

DON'T BLAME THE CHILDREN

By BETTY BARCLAY

Don't blame the children if they stay out late at night, use language to you that you would never have dared use to your parents, drink highballs, or do any of those things that the younger generation seems to delight in doing.

Blame yourself. Your mother and father would not allow you to do such things, and they saw to it that you did not do them. Probably you had a desire to start out as your son or daughter did, but stern parents held you in check.

If you have failed to hold your children in check, blame yourself, instead of trying to place the blame on the children. You have failed as a parent. Oh! It hurts like sin to admit it, but it is the truth in nine times out of ten, at least.

Several million children of tender years are now living in America. Ten years hence they will either be the type of youth we have today or worse, or better. It is up to today's parents, and not to the little tots, to decide which way they will go.

Felt Poor in Spirit

"For three years I was feeling weak, miserable and very poor in spirit. I read other women's testimonials in the papers and so I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped me to sleep at night, I have a good appetite and feel better in many ways. I work every day sewing for other people and I recommend your Vegetable Compound whenever I can. If women write to me, I will answer them."—Mrs. Mattie Hester, 1519 Chester St., Little Rock, Arkansas.

The Week's Sign of the Zodiac

Persons born between OCTOBER 23rd and NOVEMBER 22nd are born in the sign of "Scorpio," consequently this week's Forecast deals with Scorpio subjects only.

The following Analysis is for the week starting NOVEMBER 15th and ending NOVEMBER 21st.

Persons born during this period are ruled by the planet "Mars." They are secretive, aggressive and possess active minds. Will power is present which enables them to exercise remarkable influence over others. They possess a magnetic power which almost always attracts the opposite sex to them. From the hour of their birth they are equipped to rise to almost any height.

In club or social life Scorpio people are brilliant talkers (when they get started) and are apt to go from one extreme to the other in a most erratic and fanciful manner. Scorpio people seldom divulge their plans or secrets, for they fear that someone else may make use of them.

Scorpio people are usually attracted to enterprises and projects characterized by novelty, daring and uncertainty, and their grit and determination impel them to take great chances and usually by so doing they overcome great obstacles and attain success in their ventures. Scorpio people have excellent taste in dress and are more impressed by actual worth than by mere lavish display.

Persons born in this sign who live on the lower or animal plane, are liable to be greedy, cruel, vulgar and selfish, they should therefore eliminate these bad traits for their own betterment.

Jealousy often takes possession of Scorpio persons, especially the women, and when it does, it drives them to the verge of murderous frenzy. They are often suspicious of their mates which results in fault-finding and nagging, all of which causes unhappiness in their lives. These women cause their husbands much annoyance and distress if the husband neglects the constant practice of flattery and praise which they crave.

Two marriages usually occur in the lives of Scorpio subjects; and seldom does the Scorpio person really find happiness in marriage.

These people are well fitted to government positions, and the practice of surgery and medicine. They also display remarkable skill in the use of their hands and make excellent architects, house and floral decorators, ministers, musicians, politicians and writers.

Persons born during this Zodiacal sign should guard their health carefully between November 22nd and December 22nd; they should watch their steps wherever they go, as accidents and personal injury are indicated during this period.

The real fortunate date for Scorpio subjects is November 17th; this is an excellent date for signing papers, closing important deals or making important decisions. It is also an excellent date for surgical operations.

The fortunate day in the week is Tuesday, especially during the morning hours.

ings and, as he suddenly remembered, his fare back to Chicago.

When the gamekeeper spoke, Carl had a reckless urge to show the grinning dark giant that he could gamble, and show him that he didn't care whether he had lost Toto or not. He wanted also in some way to hurt the woman who stood calmly across the table watching him with speculative eyes.

"I'll shoot thirty dollars," he announced, looking straight into Bogo's eyes. A gasp of astonishment went up from the players. "He's gonna shoot thutty bucks!" a man exclaimed incredulously.

The size of Carl's stake silenced the braggart Bogo for an instant. Then realizing that he was a big winner and could afford to fade the amount, he threw the required sum across the table with a grand flourish.

"Ah fades you, little boy," he announced grandiloquently. "An' ah hopes you don' crap out on de dice like you does wif de women!" The onlookers laughed appreciatively, although there were many who sympathized with Carl.

The gamekeeper threw the dice to Carl, who with scarcely a look at them shook them briefly, and cast them down on the table. Another shout went up. "Seven! A natcher!"

"What you shoot now, Carl?" the gamekeeper asked, his eyes large with excitement.

"Shoot the sixty dollars!" the youth calmly told him, his eyes probing into those of Bogo. This time Bogo fairly threw the money out on the table. The triumphant smile had left his face, and it was replaced by one of sullen anger.

Bogo Resentful

"Shake de dice dis time," he commanded pettishly. Obediently Carl shook the dice with maddening vigor and rolled them down the table. It was another natural—eleven this time.
