

MISS SHELTON TAKEN WORSE

At Last Moment She Was Unable to Go to Lynchburg to Identify Assailant.

MUCH TALK OF LYNCHING

Sheriff Taking Precaution to Have Amherst Jail Well Guarded.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, Va., January 10.—Miss Gladys Shelton, the young lady who was assaulted in Amherst county Monday afternoon, was unable to come to Lynchburg this afternoon according to arrangements, an account of a temporary change for the worse in her condition. It is thought that the excitement about her case, coupled with the evident condition on the part of Miss Shelton, was more than she could bear. Shortly before the time for her to start on the drive to Winesboro to take the train for Lynchburg she became so ill that she could not be moved. A carriage was waiting for her to drive her to the home of Superintendent Driver, of the City Park, who is her uncle. After it was too late to start for the train Miss Shelton recovered and it is expected that she will be brought here tomorrow.

When she can see the five negroes now in jail at Amherst, they will be brought here and carried before her for identification. There is an air of mystery surrounding the movement of Sheriff Boardman and other Amherst officials to-night over the matter. They are thought to have the man wanted, but it is known that they are still searching Amherst county for another negro. The county sheriff is expected to arrive here today, and there is some talk of lynching if the negro is identified by the girl. If unusual precaution is not taken the negro will never have a court trial. Instead, it would not be surprising if the girl should take this turn before dawn. The Campbell family authorities are taking to Amherst at the Amherst Jail, and a strong guard is on duty there tonight, despite the fact that the village is quiet and eleven miles from the scene of the crime. It is expected that a report in the next few days that a man from the county would have no the slightest trouble to reveal his rank here.

CHICAGO CITIZENS CAPTURE COUNCIL

Turn Out Members with Cries of "Coward!" "Thief!" "Robber!"

CHICAGO, January 10.—An excited crowd of West Side citizens took forcible possession of the Council chamber in the City Hall today, and virtually compelled the members of a council committee to flee from the place. The members of the crowd were protesting against the widening of Halsted Street on the West Side, a project which has been before the Council for some time. The committee, having the matter under consideration today in the Council chamber, and the meeting was attended by many of the citizens interested. The committee finally voted to postpone action until June of this year. This was highly unsatisfactory to many of the citizens, who wished the matter settled at once. Cries of "Coward!" "Thief!" and "Robber!" were hurled at the members of the committee as they hastily left the apartment. The citizens came rushing down from the galleries and poured in from the halls, taking complete possession of the chamber. They then organized a meeting of their own, and formally protested against further delay in the settlement of the question.

GORDON'S MADE HEAD OF CHAMBER

live when we compare the South's population and territorial area with that of the rest of the country. It may be suggested that a statement of conditions in the South and nation has no legitimate place in a report of a local Chamber of Commerce, but it should be borne in mind that our trade and commerce is far from being local in its character. Year by year it extends itself more and more throughout the nation and into foreign countries. Again, our own growth is best illustrated by the fact that we maintain our relation, in that respect, to the country as a whole.

STATISTICS OF RICHMOND.

In this connection the following figures are presented with satisfaction. The output of our manufactures for 1906 was $7,432,821, for 1905, $6,232,324, for 1904, $5,026,000. The increase of 1906 over 1905 was $1,200,497, or 19.25 per cent. The increase of 1906 over 1904 was $2,406,821, or 48.08 per cent. The output of our jobbing trade for 1906 was $1,224,275, for 1905, $1,002,271, for 1904, $782,271. The increase of 1906 over 1905 was $222,004, or 22.14 per cent. The increase of 1906 over 1904 was $441,904, or 56.49 per cent. The increase of 1906 over 1905 was $1,332,151, or 107.93 per cent.

Bank deposits in 1906 were $22,207,274, in 1905, $21,774,794, in 1904, $18,818,818. The increase in 1906 over 1905 was $442,480, or 2.03 per cent. The increase in 1906 over 1904 was $3,388,456, or 17.99 per cent. Bank deposits in 1906 were $2,771,129, in 1905, $2,178,593, in 1904, $1,144,750. The increase in 1906 over 1905 was $592,536, or 27.19 per cent. The increase in 1906 over 1904 was $1,626,379, or 142.84 per cent. Bank deposits in 1906 were $1,144,750, in 1905, $1,144,750, in 1904, $1,144,750. The increase in 1906 over 1905 was $0, or 0 per cent. The increase in 1906 over 1904 was $0, or 0 per cent.

Output of Richmond manufactured products showed an increase in 1906 of 11.2 per cent, while the average increase for the whole country during that period was only 4.5 per cent.

I am satisfied the figures will show that Richmond is more than maintained its relative position in 1906, as compared to the average increase for the whole country for that period. Notwithstanding this gratifying expansion in business, involving large bank loans and other forms of credit, the commercial agencies in Richmond are not inclined to be so sanguine that they need not be taken into consideration. The report then gives in detail the official post-office statistics recently published in this paper, and proceeds to establish beyond question the gratifying fact of Richmond's rapid and substantial growth. They are the outcome of great natural advantages, utilized by enterprise and sagacity. They constitute our city's best form of advertisement, and strong inducement to labor and capital alike to locate here.

BUSINESS OF RICHMOND INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Total business during the year 1906 of life and fire insurance companies owned by the people of Richmond, and whose offices are located in Richmond, shows an income of $2,658,598. These figures exceed that of any other city in the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas, combined. They also exceed the incomes of similar companies located in the States of Louisiana, Kentucky, Arkansas, Texas and West Virginia, combined.

These figures and comparisons speak for themselves. No comment is needed. I am indebted to Mr. Robert Lecky, Jr., for this report on the business of Richmond "Home Insurance Companies." It is to be regretted that I am unable to report this evening the total income of through their offices by the SHIPMENT FACILITIES AND CONGESTION OF FREIGHT. The business of Richmond has outgrown all its shipping facilities and labor supply. In respect to freight, there exists an acute need for larger depot accommodations for package shipments and greater track facilities for bulk shipments. This applies equally to outgoing and incoming freight. The traffic bureau department of the chamber is pressing this subject on railroad authorities, and has secured partial relief with the promise on the part of two of the great lines of permanent improvements of sufficient magnitude to afford complete relief.

THE DOCK QUESTION.

The acquisition of the Richmond Dock by the Chamber of Commerce, proposed by the Chamber of Commerce, and so earnestly advocated by it, is held in abeyance, pending the decision of some legal questions which have arisen in reference to the property. Including the dock acquired by the bondholders of the W. R. T. Ship Company. While it is a disappointment that this matter is postponed, it is not to be regretted that it should be postponed, but it should be revived as soon as the legal questions involved have been determined.
