

The Alexandria Gazette.

VOLUME LXVI.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 15, 1865

NUMBER 128.

PUBLISHED (DAILY) BY
EDGAR SNOWDEN, SR.
 OFFICE—No. 101, King street over
 French's Book Store.

Mr. J. M. Botts denies the accuracy of the statement of the correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, as to his opinions, published yesterday. He affirms that he did not make the remarks attributed to him about Governor Peirpoint, and a provisional government, &c., but that he did say that he could not approve the manner in which the Alexandria Constitution was forced upon the people of Virginia, it having been framed by eleven men and adopted by four or five hundred voters; but that Governor Peirpoint was elected under the Constitution of 1851, and is therefore the legitimate Governor of the State. Mr. Botts denies that he has ever disputed the validity of the West Virginia government. He insists, on the contrary, that the people of the west did right right to set up a loyal government, and admits the legality of the act of separation from the east. He would prefer to see the old State reunited on many accounts, but he regards the question as finally settled. In respect to slavery, Mr. Botts admits that slavery is destroyed by the events of the war; and although he would have preferred a more gradual process, he now acquiesces in the practical result, and thinks the whole people of the State would consent to the incorporation of a prohibitory clause in the Constitution.

Gov. Peirpoint, in reply to an address and resolutions from Albemarle county, stated that "he thought he should be able in less than three weeks to issue writs of election to all the counties in the state, with a franchise which would be acceptable to all"—that after the county officers shall have been elected he would next fall order an election for members of Congress, and the organization being completed, "and the whole subject of the Constitution of the State under the control of the Representatives of the State, they can take then what action wisdom and discretion may direct."

The Baptist General Association of Virginia, in session at Richmond, has adopted resolutions declaring that recent events have not diminished the obligations of the denomination to labor for the spiritual welfare of the black people, while new forms of effort in their behalf should be sought, and every influence tending to alienate the confidence and affection of these people from the white communities, should be discountenanced and counteracted.

The Board of Delegates of the American Israelites have recently had a meeting in New York, where they resolved "to collect facts relating heroic deeds of Jews during the war, so as to form a roll of honor, but more for the purpose of refuting the aspersions thrown upon the character of Jews as patriots and men."

The Philadelphia Ledger thinks that there is no occasion, at this time, for "bullying England and France," and trying to get into another war, just upon the heel of the destructive one just closed.
