QUAKERS BEGIN RUSSIAN RELIEF

Friends' Committee Sends Woman and Supplies to Soviet Nation

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—The American Friends' service committee has announced that it is beginning relief work in Russia. It has just been notified that Miss Anna J. Haines, of Moorestown, N. J., an experienced worker who spent several years in Russia in relief work under the governments of the emperor and Kerensky, will soon arrive in Reval. She plans to go to Moscow where she will cooperate with Arthur J. Watts, an English friend, who has been working in Russia for the past six months.

WILL TAKE SUPPLIES. Miss Haines will take $100,000 worth of supplies, mostly medical, into Russia and she and her assistants will direct their distribution. The committee says the Friends will have complete control of all supplies sent to Russia and will allot them to institutions and the most needy of the civilian population. They will begin by distributing condensed milk, cod liver oil, chocolate, soap, shoes, stockings and woolen goods, in addition to medical supplies.

Russia's greatest need today is reported to be for medical and sanitary supplies and clothing. The people of the agricultural districts are in want only of the necessities. Hospitals in Russia are said to have had neither for five years and when operations are performed the patients are strapped to the operation table.

DISTRESS IS ACUTE. Owing to the complete breakdown of the transport system in Russia, the greatest suffering is reported to be in large cities like Moscow and Petrograd, where a large industrial population cannot obtain supplies. In those cities the distress is reported to be acute. Petrograd has lost 25 per cent of its population within the past four years.

Arthur J. Watts, the English friend, moved about in Russia without any restriction by the soviet government and it is announced that the American Friends will have the same privilege. In October Mr. Watts cabled to the American Friends' service committee to send a representative to establish a permanent Anglo-American relief work. Miss Haines was sent in response to this call. She is a graduate of Bryn Mawr college and for a time was engaged in social work in this city. In 1917 she volunteered for relief work in Russia and was stationed in Moscow. After the overthrow of Kerensky, Miss Haines fled with other refugees to Siberia where she worked at Omsk. Later she returned to America via Vladivostok.

YEP! IT PAYS TO BE A GOOD KICKER

Quarterback Carey of Cornell has an educated toe. He is one of the few punters of the east who has been able to get distance—that is, when the paper line behind which he has been playing could hold back the onslaught of the opponents.

By LORRY A. JACOBS, N. E. A. Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Puntin', puntin', who's got the puntin'? That's the question of the hour on eastern gridirons.

And the answer is, "Nobody." The puntin' apparently got lost in the shuffle. There has been a remarkable dearth of good booting on eastern fields this year—more remarkable because there were some really great kickers last year and some of these hold over.

TWO HOLDOVERS. Chief among the holdovers and probably possessing the greatest kicking ability to the east, although they have not shown it consistently, are Joe Scheerer of Princeton and Carey of Cornell. Both of them are side-wheelers and can kick long, twisting spirals, getting distance, direction and everything else that is needed if they have the chance.

DOBIE'S KICKER. Carey has been almost a total disappointment, although it is very probably not his fault. In the Cornell-Dartmouth game, although he kicked one of the prettiest drop kicks seen this season, about five of Carey's punts were blocked, and one of these blocked punts resulted in seven points for Dartmouth.

SCHEEER UNIQUE. As for Scheerer, he occupies one of the most unique positions in football. He appears in the lineup as fullback, but there is hardly a play on the Princeton repertoire that calls for and he often has to be taken out when the going becomes too rough. But it certainly isn't because Joe has a single daub of yellow in his makeup, for he has been known to stand up under some of the heaviest punishment that a football player is compelled to take.

If Joe Scheerer of Princeton couldn't kick he wouldn't be in the 'Tiger' lineup, for he is seldom called upon to carry the ball. They save him for kicking purposes entirely. Joe puts so much into his spirals that he is often carried clear off the ground.

And there are a lot of coaches who agree with Bill Roper that a real punter or like Scheerer, even with a slight frame, is worth a dozen big huskies who haven't many other qualifications besides avoirdupois.

O'NEILL SAYS. Says Buck O'Neill: "I'd rather have a good punter on my team than any other single thing. Being able to make it hard for the other team to get on your territory is what good punting does, and it counts as much as carrying the ball—or more. I have experienced great difficulty in getting football players who are able to put their whole bodies in a punt. Scheerer certainly does it, and so does Carey of Cornell."

CHORUS KICKERS. Of course, punting has a value that not many people realize. Just think of the job the boys could get with musical comedies after they get out of college.

Says Colonel Savage: "The hardest thing in the theatrical game is to find either chorus girls or chorus men who can kick well. Yes, it pays to be a kicker."

Backache? Rheumatism? Run-down?

Those of us who are past middle age are prone to eat too much meat and in consequence deposit lime-salts in the arteries, veins and joints. We often suffer from twinges of rheumatism or lumbago, sometimes from gout, swollen hands or feet. There is no longer the slightest need of this, however, as the new prescription, "An-uric," usually gives immediate results as it is many times more potent than lithia, in ridding the impoverished blood of its poisons by way of the kidneys. It can be obtained at almost any drug store. Ask for Dr. Pierce's "An-uric" (anti-uric acid) for kidneys or backache, or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.
