

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the specific remedy for that tired feeling so common in the spring or upon the return of warm weather. It purifies and enriches the blood.

Get it to-day in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

POSITIVE STAND FOR TEMPERANCE

Louisville, Ky., May 21.—Though the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America did not act on a recommendation of one man, who wanted the assembly to memorialize the Federal government to prohibit the manufacture, importation and distribution of intoxicating beverages, it took a very positive stand on the temperance question today. Congressional legislation to prohibit interstate shipment of liquor to prohibition State or Districts was endorsed.

Still further use of the Bible in the curriculum of the Christian colleges of the country is urged in the report of the college board made today. Before aid is given Presbyterian colleges, the board requires statements that the faculty is composed of men who shall exercise a strong Christian influence. The board in the past year has received and disbursed more than $100,000.

Criticism that college students are ignorant of the Bible is answered in the report of the board by the statement that this ignorance is mostly of the Bible as a book, though the students are proficient in studies of books of the Bible. More careful attention to the book itself is urged.

FOUR HELD FOR TRIAL

Three Men and One Woman Jointly Charged With Murder. Laura Reuter, Guy D. McKenzie, Grover Bell, McKenzie's chauffeur, and Joe Baker, jointly charged with murder in connection with the shooting of Charles T. Reuter, the woman's husband, were ordered held for trial before the District Court at the conclusion of their preliminary hearing late today. Mrs. Reuter, a prominent attorney of Tulsa, was found dead at his home on the morning of May 5, with two bullet wounds in his head. The arrests followed.

Because of the prominence of the parties involved the hearing attracted unusual attention, particularly from women making up the greater part of the audience during the taking of testimony, which extended through a week.

No Quorum.

The Council Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform, failed of a quorum last night. Messrs. Butler, Kuhn and Hirschberg were the only members present. Chairman Ulmuth was reported out of the city several of the members had been at an extended meeting of the Street Committee yesterday afternoon and were unable to return last night, and the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Nominee for Mayor of Bristol

GEORGE M. WARREN.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Bristol, Va., May 21.—In all probability the next mayor of Virginia Bristol will be George M. Warren, a young lawyer. The political sensation of the month was the nomination of Mr. Warren in a Democratic primary on April 7. Pitted against him was Captain William L. Rice, the veteran mayor, who had served three terms in succession and had never known defeat. Mr. Warren, a farmer-merchant of South-west Virginia, was graduated from Emory and Henry College in 1904. He taught in the Washington county public schools four years, and then took the law course in the University of Virginia. He came to Bristol to practice law in October, 1910. He practiced on year alone, then formed a partnership with James L. Davis, under the firm name of Davis & Warren. The municipal election will take place June 11. The Republican candidates for the honor are: Former Mayor Chas. F. Gauthier and George W. Hammitt.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau. The Times-Dispatch, 103 Hill Street, Phone Madison 116.

Suspected of robbing C. D. Jones, of Beaver Dam, of $100 and a pair of shoes, Russell Farmer, two years old, was arrested last night by Officer J. A. Baughman as he stepped from the 9 o'clock Petersburg car. Farmer and a companion, Willie Shepherdson, were taken to the Third Police Station, where they were searched. Less than $10 was found on the pair. They were held for appearance in the Police Court, Part 2, this morning.

The crime of which Farmer is suspected occurred Saturday night when he is alleged to have stolen the money and shoes from Jones, who was lying drunk under the Chesapeake and Ohio Viaduct. Farmer was seen Monday night with a large roll of money in his possession and was wearing an shoe, such as were stolen from Jones. He has been in trouble frequently. About a year ago he was sentenced to serve nine months on the roads for the theft of shoes from a box car. After serving a short time he was pardoned. Later he was caught in the police dragnet, and together with thirty others sent to the City Jail for six months for vagrancy. Another pardon was secured.

Farmer last night denied all knowledge of the robbery. The money which he had was, he claimed, given him yesterday morning by his employer.

Excited Officer Frightens Many. Many women and children were thrown into a panic late Monday night when several rounds when Officer Angel, a new addition to the police force, fired three times at a fleeing negro. The shots, according to some, were fired in the air, but many were positive that they heard the hum of the bullets as they whizzed by their ears.

The trouble arose over a fight between two negroes. Angel, who was in plain clothes, intervened and attempted to put one of the men under arrest. This, however, and without ceremony dumped Angel to the ground in a sprawling heap. Before he could get to his feet the other man disappeared. In a few minutes a small boy pointed out a negro as the culprit. The man ran and was shot by the excited officer. He escaped, but the Southside police are confident of nabbing him to-day.

Merchant Summoned to Court. Charging that he did unlawfully expose for sale and known as "V. S. Smith's Food," without having the State Inspection tag attached, Officer Wiley yesterday caused a summons to be issued for M. F. Johnson, Southside merchant. The case, set for this morning in the Police Court, Part 2. More than fifteen summonses have been issued for persons who failed to report out their business licenses for the year. Others will be issued to-morrow unless there is a great rush on Commissioner of Revenue Service.

Property Chances Haunted. In the Hustings Court, Part 2, yesterday afternoon, the rights and interests of residential property were offered for registration. The first from Mary A. Evans to Margaret L. Naylor, was for the property known as the West Ninth Street. The lot is 30 feet wide and 125 feet deep. The other, Leo T. Chapman acquired from Mrs. H. Bass, a piece of property known as 174 Bainbridge Street, and a frontage of twenty-four feet and a depth of 33 feet, for a consideration of $1,500.

The Five Dollars Fines. Justice H. A. Maurice yesterday morning in the Police Court, Part 2, saw everything in a row. The first was a case of an offender who appeared on the docket for sundry offenses. Louis Livsey, Ernest Irving and Willie Smith, colored, and John Brown, each paid $5 and costs for rolling the tires. Charles Logan, colored, who administered the unhandy chastisement to his spouse, paid $5.

The case of Alfred Logan Scott, charged with fighting, was continued until a witness can be located. Census-Takers to Meet. The men who have volunteered to assist next Tuesday in taking the great annual census will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the Meade Memorial Episcopal Church to receive instructions in field work. The movement is not conducted by any particular denomination, but is done through co-operation of all. More than 100 Southside men are expected.

Small Fire; No Damage. On a still alarm at 10 o'clock last night Eugene Company No. 12 responded to Miller & Miller's Stocking Company's plant at Seventh and Stockton Streets, and without difficulty extinguished a small blaze in a pile of shavings in the boiler-room. No damage was done.

Money for Park Work. The Finance Committee of the City Council last night recommended the appropriation of $2,000 to complete the improvements on Washington Park, which were halted in the most important stage by lack of funds. Among the work which remains to be done

Mr. Warren had not long been a resident of Bristol. The fact that he received such a large plurality was due in part to the fact that he had the hearty co-operation of members of the order of Elks.

Young Warren is a son of T. J. Warren, a farmer-merchant of South-west Virginia. He was graduated from Emory and Henry College in 1904. He taught in the Washington county public schools four years, and then took the law course in the University of Virginia. He came to Bristol to practice law in October, 1910. He practiced on year alone, then formed a partnership with James L. Davis, under the firm name of Davis & Warren.

The municipal election will take place June 11. The Republican candidates for the honor are: Former Mayor Chas. F. Gauthier and George W. Hammitt.

is laying of the concrete walks in the square and erecting a concrete wall around the park. This is done the grading cannot be finished nor can the grass seed be sown. The park is now a barren spot in the half fronting on Hill Street, while the back is in almost a bad condition.

Personal Mention. Miss Patterson, who has been visiting her sister in San Antonio, Tex., has returned to her home at Forest Hill. Mrs. Samuel Owens and family have closed their city home and are spending a month with Hugh Owens at Forest Hill. Mrs. Paulet, who has been visiting Mrs. George Paul, has returned to her home in Farmville.

Nurses Will Graduate.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Alexandria, Va., May 21.—Four nurses at the Alexandria Hospital, having completed their course, will graduate as such Tuesday night next. The ceremonies will take place in the auditorium of the Elks' Home. An address will be made by Representative C. C. Carlin. There will be a musical and literary program. The nurses are: Miss Emma Giles Wayne, Fairfax county, Va.; Miss Olga Dent, Po's Creek, Md.; Miss Sarah Shoets, Martinsburg, W. Va.

Woman's Secret Made Public

Remarkable Tale of a Woman's Misery and How She Was Relieved of it. Here Told On Her Own Request

Big Sandy, Tenn.—"I had to suffer seven (7) long, dreary years," writes Mrs. Lucy Cantrell, of this place.

"Every two weeks I had to stay in bed several days, and no words can describe my misery on these occasions.

Womany trouble was the cause of it. My poor husband had paid out more than one hundred dollars for other medicines when I finally commenced to take Cardui.

Five bottles helped me.

I think Cardui is the best medicine for women on earth, and if my statement will do anything to help some other suffering woman you can publish it."

Many ladies write to this effect, feeling that by so doing they will help other suffering women to get well by following their experience. To you, among others, this message is sent.

For there are days when you, too, need a strengthening medicine, a tonic.

Nobody knows when those days come so well as you.

When they do come, don't go around hopelessly with a feeling as if everything were wrong, but do as others have done. Just take a dose or two of Cardui.

Try it next time.

BOARD TO SELECT PLACE OF MEETING

Dallas, Tex., May 21.—The officers conference of the Associated Advertisers Clubs of America to-day developed a strong sentiment to adopt rules before this convention adjourns, which will end struggles at future gatherings for the next convention city. The plan is to give the board of directors power to name the place of holding the convention each year, and to avoid contests by different cities before the general convention. It also is the sense of the officers of the association that entertainment at convention cities shall be limited to the evening, in order that the days may be given to work.

The standardization of requirements for admission into advertising clubs affiliated with the association and of the requirements for that affiliation were also discussed. The sentiment prevailed that only bona fide advertising men, buyers and sellers of advertising, should be eligible to membership. A commission will be appointed to make an investigation and report on local advertising conditions all over the United States, according to action taken to-day.

San Francisco, Baltimore and Toronto are the contending cities for the 1913 convention. That decision and election of officers will be made Thursday. Six conferences, each devoted to a discussion of an important advertising subject, were held during the morning session to-day, and in the afternoon the delegates assembled in general convention to discuss, as a whole, all of the questions considered in the conference.

To-night the president's reception was held, more than 4,000 persons attending. To-morrow the advertising men will be the guests of Fort Worth, thirty miles distant, where a program of entertainment has been provided. Special trains will return the crowd to Dallas Wednesday night.

The final sessions will be held Thursday, and Friday morning the visitors will start upon a circle tour of Texas.

JOHN POWELL IN DANVILLE.

Celebrated Pianist Receives Rounds of Applause.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Danville, Va., May 21.—John Powell, the pianist, played to a well-filled hall here to-night. His program was magnificently rendered and he received rounds of applause after each number. He was presented with numerous bouquets, and Harry Ficklen, on behalf of the people of Danville, after presenting him with a large bouquet of mountain laurel, thanked him for his splendid performance and paid a high tribute to his musical powers.

There is Room

in Richmond—and there is public need—for just one Water Supply System. Do YOU think for one moment that the City Council would or should permit any corporation to set up a rival water works and occupy the streets with miles of mains and pipe lines in order to sell water to the citizens in competition with the City Plant?

"Oh, but," you say, "water is a necessity of life, and is therefore the one public utility above all others which the City should own and operate and maintain as a natural monopoly."

Very well. It happens that the City owns and operates the GAS WORKS—the only Gas Works for which there is either room or public need in Richmond. Is it possible that the City Council would grant a franchise to any corporation to engage in the gas business in competition with the City Plant?

There is room and there is public need for ONLY ONE SYSTEM for supplying Electric Light and Power to the people of Richmond. Electricity has become a necessity to the progress and prosperity of the modern city—a necessity of civic life, if not of individual life.

Whether it be a municipal department or a private corporation, the instrumentality that supplies the public with water, or gas, or electric light and power does not merely deal in a commodity, but does perform a public service. The providing of Electric Service is just as much an affair of co-operation as the providing of water or gas service. Public service in any of these things cannot be established or maintained without the public's co-operation.

As public utilities, water, gas and electricity are in exactly the same class. And it is a fundamental and axiomatic principle of the whole class that ONE SOURCE OF SUPPLY AND ONE DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM FOR EACH UTILITY (whether water, or gas, or electricity) MEANS THE BEST SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY AND A MINIMUM COST TO THE CONSUMER.

That principle is not affected in the slightest degree by the fact that Electric Service is provided in Richmond by the Virginia Railway and Power Company. The service so provided is efficient and excellent, and the rates charged for this service are exceptionally low. No man can honestly deny that.

To permit competition in Electric Service for Light and Power here in Richmond, would be just as WRONG TO THE PUBLIC—just as much AGAINST THE PUBLIC INTEREST AND THE PUBLIC WELFARE—as to permit the establishment of rival gas and water works to duplicate services rendered by the City.

That is the most important consideration for YOU and for YOUR representatives in the City Council in the matter of the application that has been made to that body for an electric light and power franchise.

There's more to tell you about this. Watch for it in to-morrow's paper.

Virginia Railway and Power Company, William Northrop, President.

OMNIBUS CLAIMS BILL IS CHANGED

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, D. C., May 21.—Unless Senators Martin and Swanson can have the House items retained in the omnibus claims bill, Virginians will lose something like $200,000 as the result of a decision on the part of the Senate Committee on Commerce to knock out practically all such claims in this year's bill. When the bill left the House there was something like 100 items for persons in Virginia and for lodges, associations and churches, these making an aggregate of more than $200,000, which would go to that State should the bills pass as agreed upon by the House. At least three-fourths of these have been killed by the Senate committee.

In the House to-day there was much disappointment when it was discovered what action the Senate had taken, and there were many little conferences as to what was best to do. It was finally agreed that each Senator would write the Senate committee.

NEW SECTIONS THREATENED

Waters in Atchafalaya Section Imperil Lives and Property. New Orleans, La., May 21.—With the work of closing the Hymella crevasse well under way, other available engineers and army officers interested in the relief and rescue work to-day directed their efforts to the Atchafalaya Basin, where crevasse waters are threatening sections heretofore untouched, imperiling lives and property.

Citizens of upper St. Landry parish, after receiving the warning of the United States engineers that waters flowing through the northeastern section of the parish might endanger their lives, to-day fled to Washington, La.

Water in Melville, coming from the Alto break, was reported from six inches to three feet deep in several stores. Those who could get away have already left that town. Engineers and laborers are gathering at Alto, where the work of tying the break will probably start to-morrow.

Flood waters continue to rise at Morgan, where the merchants have created elevated floors in their stores. Captain L. V. Cooley, representing the New Orleans Flood Commission, left for the Black River and Atchafalaya section on the steamer St. James to-day for the purpose of investigating conditions and to report to the committee as to the best method of sending supplies where they are needed most.

A heavy downpour between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon flooded New Orleans streets for twenty minutes or more. Streets in the business sections were small rivers, and it was impossible for pedestrians to venture on many sidewalks.

BOTH CLAIM NORTH CAROLINA

Wilson and Underwood Lead in Recent Primaries.

Raleigh, N. C., May 21.—The returns as far as received from the counties of North Carolina, which last Saturday acted, primarily, to nominate county officers under the provisions of an optional and not compulsory law passed by the last session of the Legislature, shows that only a very small number took even a "stra wvote" on presidential preference—the act not providing for the legal holding of a presidential preference primary.

It is therefore out of the question for any one to accurately forecast what the sentiment of the delegates to the Democratic State Convention next month will be.

The Wilson promoters in the State strongly claim that a decided majority of the people want Wilson, and that the real power being in the people, the State convention ought and probably will send a delegation that at least will be friendly to the New Jersey Governor as first choice. From the Underwood promoters there is a loud claim because of strength displayed in some counties where organization and nine Councilmen are to be elected. Mr. Patterson was defeated for renomination at the recent Democratic mass-meeting, asked for a recount, then withdrew his request. His new move was quite a surprise. Mayor Wooding has no opposition.

Committee on Poor Called. The Council Committee on Relief of the Poor, which failed of a quorum on Monday night, has been called to meet this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the City Home.

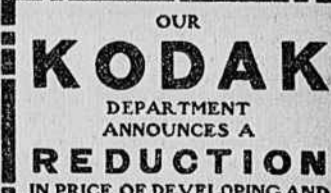

Will Make Independent Race.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Danville, Va., May 21.—W. R. Tanner and J. W. Haraway, D. M. Tanner and Chalmers Patterson have filed their notices of independent candidacy for the Common Council and Board of Aldermen in the coming city election, at which a Mayor, six Aldermen and nine Councilmen are to be elected. Mr. Patterson was defeated for renomination at the recent Democratic mass-meeting, asked for a recount, then withdrew his request. His new move was quite a surprise. Mayor Wooding has no opposition.
