LATEST NEWS.

[From the Philadelphia Inquirer.]

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Meade's army was in the vicinity of Brandy Station. No fighting occurred yesterday.

The supposition is that all of Lee's army is across the Rapidan river. They occupy Pony Mountain, a short distance beyond Culpeper, and to the left of the railroad, as a signal station, whence they can observe the movements of our army to advantage.

Repairs to the railroad this side of the Rappahannock river are progressing rapidly, and the track is relaid four miles beyond Warrenton Junction. Cars now run to the Junction, where the depot of supplies is established. In a few days the road will be completed to the river, when the depot of supplies will be removed further front. The Rappahannock Bridge, will have to be rebuilt before trains can run to Culpeper. The difficulty of obtaining supplies for Meade's army is the cause of delay in the advance movement, as stores have to be wagoned from twelve to sixteen miles to the point where his army now is.

The Confederates still occupy Fredericksburg in small force, though the retreat of Gen. Lee's Army to the south side of the Rapidan may be a movement to occupy the old grounds of last winter's campaign.

It is not believed here that Lee will give Meade battle unless he is enabled to get some great advantage of position.

The strength of the Confederate army is estimated by shrewd military authority at 30,000 effective men. It will take about ten days to reconstruct the bridge over the Rappahannock river.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Confederate officers captured on the Rappahannock, on Saturday, will be sent to Johnson's Island, near Sandusky, Ohio, and will be confined there.

Two full colored regiments have been secured during the last week or ten days in Maryland, and recruiting goes briskly on.

ARMY OF THE FRONTIER.

General McNeil seems to be in danger of being roughly handled on his return from Fort Scott, Indian Territory. The Indian troops have deserted Blunt's old army. General McNeil's force is now rather small.—Gens. Cooper and Shelby, with their forces, have crossed the Arkansas river, and are now said to be marching to Gen. McNeil's line of retreat, with a view of cutting him off and capturing his valuable supply train.

FROM CHATTANOOGA.

A dispatch from Chattanooga yesterday to the Northern papers says:—"Georgia refugees just in report a considerable movement of Bragg's troops and stores southward. The Confederates are said to be evacuating their position before Chattanooga, and retiring to Rome or Atlanta. Longstreet is said to be organizing a large force for a raid on our lines communicating at Bridgeport. Twenty-two paymasters, with $700,000, are engaged in paying the troops to the first of November.—There was no firing from Lookout Mountain to-day."

AFFAIRS ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—News received to-day from below says that Pres. Davis has sent Commissions to the most notorious of the Bushwhackers in Arkansas, with the view of raising men to carry on the guerrilla warfare. It is reported that the forces under Price and Holmes have retreated to Texas.

Le Temps of this evening reproduces a rumor that the Emperor had invited the Queen of Spain to visit France in the ensuing spring.

It is said that Marshal Neil will go to St. Petersburg on an extraordinary mission during the absence of the Duke De Montebello.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The mission of Marshal Neil to St. Petersburg is presumed to be a last attempt on the part of the Emperor Napoleon to persuade the Czar Alexandria to grant the Poles the concessions which the diplomacy of Europe has hitherto failed to obtain from him. It is however surmised that the Emperor of the French would not be displeased or greatly disappointed if the Poles maintained themselves in insurrection.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A Stockholm journal reports a recent speech of the King of Denmark, in which he declared his readiness, in case of his States being overpowered by Germany, to start a republic, to consist of the Danish Isles.

The King said, "I will descend from the throne, to proclaim the Republic. I am convinced that no people in Europe is more fitted for the republican sceptre than my dear Danish people."

In Hungary the loss arising from the partial or total failure of the crop of hay, wheat, barley, rye and rapeseed is estimated at £10,000,000.
