkhart, of Cincinnati, president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, said Monday in a statement. "Eighty-four per cent of the public is determined to get lower prices," said Mr. Burkhart. "Consequently the dealers have determined to forget all about profits and set their commodities at cost. Dealers are not taking this action from fear of panic or necessity for quick turnover in money. It is done simply because the country is unwell through a temporary period of deflation and unemployment and we feel that the good will of the people must be retained."

JAPAN CENSUS BRINGS PLANS FOR MOBILIZATION

TOKYO, Oct. 16.—(By the Associated Press)—As a result of the census taken October 1, the figures of which have not been announced, the government has begun sending circulars throughout the country asking physicians, surgeons, dentists, pharmacists, tailors, blacksmiths and other persons whether they would be willing to serve in the army in case of war. The inquiry was inaugurated yesterday in the Tokyo precinct. Officials explain that the information is desired in connection with any possible future mobilization. It is stated here that the details sought form part of a general plan of industrial mobilization upon which the government has been working for years, and that it has organized a new national industrial census board to investigate mobilization possibilities in factories, mines, railways and marine transport systems.

MRS. PEETE SAYS SHE SAW DENTON KILLED BY PAIR

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 19.—Mrs. R. C. Peete, of Denver, who was either a tenant in or house-keeper at the home of Jacob C. Denton when that wealthy mining man was slain here last June, today told the district attorney's deputies investigating the case that she saw a man and a woman kill Denton. Mrs. Peete said the woman had quarreled with Denton through the night and he had been shot as they sat at a breakfast table before dawn. Mrs. Peete was in Denver when the murder became known by the discovery of Denton's body in a rudely built crypt in the basement of his elaborate home here a few weeks ago. After investigation she was escorted back here by the attaches of the district attorney's office being accompanied by her husband and daughter. Since her return she has held almost daily conferences with the district attorney's representatives and from his statements and from other evidence they pieced together a story which led to her statement today.
