PREACHING AND PRACTICE.

The esteemed Richmond Christian Advocate is out on a long editorial article deprecating the amount of passion that has been aroused in the minds of the American people in reference to the Maine and makes a forcible and eloquent plea for conservatism, a suspension of judgment and peace if it can be secured without sacrificing national honor. Had our esteemed contemporary stopped there it would have been well, but instead of that it immediately proceeds not to "practice what it preaches" by sitting in judgment upon the navy and naval officers and the men who form the crews of the various vessels that fly the stars and stripes from their mast heads. It delivers "snap" judgment as to the cause of the disaster which sent the Maine to the bottom and with an utter disregard of all the evidence so far made public decides that the explosion must have been of internal origin. Considering the fact that the editor of the Advocate has no special means of securing "inside" information in reference to a subject of this nature, it strikes one rather forcibly that there has been no "suspension of judgment" on his part. In addition to this he has allowed his zeal to betray him into making remarks which are neither chivalrous nor just about a large body of American citizens about whom he probably knows nothing.

It is announced that the Hon. Hazen Pingree will receive the nomination for governor of Michigan on the Populist ticket. The leaders of the middle-of-the-road Republicans have long been casting slurs on Mr. Pingree's loyalty to the party, and we have no doubt that they will utilize this latest evidence of his favor among the "p-p-p" as a solar plexus blow at the potato philanthropist's ambition to secure the Republican nomination for re-election.

It is announced that Mr. Reed is being severely criticised for his effort to block legislation looking to the construction of proper coast defenses. If past experience is a fair criterion the Hon. Thomas B. won't lie awake at night worrying over the criticisms of his esteemed and beloved constituents.

Do not deceive yourselves, Mr. Jingo; don't conclude that because the conservative citizens is calling a halt on your war-cry that he will not be the first to face the enemy in case of war. The jingo will send his wife's relatives. —Florida Citizen.

But suppose his relatives are jingoes, too?

It looks as if the lion-like Dons have come to the conclusion that it requires something more than a "bluff bluff" to take a nation through the narrows of international complications.

In the meantime Secretary Sherman is actively engaged in saying nothing.

And now Spain professes that she did not know it was loaded.

Everybody says so.
