LYNCHBURG VIRGINIAN.

VOL. XXIX. "The Rights of the States, and the Union of the States." NO. 68.

TERRY & SHIELDS,] LYNCHBURG, THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 8, 1852. [PROPRIETORS.

TERMS.—The VIRGINIAN is published semi weekly at $4 per annum, in advance. No subscription is taken for a shorter time than six months; and no paper is discontinued, except at the option of the Proprietors, until all arrearges shall have been paid.

ADVERTISEMENTS are inserted for 50 cents per square (or less) for every inner form insertion, and 37½ cents for every outer one. If the number of insertions is not noted on the MS. it will be published till ordered out and charged accordingly.

The YEARLY RATES are:—For the privilege of two squares $40; for one square $25—if inner form $35. Every yearly advertiser will be required to confine his advertising to his particular line of business, and if he exceed the space stipulated for, he will be charged ratably for the excess.

VIRGINIAN JOB OFFICE.—The proprietors of this paper have fitted up an extensive Job-Printing Office in connexion with the newspaper, and are now prepared to execute all kinds of printing in a neat and workmanlike manner, at short notice, and on the lowest terms.

BOOKS,	COURT BLANKS,
BILLS OF LADING,	CARDS,
HAND BILLS,	BY-LAWS,
CIRCULARS,	PAMPHLETS,

and indeed any kind of Job-work, can be nearly cheaply, and expeditiously executed at the VIRGINIAN JOB OFFICE.

Printing done in colours when desired.

The patronage of our town and country friends is respectfully solicited.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SURE CURE!—BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL, where may be obtained the most speedy remedy for Weakness or loss of Organic Powers, Pain in the Loins, Disease of the Kidneys, Affections of the Head, Throat, Nose and Skin, Constitutional Debility, and all those horrid affections arising from certain indiscretions, no matter whether from intemperance, or the use of ardent spirits or any other cause.

TO YOUNG MEN,

especially who have become the victims of evil practices. Alas! what countless numbers of generous and noble hearted beings have been swept to untimely tombs; thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellects, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre.

Those suffering from any of the following melancholy effects, should immediately apply to

DR. JOHNSTON.

Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Forebodings of Evil, Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Office No. 7 SOUTH FREDERICK Street, SEVEN DOORS FROM BALTIMORE ST., East side, UP THE STEPS. ☞ BE PARTICULAR in observing the NAME and NUMBER, or you will mistake the place.

A CURE WARRANTED or no CHARGE MADE,

Take Notice.—Dr. Johnston's Office is in his dwelling, UP THE STEPS. His very extensive practice is a sufficient guarantee that he is the only proper Physician to apply to.

DR. JOHNSTON

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended, sometimes, with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Parents and Guardians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they ascribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, derangement of the Nervous System, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption, also those serious Mental effects, such as loss of Memory, Depression of Spirits or peculiar fits of Melancholy, when the truth is they have been caused by indulging in Pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both Body and Mind. Thus are swept from existence thousands who might have been of use to their Country, a pleasure to their friends and ornaments to Society.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATIVE REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most debilitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have hundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion.—Such persons, before contemplating marriage, should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately.

He who places himself under the care of DR. JOHNSTON, may religiously confide in his honor as a Gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

TO STRANGERS.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last ten years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the Reporters of the papers and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guarantee that the afflicted will find a skilfull and honorable physician.

N. B There are so many ignorant and worthless Quacks advertising themselves as Physicians, ruining the health of the already afflicted, that Dr. Johnston deems it necessary to say, especially to those unacquainted with his reputation that his ore fentials or diplomas always hang in his office.

WEAKNESS OF THE ORGANS.

UNION STEAM-SHIP CO. for PHILADELPHIA.—The splendid Steamships "PENNSYLVANIA" and "VIRGINIA," leave Richmond alternately every five days for Philadelphia.

These steamers are both new and have very superior State-room accommodations.

The Captains are men of much experience in their profession, and we can highly recommend this route to the travelling community, for comfort, speed and economy.

Tobacco manufacturers will find it to their advantage to give this mode of transportation the preference, as being much less likely to deface their boxes in getting them to market.

Goods sent to our consignment for reshipment will receive every attention and be forwarded at the usual rates.

Citizens of Lynchburg or elsewhere, wishing to engage State-rooms in either of these Steamers, before leaving home, can do so, by addressing us.

JUST PUBLISHED, COMPLETE IN TWO VOLUMES, ROYAL 8VO.—The FARMER'S GUIDE to Scientific and Practical Agriculture, alias, the new and only correct edition of "STEPHENS' BOOK OF THE FARM." BY HENRY STEPHENS, F. R. S., OF EDINBURGH. With an American Appendix, by J. P. NORTON, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, New Haven.

This work embraces every subject of importance connected with Agriculture in all its various branches, both theoretical and practical. "Its clear and copious details, the fullness and accuracy of its information, the completeness of every illustration, have, in an Agricultural work on practice, never been equalled." It is arranged under four separate heads, represented by the four seasons of the year—Winter, Spring, Summer, and Autumn—and the notes of Professor NORTON are appended in the same order, adding greatly to the value of the work by adapting it to the soil, climate, growth, &c., of this country. The united labors of such distinguished writers constitute this the most complete and valuable Agricultural work ever issued from the press. It comprises two large royal 8vo. volumes, and contains 1600 pages, besides 14 splendid steel engravings, and about 600 engravings on wood. The latter illustrate almost every implement of husbandry now in use; the various methods of plowing, planting, &c., &c.; and the former, the domestic animals, the farm-steading, &c.

LETTER FROM MR. STEPHENS.

"EDDRAE COTTAGE, EDINBURGH. }
"Sept. 30, 1851. }

"MESSRS. LEONARD SCOTT & CO.,

"Gentlemen I beg to say that your 'Farmer's Guide' is the only genuine edition published in the United Stats of America of my work, the 'Book of the farm.' The edition circulating at present in the States, under the title of the 'Book of the Farm,' is taken from the first edition of my work, written ten years ago, wich in my second edition, I entirely remodelled, and in great part re-wrote, adopting all the more recent improvements in the practice of Agriculture suggested by scientific experiments, and making it, in effect, quite a new book.

"I am, Sirs, your obedient Servant,
HENRY STEPHENS."

Notices of the Press.

FARMER'S GUIDE.—The concluding No. of this work is upon our table, and we but repeat the numerous verdicts of the Agricultural press, in saying that it is among the most complete and reliable of the contributions of scientific and practical Agriculture. The arrangement of the work is convenient for reference, the illustrations beautiful, the language plain, clear, intelligible, and truthful. The work comprises two royal 8vo. vols. of 1600 pages, including 600 woodcuts and 14 steel engravings.—Ohio Cultivator.

THE FARMER'S GUIDE.—This work is a rich mine of Agricultural knowledge, presented in a simple and familiar style, giving copious details of the best practice on English farms, and adapted to general use in this country by the judicious notes of the American editor. The intelligent farmer will find it very attractive reading. In the comparison between English and American husbandry, for which it furnishes ample materials, he may obtain many valuable hints for increasing the product of his own acres. The mental stimulus given by the perusal of such writings is quite as important as their more immediate purposes. * * *—New York Tribune.

The work is elegantly printed on thick white paper, from the English stereotype plates, and is neatly bound in emblematic gilt of various styles.

John N. Robertson & Co., who sue for the benefit of Benjamin M. Robertson, Plaintiffs.

against

Philip Watkins and Andrew B. Baker, adm'r of Edward Watkins dec'd, Defendants.

IN CHANCERY.

The object of this suit is to subject the interest of Philip Watkins in the estate of his deceased brother, Edward Watkins, to the satisfaction of a judgment at law rendered in favor of the plaintiffs against the said Philip, for the sum of $71 73 cts., with interest from the 6th day of April, 1849; also $13 93 cts costs.

And it appearing by affidavit filed, that the said defendant Philip Watkins is not a resident of this State, on the motion of the plaintiffs, by counsel, it is ordered that the said absent defendant do appear here within one month after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect his interest in this suit, and that a copy of this order be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Lynchburg Virginian, and posted at the front door of the courthouse of this county on the

MISCELLANEOUS.

Men of the Time.

A neat little volume, well filled with information, has just made its appearance under this title; the object being to present sketches of living notables—men from whose actions we may learn the character and aims of the passing era. As a specimen of the manner of execution, we present the following scraps of quotation:

JOSEPH HUME.

Hume, Joseph, a Radical Reformer, whose history adds another memorable example of perseverance, raising its possessor from an humble station to distinction. He was born at Montrose, in the year 1777. While he was still young, his father, the master of a small trading-vessel of that port, died, leaving his widow to bring up a numerous family. Mrs. Hume, it is related, maintained herself and her children by means of a small earthenware business and placed Joseph in a school of the town, where he received an education which included instruction in the elements of Latin. With such scanty stores of knowledge, he was apprenticed to a surgeon of Montrose, with whom he served three years.

Having attended the prescribed lectures to the medical classes in the university of Edinburgh, he was admitted, in 1706, a member of the College of Surgeons in that city. India was at that time a favorite, and, indeed, almost the only field for the young who had no other fortune than their talents and enterprise. To India, accordingly, Mr. Hume went, and entered as a surgeon the naval service of the East India Company. He had not been there three years, before he was placed on the medical establishment of Bengal. Here, while increasing his professional reputation he had the opportunity of watching the whole operation of the machinery of the Company's service. His quick eye soon detected the deficiencies of the greater number of the Company's servants in command of the native language, an acquirement so valuable in possessions such as ours. He determined to acquire a knowledge of the dialects of India, not doubting that a sphere of larger utility and greater emolument would open before his efforts.

The Mahratta was breaking out in 1803, Mr. Hume was attached to Major-general Powell's division, and accompanied it on its march from Allahabad into Bundelcund. The want of interpreters was now felt, as Hume had expected, and the commander was glad to find among his surgeons a man capable of supplying the deficiency. He continued to discharge his new duties without resigning his medical appointment, and managed to combine with both the offices of paymaster and post-master of the troops. His ability to hold direct intercourse with the natives continued to be of immense service to him, and enabled him to hold, simultaneously, a number of offices with most varied duties, such as nothing but an unwearying frame and an extraordinary capacity could have enabled any person to discharge.

At the conclusion of the peace, he returned to the presidency, richer by many golden speculations, for which a period of war never fails to offer opportunities. In 1808, having accomplished the object for which he left his native land, he came to England, and, after an interval of repose, determined upon making a tour of the country, the better to acquaint himself with the condition of its inhabitants. After making this tour, and visiting various continental countries, he returned to England, where he devoted himself to a political career; and since 1812, he has for the most part had a seat in the House of Commons. His parliamentary history since 1812 has been that of a reformer of abuses and enemy of monopoly, and he is respected even by those who differ from him in opinion.

DICKENS.

Dickens, Charles, the most popular writer of his time, was born in February, 1812, at Landport, Portsmouth. His father, the late Mr. John Dickens, in the earlier part of his life, enjoyed a post in the Navy Department, the duties of which required that he should reside from time to time in different seaports: now at Plymouth, now at Portsmouth, and then at Sheerness. "In the glorious days" of the war with France, these towns were full of life, bustle and character; and the farther of "Boz" was at times fond of dilating upon the strange scenes he had witnessed. One of his stories described a sitting-room he once enjoyed at Blue town, Sheerness, abutting on the theatre. Of an evening he used to sit in this room, and could hear what was passing on the stage, and join in the chorus of God save the King, and Britannia rules the Waves—then the favorite songs of Englishmen. The war being at an end; amongst those who left the public service with a pension was the father of our novelist. Coming to London, he subsequently found lucrative employment for his talents in the press as a roporter of parliamentary debates. Charles Dickens may, therefore, be said to have been in his youth familiarised with "copy;" and when his father, with parental anxiety for his future career, took the preliminary steps for making his son an attorney, the dreariness of the propos
