Some civil business of no general interest was transacted.

A meeting was held in Newark, N. J. on Saturday to protest against the acts of the administration in the case of Mr. Vallandigham and others. The attendance was computed at 10,000. About seventy soldiers were in attendance, but the peace was not seriously broken.

At the departure of the Asia from England the result of the fighting in Virginia down to the evening of the 3d of May had been received by the Persia, and had created a great sensation. The next steamer was looked for with much eagerness. The London journals, generally, took it for granted that the U. S. forces would be ultimately defeated, the London Times asserting that Gen. Hooker had committed an "egregious blunder" in his strategy during the conflict.

A letter dated Hilton Head, 24th ult., states on information obtained from deserters and others, "that at least 20,000 men have been sent by Beauregard to Vicksburg."

General Pemberton was obliged to burn tar and other disinfectants, to protect his troops from the intolerable stench. Subsequently a brief cessation of hostilities was agreed upon, so that the dead might be removed and buried.

The steamer Arago, from Port Royal on the 29th, has arrived at New York. She has a large number of officers and soldiers as passengers. Among them Gen. Saxton and staff.

Gen. Hunter has addressed a letter to President Davis, which is dated at Port Royal S. C., April 23, and in which he says: "In the month of August last you declared all those engaged in arming the negroes, to be felons, and directed the immediate execution of all such as should be captured. I have given you long enough to reflect on your folly. I now give you notice that, unless this order is immediately revoked, I will at once cause the execution of every rebel officer and every rebel slaveholder in my possession."

On Friday, for the first time since the issue of Treasury notes commenced, the books at the Department showed a positive decrease in the volume of Government currency. As no more Treasury notes are to be issued, and as all the mutilated notes that are received are immediately destroyed, there must continue to be a decrease until the new national notes are put in circulation.

NEW YORK LETTER.

[Correspondence of the Philadelphia Inquirer.]

NEW YORK, June 1.—Gold was run up several per cent. this afternoon, on the strength of a rumor that Gen. Grant had been finally beaten off from Vicksburg, with a loss of twenty-five thousand prisoners.

Your correspondent tried hard to discover the origin of that canard, but without success. All the leading operators had heard of it; some of them said they believed it, too, but not one of them had seen it, or knew anybody that had seen it. It was said to have come from Richmond; but how it came from Richmond to New York nobody could tell.

The Harper's Ferry news in the Philadelphia Inquirer this morning, touching the advance in that quarter, supplied the quid nunes, in the early part of the day, with a fresh topic.

It was reported this afternoon that the lessees of the Cooper Institute had rescinded their agreement with Fernando Wood & Co., to let them have the use of the hall for their Peace Convention on Wednesday, but on inquiry it is ascertained that such is not the case. The hall has been let to Wood just as it would be to any other set of men who would pay the rent and give a guarantee that if any damage resulted to the property, it would be made good.

The nine men who were arrested by the Provost Guard, on Saturday, for interfering with the Enrolling Officers, were subsequently brought before Judge McCunn, on a writ of habeas corpus, and discharged from custody, on condition that they would report to the Provost Marshal-General, Lieutenant-Colonel Nugent.

The workmen's strikes still occupy more or less public attention.

Sympathy for the Poles has extended to Ireland, and it is said that already £40,000 sterling have been contributed toward raising an Irish brigade to aid the Poles.

A diving bell is being used to explore the bottom of the Susquehanna river, between Perryville and Havre-de-Grace, for the purpose of locating the piers of the railroad bridge. The water is said to be sixty-five feet deep in the channel, and the diver reports the bed of the river literally covered with eels.

The German troops of the Eleventh Army Corps, are to be sent to Washington, where they are placed under General Heintzleman, who has consented to exchange for them an equal number of the American regiments now in his command.
