NEW PREMIER OF GREECE TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

George Rhalis Demands Resignation of Regent; Queen Mother to Get Post

CONSTANTINE SAYS HE AWAITS PLEBISCITE

Friend of Former King Says Thousands in America Aid Former Monarch

ATHENS, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—George Rhalis, the new premier of Greece, with three members of his cabinet, took the oath of office before Admiral Coudouriotis, the regent, at one o'clock this afternoon. Those who qualified in company with the premier were: G. Karamanlis, minister of war; M. Baldraris, minister of interior; and M. Calliopeopoulos, minister of finance. M. Rhalis will hold the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs.

BANDS ACCLAIM KING

Bands of civil guards went through the city during the ceremony, acclaiming former King Constantine and firing revolvers as a token of rejoicing.

As night settled over the city, the streets were resounding with a pandemonium of yells and shouts and pistol and rifle shots. Gangs of soldiers walked through the city tooting horns and blowing whistles. The celebration continued until late in the evening.

FIGURES ON ELECTION

Prof. Georgios Stratis, former Greek foreign minister and close follower of former King Constantine, informed the Associated Press that according to the latest figures on the Greek elections received tonight 287 out of 349 deputies elected were loyal to Constantine. He added that excluding 32 Thracians, only thirty seats remained for the Venizelists.

AMERICAN GREEKS AID

Constantine, declared the former foreign minister, had no confidence in the league of nations as constituted at present. The former monarch, however, he added, hoped that the plans outlined by Senator Harding would lead to a reconstruction of the league.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION ON DECLINE, SAYS PASTOR

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 18.—The decline of religious education in the Protestant Episcopal home was discussed last night by the Rev. Dr. W. Thayer D.D. of South Brough, Kans., before the fifth synod of the Province of Washington in session here. Dr. Thayer declared that the teachings of his fathers have become almost a tradition and that ignorance of religious precepts among children of this generation is appalling. He made a plea for the restoration of the family altar with the father as the priest of his own household.

HARD DAYS FOR TITLED

LADY MILLICENT HAWES

LONDON.—"I never saw such times as these," remarked Lady Millicent Hawes, formerly the Duchess of Sutherland and recognized as one of England's most beautiful women, after her sale of valuable pictures and household treasures at St. Ser's House, Fochampton, Surrey. "I had hoped for a good sale," she continued, "that would keep me in bread and butter for the next six weeks. And with a sigh, she added she thought 'everybody is getting terribly broke' these days. Lady Millicent is going to France soon where her husband, Lieut. Col. George Hawes, is in business.

BOY CONFESSES HE PLAYED PART IN MAIL ROBBERY

Surrenders to Government When Older Brothers Seek To Accept Blame

COUNCIL BLEEF, Ia., Nov. 18.—Orville Phillips, seventeen, younger brother of Merl Phillips, has surrendered to the government authorities and has confessed to having participated in the three and one-half million dollar robbery of east mail train No. 8 on the Burlington railroad here Saturday night.

Orville's confession is a dramatic incident in the story of the crime and his surrender was made, he says, when he discovered that his brother Merl was performing himself in an effort to save him. Orville Phillips says that Merl had nothing whatever to do with the actual robbery, and in fact did all that he could to persuade the other boys from carrying out the robbery.

Harding Makes Plea For Plain Living Ireland Conditions Described

NEW ORLEANS HOST TO NEXT U. S. PRESIDENT

Must Solve Problems at Home First, Harding Says in Address to South

ALLUDES TO RISE AND FALL OF PRODUCE PRICES

"Tide of Good Fortune Will Flood and Ebb," Speaker Asserts

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 18.—Plain living and square dealing were invoked by President-elect Harding in a speech here today as the nation's strongest reliance during the period of "after-war readjustment."

VISITS NEW ORLEANS

The address was a part of a five-hour visit to New Orleans by the president-elect, who came to the city on a vacation in Texas to take ship for a voyage to the Panama canal zone. He said in part:

DIGNITY OF LABOR

"The big thing for all America to realize now and always is the dignity of productive labor. No matter how humble, the producers are the makers of the essentials of civilization and we must, each and all of us, accept and discharge our duty of producing for the world or of ministering to the needs of comfort or progress of mankind."

NEW SOUTH TOPIC

"We have been talking about the new south for a score of years and now I would like to acclaim a southland with added good fortune and greater self-reliance through diversified agriculture and industry. This land of raw materials ought to manufacture and locate its factories by mine and farm and orchard. There will be no jealousy in the north because your greater glory will be glorious victory."

REPUBLIC CANNOT FAIL

"Our great assurance at home lies in a virile, intelligent, resolute people in a land unswayed by war, inimic with no people, envying none, coveting nothing, seeking no territory, striving no glories which do not become a righteous nation. This republic cannot, will not fail if each of us does his part."

TEACHER TELLS ABOUT FAMILY DOGGING SHOTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—"Only the direst necessity" can justify a resort to arms for the adjustment of disputes in Ireland, Frederic C. Howe, chairman of the commission appointed by the committee of one hundred investigating the Irish question, declared today at the opening of the committee's hearing. He added that the conditions in Ireland "have created and are creating a widening rift in the friendly relations of English speaking people not only in America, but all over the world."

GOING TO IRELAND

"The committee plans to send a commission to England and Ireland to make an inquiry into conditions in the latter country," Mr. Howe explained. "It will investigate the killings and disorders. Quite as important is the permanent adjustment of the dispute, it will investigate the economic conditions in Ireland, the extent to which the Irish have developed a self-contained economic and cultural life, as well as the extent to which the Irish people have evolved their own agencies of self-government during the last few years."

TEACHER CALLED

Dennis Morgan of Thurles, Ireland, was the first witness called. He said he was a college teacher in Thurles and that he had been elected chairman of the town council as the labor candidate winning over Sinn Fein and independent candidates.
