BOYLE'S EVERYTHING FOR THE HOME

Increases Granted To Light Company

Increased rates totaling approximately a million dollars a year were added to the present revenues of the Utah Power & Light company by a decision of the public utilities commission of Utah. The decision came on the investigation of the commission's own motion of special contracts held by about fifty of the largest customers of the power company in all counties near Salt Lake.

These contracts allowed the customers considerably lower rates than those paid by other customers receiving similar service. The increased revenues will be paid by these customers which number among them some of the largest industrial enterprises in the state, since hereafter they will be placed on standard rates. The order goes into effect at noon Friday.

The case decided has come to be known as the "special contract" cases involving the Utah Power & Light company's schedules in Utah. It is to be distinguished from the rate increase case, filed subsequently in the form of a petition from the Utah Power & Light company for an increase in the prevailing schedules for power purposes in Utah.

From assertions made during the hearing, there is little doubt that the decision of the commission will be taken before the supreme court of the state, and possibly the supreme court of the United States. It was contended at the hearing that a contract, lawful when made, should, under the constitution of both state and nation be held inviolable from interference by legal authority.

Academy Will Honor Monsignor Cushman

In welcome to Monsignor P. M. Cushman, V. G., students of Sacred Heart Academy will give a program Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the school. A number of the students in the various departments of music and dramatic expression will participate in the program. Parents and friends, as well as patrons of the school, are invited to attend.

SNOW TO DELAY BEETS TOPPING

No Bad Effects Unless Cold Follows, Says Weather Forecast

Digging and topping of sugar beets will be delayed slightly by the snow-storm and rain of the past two days, although good effect of the precipitation will more than offset its detrimental effects unless there is a continuance of bad weather, according to a statement issued yesterday by J. Cecil Alter, director of the Salt Lake branch of the United States weather bureau.

Mr. Alter said:

"The cattle have been taken from the winter ranges and the snow will permit their being turned out on the desert feeding grounds." The weather man said, "The moisture will prove a benefit to range generally. The rain and snow will be a good thing also for fall grain. Most of the grain has been sown and the water will greatly aid its growth, especially in the southern part of the state, where drought has prevailed.

"The putting up of hay, the digging of potatoes and the picking of apples will be retarded by the storm. If the weather turns decidedly colder potatoes and apples may freeze. Continued wet weather will prevent the fields drying out and then the beets won't clean properly. However, I look for the weather to clear up today."

The storm extended over Utah, Idaho, western Montana, northern Nevada, northern California, Oregon and Washington. The total precipitation recorded at the Salt Lake weather office from 6 o'clock Monday evening until 6 o'clock last night, was .37 of an inch. Considerable moisture fell after the measure men last evening.

Two inches of snow fell in Salt Lake Monday night and yesterday morning. On the bench lands the fall was reported to reach four inches.

Gives Interpretation of "Pure Seed" Law

Following the receipt of many communications from seed merchants of the state, protesting the "pure seed" law as it stands today on the statute books as "unworkable," the state crops and pests commission yesterday placed its interpretation on the law which was passed by the legislature of 1919 and made effective June 1 of the present year. The interpretation was made in a letter to W. W. Kay, United States district attorney.

The law defines agricultural seeds as "all plant seeds commonly planted for economic and decorative purposes." The commission specifies these as twenty-five named seeds commonly used in field crops, twenty-eight seeds for garden and truck crops and forty-five of the commoner flowers.

The commission also prescribes as to the labeling that all packages of eight ounces or less may be kept in a larger container, not to contain more than ten pounds nor more than fifty packages, which large container shall be labeled as prescribed in the pure seed law.

Third Ward to Give Opening Dance Friday

Marking the beginning of the social season at the Third ward amusement hall, a grand opening ball will be held Friday, October 22. The amusement hall is in the best of condition, having been thoroughly renovated during the summer months.

The hall is now being decorated by a committee in charge of this work. Refreshments will be served by members of the Sunday school.

Ogden Merchant and School Teacher Wed

Atwell F. Wolfer, of Ogden, proprietor of Wolfer's Cloak and Suit company, yesterday married at Salt Lake, Miss Consuelo Stewart, a former teacher in the Ogden high school. Miss Stewart's home was in Burlington, Vermont, and she came to the west about three years ago. She resigned from her position as teacher of domestic art here three weeks ago.

The ceremony was performed in St. Mark's cathedral. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfer will make their home in Ogden.

HARRISON FORD AND WANDA HAWLEY

Two of the greatest favorites of the present day appear in Real Arts great photoplay, "Food for Scandal." Wanda has sixteen fellows awaiting her on the corner as soon as she finishes in "The Follies" and see what she hands them. A great picture behind the scenes and in the dressing rooms of the bery of chorus girls—it's put over in a wonderful way. Alhambra Theatre starting tomorrow. School children, 10c and 20c; adults, 20c and 30c.

SCHUMANN-HEINK THRILLS ELLIS ISLAND IMMIGRANTS

ELLIS ISLAND, N. Y.—"Oh, say can you see—" Madame Schumann-Heink, famous grand opera prima donna, sang with a fire and vigor she has seldom equaled when she poured forth the thrilling words of the national anthem to immigrants just arrived here the other day. The great singer won wild applause from the citizens to be. The inset is a remarkable photo of Madame Schumann-Heink as she put her whole soul into America's song.

Army Man to Talk at High Assembly

Major Alva Lee of the Salt Lake army recruiting station will be the principal speaker at the Friday morning assembly at the Ogden High School. Major Lee will address the students of the school on "The American Army in France." Officers of the Salt Lake recruiting station are campaigning throughout Utah and Idaho this week addressing students of high schools and colleges on the army and what it means to the United States.

The students will also hear several speakers on the coming grid battle to be staged at Salt Lake Saturday afternoon between the East High school and the Ogden High school stars. This game will no doubt be the feature game of the year. Addresses will be made by Principal A. M. Merrill, Coach Peterson, Captain Skeen and other members of the grid team.

A special train carrying rooters will depart from Ogden at 12 o'clock noon Saturday, special rates for the round trip having been granted by the Hamberger electric lines.

News Dealer Fined $15 in City Court

Pleading guilty to a petit larceny charge, E. A. Munsey, charged with stealing newspapers after they had been delivered by carriers, was fined $15 by Judge D. R. Roberts in the city court this morning.

Munsey admitted in court that he had appeared on a similar charge three years ago, and was in court again about a year ago on a charge of selling tobacco to minors.

Judge Roberts told Munsey that the next time he appeared before the city court that he would give him a jail sentence. He admonished Munsey for stealing papers, stating that the injury fell not so much on the persons whose papers were taken, but upon the carriers, who are penalized for each complaint made by persons not receiving a paper.

Quartet Fined for Battle in Pool Hall

John Morgan played good fellow yesterday and thereby participated a lively battle in a pool hall at 124 Twenty-fifth street.

Morgan was in the city court this morning and told the judge that he was approached by a man who asked him for a sherrill to buy a meal. He started taking the man to the Depot lunch counter, he said. One of four men, Philip Harrington, Roy Maxwell, William Meredith or John Kelly, struck the merchant for some unknown reason, it is said. Morgan protested and was struck. Immediately the pool hall was the scene of strife. A cue ball, hurled by a husky

The parents survive. Funeral services were to be held at the home this afternoon, with burial in the North Ogden cemetery.

WATCH 'EM GROW

Nothing grows so fast as a scandal story—not even an Alredale pup nor a boy's feet. There may be really nothing to it at first, but give the gossip a little time and soon the heroine or hero of the story has no reputation left. If you don't believe it, see "Food for Scandal," Wanda Hawley's new picture, at the Alhambra theatre tomorrow.
