

Now We Know Why They Called Them Red Skins By Albert T. Reid

Now we are told there is a serious question whether the Indians who sold Manhattan Island to Peter Minuit really owned it.

TELL THE OLD STIFF TO MAKE IT THREE QUARTS AND WE'LL THROW IN THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE, AND ASK HIM IS IT PRE-WAR STUFF

SAY!—LISSEN—YOU GUYS— WHO DO YOU THINK I AM— JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER—WHAT?

Hints for Motorists

If you go into second gear soon enough, you will seldom have to resort to low to make a steep hill.

If the starter on your car is not reliable, try to park on a grade. You can then start the car by letting it roll in high.

If your engine is laboring on a hill, it doesn't do any good to pull out the choke. Shift to a lower gear.

When you buy valve caps, get the kind that fit your valves. Some wheels require bent valves and some use the straight ones. There are gaps up to 1/8th.

Do WOMEN Admire YOU

DON'T BE FOOLED! ONCE BALD—ALWAYS BALD! — DON'T GUESS AT IT —

PYRAMID HAIR DRESSING is a proven restorer for balding hair. It penetrates the scalp, stimulates the growth of hair, and prevents the growth of dandruff. AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. PYRAMID PRODUCTS COMPANY, ONE W. UPTOWN STATION, PITTSBURGH, PA.

Commander Byrd's Route from Little America to the South Pole

LITTLE AMERICA
BYRD LEFT FOR SOUTH POLE 10:29 P.M. NOV. 28
RETURNED TO BASE 5:10 P.M. NOV. 29

REACHED SOUTH POLE 8:55 A.M. NOV. 29

AIRPLANE SUPPLY BASE ON ICE BARRIER

QUEEN MAUD RANGE

Harold June
Commander Byrd
Bernt Balchen
Capt. A. C. McKinley

The map shows the route of Commander Byrd in his trip to the South Pole from Little America, Antarctica, and back, a distance of 1,600 miles. The huge gray plane mounted the fair skies at Little America with Commander Richard E. Byrd, Bernt Balchen (flying the plane), Radioman June at the wireless and Captain Ashley C. McKinley, photographer, surveyor and general utility man. "Good flying weather" made a fine, speedy start possible.

Arts & Crafts in Home Decorations

By Joy Campbell

New York—A very attractive cigarette container may be made by covering an old hair pin box with cretonne or fancy paper of some modernistic design. Cut the fabric or paper into pieces of the right size allowing a quarter of an inch for turning under on edges and bottom and taping into place. Where an old box is not available, a new one can easily be made of cardboard, as illustrated above.

The small match case also shown above is covered with the same material which is attached to the case with best quality liquid glue. This makes a charming bridge prize which can be made at little cost.

Sweethearts Fifty Years Ago, They Wed Now

Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Rogers, of Seattle, who were sweethearts fifty years ago, but who did not marry each other. After fifty years of married lives they have wed and are now on their honeymoon. They are shown with one of their grandchildren. They met in Wisconsin when she was fifteen and he seventeen.

A President's Son

James R. Garfield, son of former President Garfield, who has been appointed Chairman of President Hoover's Commission on Conservation and Administration of the Public Domain. He is a former Secretary of the Interior.

New British Envoy

Sir Ronald Lindsay, who has been appointed as British Ambassador to the United States succeeding Sir Eame Howard. Although he represents the Labor Government he is an aristocrat by birth.

Her Kisses Limited

Anna May Wong, Chinese motion picture actress, who must not kiss an Englishman in a film, according to a ruling by the British film censors.

Missing!

Mrs. Beecher Maynard Crouse, wife of a Utica, N. Y., banker, is mysteriously missing. She is 58, and is said to have been a devotee to a Hindu cult. Airplanes, boy scouts, police, etc., are joining in a nationwide search. She is 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 112 pounds and has a small mole in the middle of her forehead.