WAS A PLEASURE TO PARDON THIS MAN

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—In pardoning George L. Chandler, who killed W. P. Surratt in Argenta January 27th, Acting Governor Robertson made the following endorsement: "I pardoned Chandler because the man he killed had invaded his home. The proof, as I understand it, showed that Surratt, the deceased, took advantage of his absence and under the guise of friendship ruined his home, disgraced his children and then openly boasted of it. 'While I deprecate promiscuous homicide, yet when the cause which prompts one to an intolerable act is as in this case, it certainly is a pleasure to me to issue a pardon.'"

WHEN A MAN'S FIFTY

When the average man reaches the age of fifty years, his body begins to creak a little at the hinges. Motion is more slow and deliberate. Not so young as he used to be. It is a frequent and unexpected thing which strikes itself. Little indulgences in the way of rich food and stimulating drinks must be foregone. Certain bodily functions, upon which good health and good spirits so much depend, are impaired. As a rule, the weak spot is

THE BLADDER

When this organ becomes affected, even in a slight degree, it gives rise to most unpleasant symptoms. Painful and annoying complications in other organs arise, and a generally disagreeable condition exists. This is particularly true with elderly people. The important feature of the matter is that the trouble can be obtained and cured. A remedy is at hand which is at the same time effective and inexpensive—GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES.

This old-fashioned, time-honored home remedy stands without an equal as an effective and sure remedy for all Bladder, Kidney, Liver and Stomach troubles. It has been used over 200 years, and thousands testify to its efficacy. Lately, however, many worthless and dangerous imitations have sprung up. The Pure Food and Drug Law is making it difficult for these frauds. The genuine, reliable, trustworthy Haarlem Oil is named GOLD MEDAL.

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL is put up in two forms, in Capsules and Tablets. Capsules 25c, and Tablets, per box. Bottles 15c, and 35c, at all druggists. Be sure you obtain the Gold Medal Tilly brand.

PELLAGRA CLAIMS VIRGINIA VICTIM

DANVILLE, VA., Special.—The victim, occurred Tuesday, the victim being Mrs. Mary E. Putney, aged twenty-seven, wife of S. J. Putney, a cotton mill operative. She had long been ill, but did not consult a physician until last Saturday.

The symptoms are distinctly those of the Italian malady, beginning with eruptions and peeling skin on hands and arms and subsequently by muscular emaciation. Mrs. Putney came here in July from Greensboro, where she is believed to have contracted the disease. She was in the last stages of the disease before consulting a physician, Dr. S. E. Hughes.

LEMENSE LOSS FROM MEXICAN CLOUDBURST

MEXICO CITY—Special.—It is feared that scores of persons have lost their lives in the flooded tobacco district.

Reports received here from the cloudburst, the inundation of towns and the destruction of thousands of homes.

First estimates of the damage were too low, according to later news. A large stretch of country from the Mecalpa River to the Huamantla is desolated and along the Mecalpa River a dozen cities are under water. Aid is asked for the sufferers.

Woman's Department

In general fruit stains may be removed by boiling water. Hold the stain over a bowl and pour boiling water over the stain until it disappears. Sometimes the use of warm alcohol will hasten the process. Heat the alcohol in a double boiler and soak the stain well in it. Then use the boiling water. If the stain still persists, javelle water may be used. However, use this carefully on colored fabrics, for there is danger of fading the material. If the color is changed, try to restore it by wiping over with strong ammonia water.

A New Collar.

Another surprise has come to light in the new craze, which has appeared to add to the myriads already at the disposal of madam. This latest addition is intended to wear with simple collarless gowns, and the new bit of peckwear is nothing more nor less than a leather dog collar. It takes the place of the broad band of velvet ribbon allowable in the evening, but not in the morning, and if it does not fulfill its promise to protect the delicate throat during a morning's shopping tour, it is at least one of fashion's fads.

Butter-Making by Frezer.

With the milk from one cow at my disposal I found before me a difficulty that has presented itself to many a housewife—how to make nice, sweet butter with such a small quantity of cream everyday during the hot weather and with just the ordinary facilities at command. To stir it into butter meant a pat of nice butter, but that was a task that consumed a great deal of time. On the other hand, to keep it until there was enough to churn in the small churn meant less in quality, for the cream became very sour.

The suggestion of a neighbor that I utilize an ice cream freezer as a churn has proved a boon to me. Besides the small quantity of cream that can be churned, the work can be done in an incredibly short time. For the amount of cream that I have about one hundred and twenty-five revolutions of the crank are usually sufficient to bring the butter. The freezer has still another advantage over the churn, and that is its ease with which it is cleaned. I shall continue to use it during the winter as well as the summer.

A New Way to Can Tomatoes.

Last summer I tried a new method of canning tomatoes, and it proved so satisfactory that I want to pass it on.

Scald and peel the tomatoes as usual. Have the can sterilized, place the raw tomatoes in them whole, pour in boiling water to fill the cans, running a knife around the cans so that all the crevices are filled, then put on the cover. Place the cans in a boiler or large vessel, pour in boiling water till it reaches the neck of the can, put the lid on the boiler, wrap it with a blanket or rug, and leave until the water is cold, which will be the next morning. The cans are then ready to put away. I did not lose a can out of forty-quarts. When the cans were opened the tomatoes were whole and firm enough to slice easily.

HOME-MADE CANDIES.

Old-time Butter Scotch.—Put three pounds of light brown sugar in an enameled kettle with three-fourths of a pound of butter. Place over a moderate fire to melt; let it boil until thick, stirring all the while to prevent scorching. Take the kettle from the fire and pour the boiling hot liquid into the buttered tins or upon a large flat metal platter. When stiff enough mark off into big squares, and when cold break these apart and wrap each square in wax paper.

Peanut Candy is in Charleston, S. C.—This delectable sweet is called "groundnut cake" in Charleston, and a fine molasses is used for it instead of sugar. Remove the shells and skins from the roasted peanuts, and divide each nut in half; but the brittle cake that shows the whole nut is the dearest goodie in the Southern city by the sea. Then put two heaping tablespoons of butter and the juice of one lemon in a quart of New Orleans molasses and boil it with careful stirring until it thickens. Then take the vessel from the fire and dump in the nuts, mixing them well with the molasses. When the mixture is chilled enough to permit its being fairly hard "when it is put," drop a light tablespoonful in divided blobs along a flat buttered tin. The moment for eating the cakes is when they have become as brittle as glass. The Charleston "mammy" uses a slab of old white marble for the chilling purpose, and calls them "sox for B' cent," looking as if she had been as beat as a pin about the business in her still purple calico and red head-band, and calling out melodiously as she waddles along, "Groundnut cake! Groundnut cake!" They are a winter dainty, and things exiled hearts never forget.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Your Mission.

If you cannot in the conflict Prove yourself a soldier true; If there fire and smoke are thickest There is work for you to do; When the battlefield is silent You can go with careful tread You can bear away the wounded, You can cover up the dead.

Do not then stand idly waiting For some greater work to do, Fortune is a lazy goddess, She will never come to you, Go and toil in any vineyard, Do not fear to do or dare, If you want a field of labor You can find it anywhere.

"We picture death as coming to destroy; let us rather picture Christ as coming to save. We think of death as ending; let us rather think of life as beginning. We think of going away; let us think of arriving. And as the voice of death whispers, 'You must go from earth,' let us hear the voice of Christ saying, 'You are but coming to me.'"—Norman McLeod.

If you have not gold and silver, Ever ready to command; If you cannot toward the needy Reach an ever open hand, You can visit the afflicted, Or the erring you can weep; You can be a true disciple Sitting at the Savior's feet.

If you cannot in the harvest Garner up the richest sheave, Many a grain both ripe and golden Will the careless reapers leave. Go and glean among the briers Growing rank against the wall, For it may be their shadows Hide the harvest wheat of all.

LAY CORNERSTONE OF HANDSOME CHURCH

NORFOLK, VA.—Special.—The cornerstone of the handsome new Christ Church, to cost $125,000, at the corner of Stockley Garden and Olney Road, was laid yesterday afternoon with imposing Masonic ceremonies. The membership of the church is one of the largest and most influential in the city.

Attending the exercises were many prominent people, and the crowds about the church were so dense that there was no passing along the streets for a time.

The Masonic ceremonies were conducted under the auspices of Norfolk Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., with Most Worshipful Grand Master Joseph W. Eggleston, of Richmond, serving as conductor. Right Rev. Alfred McGill Randolph, of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Virginia, himself a member of the Masonic fraternity, conducted the religious services, assisted by Right Rev. Hester D. Danbridge Tucker, coadjutor bishop of the diocese. Bishop Randolph with his own hands directed the laying of the cornerstone.

The cornerstone of the old Christ Church, laid in 1827, was on Wednesday removed, that its contents might be placed in the new stone, but most of the contents had disappeared, water having gotten into them. Two metal plates, with data engraved on them, bearing on the laying of the stone, were about all left in it.

The Joy of Life.

Gay, with a ringing laugh you went, Welcoming the unknown; A gypsy born, though you did not dream.

How long the germ was sown; Out on the sea with a gay farewell, And no thought of the coming day; For such the three fates must have splendid ends, Life's joys in rich array.
