

RECOVERED IN THE SIXTH

Locals Made Bad Start But Finish Was all Right.

FANS SEEMED TO BE SATISFIED

Score Was Five to One In Favor of Portsmouth When Battle Was Half Over, But It Stood Eleven to Six for Shipbuilders Later.

With the figures five to one against them, and but four sessions more to go, the Shipbuilders created a panic in the ranks of Watson's aggregation of ball tossers from Portsmouth at the Casino park yesterday afternoon by serving up the "hit and run" game with all the frills, and easily carried off the honors by a margin of 11 to 6. While the fireworks lasted, the five hundred or more "fans" that were gathered in the park yelled themselves almost hoarse and then went home to supper, apparently well satisfied with the game.

The first explosion occurred in the ending of the sixth inning after two hands were down. Ernest started the fun by working a free pass and Watson helped matters by fumbling Marable's grounder. Mooney followed by driving a two sneaker into the center garden and Ernest raced home. Hughes dumped a slow one to Foster and was safe and O'Brien walked after being hit in the back. John O'Hara took a free pass and forced Mooney over the rubber. With every sack populated Maloney smashed a neat single into short left field, and Hughes and O'Brien counted. Meade, however, proved an easy out and the session was over.

Visitors Tie Score. Portsmouth knotted the score in the seventh on two singles and an error, and after changing about its infield, treated the locals to a goose egg in their half of the session.

After retiring the visitors in one, two, three order in the eighth, however, the home team again set the merry-go-round in motion and before the inning closed five more runners had knocked at the counting room door. Mooney walked, but was forced at second by Hughes who raced around to the second station on Ozman's wild throw in an attempt at a double. O'Brien was hit a second time and O'Hara beat a slow one to short and the sneaks were full. Maloney dumped a short grounder to Ozman, who fumbled it and Hughes scored. Meade tapped a slow one to Foster who failed to field it and O'Brien counted. After recovering the ball Foster threw wild to home and O'Hara crossed the rubber. Meade counted a minute later on a passed ball and Derrish rapped out a safe one, stole second and counted on Ozman's wild throw to first.

Near Nothing

It is near nothing to be without a house of your own, be it ever so humble. True it is cheaper in most cases to rent, but by no means satisfactory. There is pleasure in looking after the shrubbery and keeping in good order your own place.

No dread of rent being raised. No cousin of the owner when repairs are neglected.

No hurting of your conscience because you allowed the pipes to burst. Instead of burning the fences or boards of the outhouses, you repair it in time, fix one hinge on the blind or gate before both are broken, many little things can be done to save the owner money which cost the landlord dearly if neglected and which the tenant must pay for in the end either in worry or money.

We have hundreds of houses for sale at less than you can now build one for, why not see what you can do with us. It's little trouble to see us at

"EAGLES DAY" IS SET

Five Thousand "Birds" Coming Here September 4.

WILL BE GU'STS OF LOCAL AERIE

Grand Aerie Meets for Annual Convention in Norfolk and Two Special Boats Have Been Chartered to Bring Visitors Over Here.

September 4 has been set aside as "Eagles Day" in Newport News and that day the city will be surrendered to some 5,000 or more "Birds" from all parts of the United States who will journey to Tidewater to attend the annual convention of the Grand Aerie at Norfolk during the first week of September.

The visitors will arrive here from the city across the Roads on two chartered steamers, and will be the guests during the entire day of Newport News Aerie, No. 553, which is making extensive preparations for their entertainment.

The Eagles will be welcomed to the city by Mayor Samuel R. Duxton and the worthy president of the local aerie will make them a welcoming address on behalf of the Newport News "Birds." After being entertained at the lodge home, the visitors will march in a parade, which probably will be the largest ever seen here. Following the parade they will be entertained at an old-fashioned clam bake at the Casino.

Every effort will be made to show the visiting Eagles an enjoyable time and when they return to their homes they no doubt will have a good word to say for Newport News in connection with their trip to Tidewater and the Jamestown Exposition.

The local Aerie will be well represented at the convention, which promises to be the most successful and largely attended in the history of the organization.
