BRYAN HAS HIS VIEWS

He Says Morgan Should Not Name Democratic Candidate

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 15.—"The tariff question is one that is most talked about, and no doubt it will occupy a prominent place in the campaign, but the Democratic party can not ignore the fact that back of the tariff, back of the trusts and back of the railroads and the Wall Street oligarchy, as heartless as a band of pirates and as despotic as the czar or the sultan ever were. And that is why I am not willing that J. P. Morgan pick out the Democratic candidate."

This was William J. Bryan's reply when asked today what he regarded as the principal issues in the coming presidential campaign.

HUNTSVILLE SCHOOLS CLOSED

Half a dozen or more cases of measles of rather an aggravated form and the fear that many of the children of the town have been exposed, have caused the health officers to order the Huntsville schools closed for one week, beginning this morning. No meetings were held yesterday and no public gatherings of any kind will be permitted until after the quarantine has been lifted.

Dr. T. B. Beatty, president of the state board of health, has been advised of the situation and he has sent word to the Weber county health officers that he will visit Huntsville this afternoon, or Tuesday morning. It is said that one child has a malignant form of disease, but the doctors who have examined the case are not agreed as to what it is. Some of the physicians pronounce it diphtheria, while others say it is measles. Dr. Beatty will undertake to solve the problem.

It is said by the health officers that conditions in Huntsville are not such as to cause alarm, but it is desired to get control of the contagion at its inception and avoid closing the schools longer than one week.

During the quarantine, the schools will be carefully disinfected and every precaution taken against the spread of the disease.

The cases so far known are thought to have been brought to Huntsville from other sections of the country.

WARNING IS TOO LATE

Wife Tries to Save Her Husband From Three Thugs

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—Assemblyman John E. Mullanley, member of the last California legislature, was shot and killed by three robbers in his saloon here early today. Mullanley reached under the bar for a revolver when the men ordered him to throw up his hands but he was shot before he could use it. He died an hour later. The men escaped.

A warning from Mullanley's wife came a few seconds too late to save his life. She was watching at the window of their residence, a few yards from the saloon, for her husband's home-coming, and saw three men skulking in the darkness near the street intersection. Fearing they were waiting to waylay her husband, as he was taking home the night's receipts, she immediately telephoned the saloon. The telephone bell rang as the three bandits entered, and the call was not answered.

The barkeeper, Jack Tierney, and three patrons were in the saloon and saw the shooting. Mullanley was president of the Union labor delegation in the senate. He served his first term in the 39th session. He had announced his intention of becoming a candidate for the state senate next year.
